Karen Gentry- Ederer, Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21

Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work. Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley, the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion. For Crowley, theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting. Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion, invention. The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently, to discover new possibilities for thought and action, and thereby to effect change in the world. The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting. By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field, this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies. It will be valuable to scholars, teachers, and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well.

to both Italianist and feminist scholars and students as well as to readers concerned with the ties between literary theory and textual analysis BOOK JACKET Oral Discourse and Education Bronwyn Davies,P. Corson,2013-11-01 Oral Discourse and Education examines spoken language as a field of study looking at the various ways in which we can both theorise the place of talk in education and examine the way talk is actually done in educational settings Given the centrality of literacy based practices in schools a book focusing on talk brings quite different and important perspectives to the study of education Talk is something that has all too often been devalued and taken for granted What becomes evident throughout the papers included in this volume is that talk is of central importance in establishing identities and the cultures in which those identities are located However because we are unused to reflexively examining the way we talk there is a serious disjuncture between what we believe talk should achieve and what can be seen to be achieved in actual talk in educational settings Anyone interested in teaching should read this book Becoming more aware of the centrality of talk and what it achieves is important both for enabling us to find ways to bring our ideals more in line with our practices and for being able to recognise and reflect on the ways our talk can be achieving things quite other than what we intend This book is relevant to teachers at primary secondary and tertiary levels and for researchers interested in spoken language in educational contexts

Writing Performances C. Downing, 2016-04-30 After Dorothy L Sayers became famous for her fictional sleuth Lord Peter Wimsey she began investigating the mysteries of Anglo Catholic Christianity writing plays for both stage and radio However because her modernist contemporaries disdained both best sellers and religious fiction Sayers has been largely overlooked by the academy Writing Performances is the first work to position Sayers diverse writings within the critical climate of high modernism Employing exuberant illustrations from Sayers detective fiction to make theoretical issues accessible the book employs insights from performance theory to argue that Sayers though a popularizer presciently anticipated the postmodern ironizing of Enlightenment rationality and scientific objectivity
