

1. Why is there support for euthanasia?

“The numbers involved [with assisted dying] will be very low because with good palliative care, most suffering can be palliated. The hospice movement has been a fantastic success story and one which Christians are justly proud to have supported. But it does not meet all needs. Baroness Finlay, the leading palliative care specialist in Wales, has acknowledged that palliative care “does not get it right 100 per cent of the time”. Unfortunately, it is also the case that some patients find the whole dying process unbearable. We know this because new members of societies like Dignity in Dying give as their principal reason for joining that they have witnessed at first hand the suffering of a parent or spouse and they want the law changed so that others do not suffer in the same way. That is certainly my own motivation.”

A Christian Perspective On Euthanasia:

DYING TO KILL Kieran Beville, 2014-11-26 This is a comprehensive study of euthanasia and assisted suicide. It traces the historical debate, examines the legal status of such activity in different countries, and explores the political, medical, and moral matters surrounding these emotive and controversial subjects in various cultural contexts. The key advocates and pioneers of this agenda-driven movement, such as the late Jack Kevorkian (popularly known as Dr Death) and Philip Nitschke (founder of Exit International), are profiled. Not only are the elderly and disabled becoming increasingly vulnerable, but children, psychiatric patients, the depressed, and those who are simply tired of life are now on a slippery slope into a dystopian nightmare. The spotlight is brought to bear on the Netherlands, in particular, where palliative care and the hospice movement are greatly underdeveloped as a result of legalization. These dubious services are now offered as part of normal medical care in Holland, where it is deemed more cost-effective to be given a lethal injection. The vital role of physicians as healers in society must be preserved, and the important but neglected spiritual dimension of death must be explored. Thus, a biblical view of human life is presented. Death and bereavement are universal phenomena, and people of all faiths and those of none have a legitimate right to comment. However, the historic Christian tradition is struggling to be heard in the clamor for personal autonomy and civil liberties in a multi-cultural society that is becoming increasingly secular. This work provides an ethical framework in which euthanasia and assisted suicide can be evaluated. These issues are on the radar, indicating a collision course with Christian values. It is time for Christians to be alert and to present the case that these are not satisfactory solutions to legitimate end-of-life concerns.

My Hope Is Built ...: Christian Perspectives on Decisions at the End of Life F. Walton Avery, 2011-12-02 With medical advances, people are living longer than ever before, and in many cases with a higher quality of life for much of that time. Despite the potential of a long, healthy life, however, many individuals find themselves facing end-of-life issues they never anticipated. And to Christians, those decisions may be especially difficult. In My Hope Is Built: Christian Perspectives on Decisions at the End of Life, author F. Walton Avery examines critical writings about available options for those facing end-of-life decisions for themselves or for someone they love. He looks at Christian responses to vital questions that come at the end of life. Avery looks closely at whether the prohibition against suicide or assisted death can be suspended, and in the name of Christian faith, the suffering individual be permitted to commit suicide or be party to assisted death. Regardless of circumstances, making end-of-life decisions are likely to be difficult. My Hope Is Built: Christian Perspectives on Decisions at the End of Life can help one make those decisions in light of their Christian beliefs.

A Treatise on Christian Banking Morten Bosterud, 2022-08-01 From a moral perspective all banking practice and theory can be seen as value driven Therefore there will be no such thing as value neutral banking activities and the application of Christian ethical and pastoral principles adds insights to the field of banking for all its involved stakeholders This book contributes to the specific scientific discourse of practical theology as this typically appears within the subfields of ethics and pastoral studies Christian ethics and pastoral principles as applied in banking make up a largely neglected area in the wider academic discourse found within practical theology and the research presented in this book contributes new knowledge to the field with particular emphasis on banking practice It is expected that the theories presented herein will be of interest for other scholars not only within the realm of practical theology but also in a cross domain perspective where scholars in a broad field of disciplines may find the research and academic positions of interest Such academic fields would include economics finance business administration sociology history anthropology and perhaps more This expectation may not least be derived from the increasing focus on Corporate Social Responsibility CSR as this has emerged over the last decades within the wider business realm in general whence the world of banking has followed suit Alongside this development an emergence of Islamic banking has been seen which has showed substantial growth and success Faith Seeking Understanding: Medical Assistance in Dying The Anglican Church of Canada, 2023-09-25 Canada is one of few countries in the world where medical assistance in dying MAiD is a legal option and the number of permitted contexts terminal illness chronic illness mental illness is increasing This collection of essays and corresponding questions for reflection has been made available to help the wider church discuss and increase understanding of the realities of MAiD for our communities our role as Christians vulnerable populations healthcare social justice God's gift of life and our call to care for those who suffer A Time To Die Dr. Wally Morris, 2014-01-17 Death comes to everyone sooner or later For some death comes quickly without any warning For others death comes more slowly Many people wonder how to make difficult decisions about medical treatment especially when the cost of medical care increases every year Eighty percent of Americans have not clearly and legally expressed their wishes about medical care Families struggle with making decisions about about treatment of those they love and pastors struggle with what advice to give families about a decision that will probably be irreversible and have permanent consequences This book focuses on the historical ethical legal medical and Biblical aspects of the often difficult decisions individuals and families must make about the medical treatment of someone who is dying The book reviews preparations people can make before they find themselves in the hospital and gives suggestions for end of life preparations Because the Bible is the final authority in all matters of life and death we have a reliable guide provided by One who already knows the answers and has anticipated our questions 7 Truths That Changed the World (Reasons to Believe) Kenneth R.

Samples, 2012-05-01 Ideas have consequences sometimes far reaching and world changing The Christian faith contains many volatile truths that challenged and continue to challenge the cultural and religious status quo of the world This biblical historical and philosophical exploration of some of Christianity's most transformational ideas offers a unique look at how the world changed when Christ and his followers came on the scene. These ideas include the resurrection, Jesus as God incarnate, creation out of nothing, the compatibility of faith and reason, justification by grace through faith, humankind in God's image, the greater good of suffering. Pastors, students, and thoughtful Christians will be strengthened to face contemporary challenges to these truths and will find the confidence to impact their world for Christ.

Christian Ethics Norman L. Geisler, 2010. This update of a classic text evaluates contemporary ethical options and pressing issues of the day from a biblical perspective.

God and Government Cornelis Van Dam, 2011-12-05. Ours is a time of rapid cultural change with new economic challenges. People look to their governments for leadership and solutions. But what can and should government do to meet the difficulties that beset a nation? What can citizens expect from their elected representatives? What is reasonable? And what should citizens do? What are their responsibilities? This book addresses such fundamental issues through the eyes of Scripture and against the backdrop of North America's dual heritage of Christianity and humanism. Government, politics, and the Bible do not seem like a good mix. But as this book aims to show, the Bible has much wisdom to teach us about the place and role of government and its citizens. Biblical principles work because God knows how his world and his servant governments are supposed to function. After all, he ordained the governing authorities, and the principles enunciated in his Word are timeless and remain practical. This book introduces fundamental biblical principles that apply to government and politics. The intent is to inform and to motivate the reader to get involved where possible in the political processes of the day. Our legislators need the input and help from their knowledgeable Christian constituents.

Christian Perspectives on Being Human J. P. Moreland, David M. Ciochi, 2015-01-26. While there is a unity to truth from God's perspective, there are nevertheless many different ways of knowing, studying, and defining that truth. Thus the task of integration is the task of relating theology and other disciplines in such a way that one articulates and defends a comprehensive unified Christian worldview. Christian Perspectives on Being Human is a vital step in that essential process of integration. In this unique anthology, colleagues from various departments at Biola University undertake an important multidisciplinary approach to integration. J. P. Moreland and David Ciochi represent philosophy in this discussion; Robert Saucy, theology; Sherwood Lingenfelter, anthropology; Nancy Duvall and Keith Edwards, psychology; Walt Russell and Scott Rae, New Testament and medical ethics; and Klaus Issler, Christian education.

Human Rights and the Impact of Religion Hans-Georg Ziebertz, Johannes A. van der Ven, 2013-05-08. This volume is about the impact of religion, beliefs, and practices on attitudes towards human rights of the first, second, and third generation. The first four papers about the impact of Lutheranism, Calvinism, Catholicism, and Islam are historical and theoretical in character. The six other papers are based on empirical research in England and Wales, Germany, Turkey, India, Norway, and on comparative empirical research in six North West European countries. From both groups of articles, it appears that the impact of religion does not exist in varying historical
