Boggs,2022-12-13 When talking pictures first appeared in cinema theaters in the late 1920s films about newspaper journalists quickly became a Hollywood mainstay These were a variety of responses from working reporters editors and photographers The newspaper film was a popular genre in the 1950s and famous films such as All the President's Men 1976 and Spotlight 2015 have depicted the power of the press Journalists have also been portrayed in films that are not specifically about newspapers appearing in noir films like Woman on the Run 1950 Westerns such as Fort Worth 1951 comedies like The Ghost and Mr Chicken 1966 musicals like Wake Up and Live 1937 and historical epics like Lawrence of Arabia 1962 A film historian and former newspaper writer the author investigates how accurately films have portrayed journalists across the decades The book also details what journalists thought of the depictions at the time contributing to brief histories and analyses for each film Featured journalist archetypes include airy reporters screaming editors photographers sportswriters and war journalists Classics misfires Westerns obscure treasures and films the press both adored and detested are all included in this comprehensive here The Big If B.L. Buehler A Servant of Stewardship,2020-09-24 The Big IF By B L Buehler The Big IF pertains to a righteous relationship with God in the light of truth and reality Having served the Lord for 30 years at his own expense B L Buehler was anointed to write the book for the spiritual edification of others The emphasis of The Big IF is upon God first and foremost sincere and devotional faith truth discipline and reverence for the Lord Buehler's experiences failures and devotion unto the Lord and the truth of the spiritual relational reality which is all about the Lord are all depicted in the pages within Selvages & Biases Michael G. Kammen,1987 Winner of the 1973 Pulitzer Prize for history Kammen addresses three themes concerning the state of historical inquiry in America Beginning with how history as a professional discipline has changed over the past century the book treats the relationship of the historian's craft to American nationalism the value of historical knowledge and the shifting attitudes of historians toward society Kammen appraises the significance of historiography as a measure of cultural change and shows how the past has been manipulated for social and ideological reasons and how memories of the national and regional past have conflicted with the realities of historical experience He also explains how traditional modes of interpreting the past have lost their cohesive force and why historians should pursue new approaches to the cultural history ISBN 0 8014 1924 7 24 95 In the Workshop of History François Furet,1984-12 Those concerned with the practice of history as a discipline and as an intellectual activity will be intrigued by the view of history that François Furet offers in this collection of essays After twenty five years as a professional historian at the Ecole des Hautes Etudes and in the ranks of the Annales school Furet sets out to reexamine the methodological and intellectual cleavages that exist today among historians Furet views history as a field bounded at each end by two ideal types One end is concerned with the history of periods and with the empiricism of facts rather than received ideas At the other end is problem oriented history which substitutes for the supposed coherence of a period the analytical examination of a question Furet s own work leans toward the second more conceptually oriented kind of historiography The essays in this volume most of them never before published in English illustrate the breadth of his approach Furet s discussion ranges through Tocqueville s conceptual system to present day America from the origins of history in France to the Jewish experience in the late twentieth century Among Furet s recurrent themes is the contention that the historian constructs the object or field of his research rather than receiving it from the past

It's All in the Delivery Victoria Sturtevant,2024 Depictions of pregnancy on screen have varied wildly over the years from Blondie s modest lack of a baby bump immediately before labor to JLo passing out into a friend s birthing pool while a placenta drifts by Sturtevant examines the range between the various extremes in looking at the comic history of pregnancy in film and television She argues that comedy provides an ideal framework to deal with the complexity and often hypocrisy of social attitudes toward the female body which is often held up as saintly or familial with the wonderful blessing of bearing children or alternately as profane or grotesque with the consequences of sex followed by the physical messiness of pregnancy and childbirth She links the evolution of attitudes toward pregnancy in the US with representational strategies that transformed social discomforts into comedy Comedy has provided the generic context for some of the most groundbreaking moments in pregnant representation in the United States from the outrageous sextuplets of 1944 s screwball comedy Miracle of Morgan s Creek to Lucille Ball s real life pregnancy on I Love Lucy Maude s abortion Murphy Brown s controversial single motherhood Arnold Schwarzenegger s medically improbable pregnancy in Junior the use of abortion as a romantic comedy plot in Obvious Child and the use of a stand up comic s own pregnancy as a performance prop in Ali Wong s Baby Cobra routine In each case these breakthroughs were enabled by the strengths of comedy which sanctions the violation of earlier more restrictive norms of pregnant representation Sturtevant examines how the history of pregnancy on screen provides a fascinating lens to understand how reproductive biology has defined women's roles across the American 20th century and into the present beginning with studio era prohibitions on using the word pregnant or showing a visible baby bump through the baby boom era fetishization of sentimental pregnancy She then explores the sexual revolution and the birth control pill ushering in a new interest in non marital pregnancy in the 1960s and 70s as well as the emphasis on biological clocks and infertility in the 1980s and 90s She concludes with an examination of the millennial move toward more medically and socially candid representations of pregnancy Throughout the book she also examines the overwhelming whiteness of most of this history and the additional barriers and stigmas against non white reproduction that have led to its shocking underrepresentation in popular media Israel's Seventy Weeks Doug

Morgan,2008-12 This book examines God's clock and time measurement for Israel the Middle East and the world The prophet Daniel documented Israel's future from his time to the end of time The author assesses many prophecy students' conclusions and popular prophetic beliefs against the scriptures and ends with future headlines regarding the Middle East region and western civilization The Genesis Meditations Neil Douglas-Klotz,2003 This book teaches how Jesus actually may have meditated and recreates the step by step examples the reader can follow Keeping Christmas James A.

Hopwood,2019-09-17 Christmas is the most wonderful time of the year or at least we want it to be Too often our celebration of Jesus birthday is overwhelmed by bright lights and tinsel overspending and overeating plus constant chatter about a war on Christmas Can't we do better than this There are two Christmases One is sacred One is secular The two have clashed in one culture war or another for 1 700 years Christmas is not as some falsely claim a pagan holiday but pagan influenced traditions are part of the seasonal clutter Keeping Christmas is about helping you find joy in a season of excess and strife Part survival guide part history part cultural commentary and all laced with spiritual reflection this book is about how you can celebrate in ways that are most meaningful to you and your family It's not easy to thread your way through the Christmas maze But if Ebenezer Scrooge could learn to keep Christmas well so can you Maybe it's time to reinvent Christmas Maybe we can get it right this time "Sing O' Barren Woman" Lemmonstine Poindexter,2010-02-22 A daily devotional and book of encouragement for women whose wombs are barren and for those who love them With a special chapter dedicated to women who lost their babies in the first few days of life as told by the real life experience of Mrs Bernice Smith Washington

Curing and Insuring Johannes Martinus Wouter Binneveld,Rudolf Dekker,1993 The Art of Gravity Bruce Rousseau,2017-07-11 Humans will eradicate themselves long before the universe gets around to it The Tesseract It's today's world Humans are in charge of themselves Science coexists with alt facts Politics mingles with anti government movements Religion dances with skeptics Yes it's a typical year in the span of man So what could go wrong with man's usual conflict and blind progress Nothing until it all unravels in the blink of an eye Welcome to tomorrow's bizarre world of gravitational death
