Integrative Multi-Omics for Diagnosis, Treatments, and Drug Discovery of Aging-Related Neuronal Diseases Min Tang, Tao Huang, Jialiang Yang, Cheng Guo, 2022-11-23 As the cost of high throughput sequencing goes down huge volumes of biological and medical data have been produced from various sequencing platforms at multiple molecular levels including genome transcriptome proteome epigenome metabolome and so on For a long time data analysis on single molecular levels has paved the way to answer many important research questions However many Aging Related Neuronal Diseases ARNDs and Central Nervous System CNS aging involve interactions of molecules from multiple molecular levels in which conclusions based on single molecular levels are usually incomplete and sometimes misleading In these scenarios multi omics data analysis has unprecedentedly helped capture much more useful information for the diagnosis treatment prognosis and drug discovery of ARNDs The first step towards a multi omics analysis is to establish reliable and robust multi omics datasets In the past years a few important ARNDs associated multi omics databases like Allen Brain have been constructed which raised immediate needs like data curation normalization interpretation and visualization for integrative multi omics explorations Though there have been several well established multi omics databases for ARNDs like Alzheimer's disease similar databases for other ARNDs are still in urgent need After the databases establish many computational tools and experiential strategies should be developed specifically for them First the multi omics data are usually extremely noisy complex heterogeneous and in high dimension which presents the need for appropriate denoising

and dimension reduction methods Second since the multi omics and non omics data like pathological and clinical data are usually in different data spaces a useful algorithm to mapping them into the same data space and integrate them is nontrivial In the multi omics era there are numerous data centric tools for the integration of multi omics datasets which could be generally divided into three categories unsupervised supervised and semi supervised methods Commonly used algorithms include but not limited to Bayesian based methods Network based methods multi step analysis methods and multiple kernel learning methods Third methods are needed in studying and verifying the association between two or more levels of multi omics data and non omics data For example expression quantitative trait loci eQTL analysis is widely used to infer the association between a single nucleotide polymorphism SNP and the expression of a gene Recently the association between omics data and more complex data like pathological and clinical imaging data has been a hot research topic The outcomes may reveal the underlying molecular mechanism and promote de novo drug design as well as drug repurposing for ARNDs Here we welcome investigators to share their Original Research Review Mini Review Hypothesis and Theory Perspective Conceptual Analysis Data Report Brief Research Report Code related to multi omics studies of ARNDs which can be applied for better diagnosis treatment prognosis and drug discovery of human diseases in the future era of precision medicine Potential contents include but are not limited to the following Methods for integrating interpreting or visualizing two or more omics data Methods for identifying interactions between different data modalities Methods for disease subtyping biomarker prediction Machine learning or deep learning methods on dimensional reduction and feature selection for big noisy data Methods for studying the association among different omics data or between omics and non omics data like clinical pathological and imaging data Review of multi omics resource about ARNDs and or CNS aging Experimental validation of biomarkers identified from multi omics data analysis Disease diagnosis and prognosis prediction from imaging and non imaging data analysis or both Clinical applications or validations of findings from multi omics data analysis

In Praise of American Educators Richard DuFour,2015-07-20 Explore the state of education today In this thought provoking book the author presents a compelling case for why contemporary American educators are the greatest generation in history He carefully explains why current national reform policies have failed and presents specific steps policymakers administrators and teachers must take to transform American schools to meet student needs in the 21st century

Rethinking Value-Added Models in Education Audrey Amrein-Beardsley,2014-04-24 Since passage of the of No Child Left Behind Act in 2001 academic researchers econometricians and statisticians have been exploring various analytical methods of documenting students academic progress over time Known as value added models VAMs these methods are meant to measure the value a teacher or school adds to student learning from one year to the next To date however there is very little evidence to support the trustworthiness of these models What is becoming increasingly evident yet often ignored mainly by policymakers is that VAMs are 1 unreliable 2 invalid 3 nontransparent 4 unfair 5 fraught with measurement errors and 6 being inappropriately used to make consequential decisions regarding such things as teacher pay retention and termination. Unfortunately their unintended consequences are not fully recognized at this point either. Given such the timeliness of this well researched and thoughtful book cannot be overstated. This book sheds important light on the debate surrounding VAMs and thereby offers states and practitioners a highly important resource from which they can move forward in more research based ways.

An Age of Accountability John L. Rury, 2023-10-13

An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020. For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment. The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools. This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize. But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony. The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector. As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree.

The Oxford Handbook of Expertise and Democratic Politics Gil Eyal, Thomas Medvetz, 2023

In The Oxford Handbook of Expertise and Democratic Politics Gil Eyal and Thomas Medvetz have brought together a broad group of scholars who have engaged substantively and theoretically with debates regarding the nature of expertise and the social roles of experts to examine these areas within sociology and allied disciplines. The analyses take an historical and relational approach to the topic and are motivated by the sense that growing mistrust in experts represents a danger to democratic politics today. Bringing together investigations from social scientists, philosophers and legal scholars into the political dimensions of expertise this Handbook connects interdisciplinary work done in science and technology studies with the more classic concerns, topics and concepts of sociologists of professions and intellectuals.

Genocide Literature in Middle and Secondary Classrooms Sarah Donovan, 2016-08-12

At the heart of this inquiry into the ethical implications of education reform on reading practices in middle and secondary classrooms the central question is what is lost, hidden or marginalized in the name of progress. Drawing on her own experiences as an English teacher during the No Child Left Behind era the author examines school cultures focused on meeting standards and measurable outcomes. She shows how genocide literature illuminates the ethics of reading and helps teachers and students rethink how literature should be taught in this modern globalized era and the purposes of education more broadly.

Impact of Solar Activities on Weather and Climate Ziniu Xiao,Limin Zhou,Liang Zhao,Irina Alexandrovna

Mironova,Peili Wu,Hiroko Miyahara,2024-01-22 Evidence from observations and paleoclimate records suggest that solar outputs including solar irradiance and energy particles belong to the fundamental natural forces of the climate system It is consistent that the variation of solar irradiance on the orbital time scale controls glacial interglacial cycle However the contribution of solar output fluctuation due to solar activity to decadal to centennial climate change is still contradictory The common driving force mechanism is then the key role of solar climate linking research and the mechanism of solar forcing and the pathway of amplification could be two key scientific problems in climate research In recent years a lot of studies have been done on the effects of solar activity on the climate based on data analysis by observation reanalysis or mechanism tracking by modeling The interannual and decadal solar signals in the regional climate were found and the hypothesis of driving mechanisms was proposed Meanwhile the potential contribution of solar variability to the current climate prediction has attracted more and more attention The purpose of this topic is to collect and reveal new results and new understandings about the impact of solar variability on climate
