Culture Alex Channon, Katherine Dashper, Thomas Fletcher, Robert Lake, 2018-10-11 Scholars working in the academic field of sport studies have long debated the relationship between sport and gender. Modern sport forms along with many related activities have been shown to have historically supported ideals of male superiority by largely excluding women and celebrating only men's athletic achievements. While the growth of women's sport throughout the 20th and 21st centuries has extinguished the notion of female frailty, revealing that women can embody athletic qualities previously thought exclusive to men, the continuation of sex segregation in many settings has left something of a discursive back door through which ideals of male athletic superiority can escape unscathed, retaining their influence over wider cultural belief systems. However, sex-integrated sport potentially offers a radical departure from such beliefs as it challenges us to reject assumptions of male superiority, entertaining very different visions of sex difference and gender relations to those typically constructed through traditional models of physical culture. This comprehensive collection offers a diverse range of international case studies that reaffirm the contemporary relevance of sex integration debates and also articulate the possibility of sport acting as a legitimate space for political struggle, resistance and change. This book was originally published as a special issue of Sport in Society.

Kinetic Cultures Rachana Vajjhala, 2023-12-05 Belle époque Paris adored dance. Whether at the music hall or in more refined theaters, audiences flocked to see the spectacles offered to them by the likes of Isadora Duncan, Diaghilev's flashy company and an embarrassment of Salome's. After languishing in the shadow of opera for much of the nineteenth century, ballet found itself part of this lively kinetic constellation. In Kinetic Cultures, Rachana Vajjhala argues that far from being mere delectation, ballet was implicated in the larger republican project of national rehabilitation through a rehabilitation of its citizens. By tracing the various gestural complexes of the period, bodybuilding routines, appropriate physical comportment for women, choreographic vocabularies and more, Vajjhala presents a new way of understanding histories of dance and music, one that she locates in gesture and movement.

Game, Set, and Match Herbert Warren Wind, 2016-01-26 The leading players and outstanding matches of two thrilling decades in tennis history. From Rod Laver's amateur Grand Slam in 1962 to the first US Open held at the National Tennis Center in Flushing Meadows, legendary sportswriter Herbert Warren Wind captures the grace and drama of modern tennis in this brilliant collection drawn from the pages of the New Yorker. The era's biggest names, including Margaret Court, Chris Evert, John Newcombe, Arthur Ashe and Pancho Gonzales, thrill the crowds of Roland Garros, Wimbledon and Forest Hills, and America's Davis Cup team battles patriotic linesmen and frenzied fans in an epic showdown against the Romanians in Bucharest. In Mrs. King versus Mr. Riggs, Wind paints a witty and evocative portrait of Billy Jean King's historic beatdown of Bobby Riggs, and in Forest Hills and the Final, Between Connors and Borg, he vividly recounts one of the wildest and woolliest tournaments in the sport's history. Rendered with the same authority and eloquence that led the New York Times to declare Wind the dean of American golf writers, these dispatches from center court testify to the celebrated journalist's passion and versatility.
