Contesting Childhood:

Contesting Childhood Michael Wyness, 2002-11 Wyness argues for new more effective conceptions of childhood derived from analysis of recent social policy

Contesting Childhood Kate Douglas, 2010-01-21 The late 1990s and early 2000s witnessed a surge in the publication and popularity of autobiographical writings about childhood Linking literary and cultural studies Contesting Childhood draws on a varied selection of works from a diverse range of authors from first time to experienced writers Kate Douglas explores Australian accounts of the Stolen Generation contemporary American and British narratives of abuse the bestselling memoirs of Andrea Ashworth Augusten Burroughs Robert Drewe Mary Karr Frank McCourt Dave Pelzer and Lorna Sage among many others Drawing on trauma and memory studies and theories of authorship and readership Contesting Childhood offers commentary on the triumphs trials and tribulations that have shaped this genre Douglas examines the content of the narratives and the limits of their representations as well as some of the ways in which autobiographies of youth have become politically important and influential This study enables readers to discover how stories configure childhood within cultural memory and the public sphere

Contesting Childhood Beyond Nature Affrica Taylor, 2012

Contesting Childhood Michael G. Wyness, 2000 Traditional models of childhood need reconstructing especially as children become more active in negotiating the boundaries between themselves and adults Wyness argues for new more effective conceptions of childhood derived from analysis of recent social policy He interprets legislation and reveals that recent children acts and educational reform exhibit a strengthening of the socializing power of adults over children Most importantly this book challenges a prevalent underlying conception of children as lesser or inferior versions of adults a flawed understanding that still influences policy

Constructing Childhood Allison James, 2017-03-14 This text provides a critical analysis of the social construction of childhood and children's agency Through an interdisciplinary synthesis combining social theory social policy and the empirical findings of social science research it bridges the current gap between theory and practice offering an incisive theoretical account of childhood that is grounded in substantive areas of children's lives such as health education crime and the family This furthers understanding of the impact of policy on children's everyday lives and social experiences
