Procedures Ahmad Hamed Baik, 2020-06-15 The main aim of this book is to develop and explore the value of new innovative digital content to help satisfy UNESCO's World Heritage nomination file requirements Through a detailed exploration of two BIM case studies from Jeddah Saudi Arabia the book uniquely connects the use of Heritage BIM to the documentation methods used by UNESCO and demonstrates how this provides a contribution to both countries with heritage sites and UNESCO as an organisation The research and practical examples in the book seek to address both the lack of a comprehensive method of submitting a nomination file to UNESCO and the lack of authentic engineering information in countries where extensive heritage sites exist It looks at answering the following questions How can Heritage Building Information Modelling HBIM be used to better maintain protect and record the updated information of historical buildings How can HBIM provide innovation in creating the missing information for the assignment of UNESCO's World Heritage status What additional value can a sustainable update of HBIM data provide for such sites How can HBIM improve the cultural value of heritage buildings in the short medium and long term as well as provide a better future for historical buildings This book will be useful reading for researchers and practitioners in the areas of heritage conservation archaeology World Heritage nomination HBIM digital technology and engineering remote sensing laser scanning and architectural technology "Patterns" of Threshold Spaces in the Historical City of Jeddah Basma Massoud, 2023-11-17 Patterns of

Threshold Spaces in the Historical City of Jeddah explores the meaning of threshold spaces and investigates the relationship between the public spaces and residential units in the historical city of Jeddah Saudi Arabia while at the same time revisiting Christopher Alexander's theory in his canonical 1977 book A Pattern Language This book questions and analyses patterns relating to the cultural social and environmental particularities of Jeddah with special attention paid to the effect of gender segregation in the city's urban configuration It discusses the extension that has been undertaken through testing a concept from the urban design theory of the West the United States and Canada and applying it to an Islamic city to find patterns in four different scales which form the basis of the investigation body building street and city Empirical methods have been used in the context of historical Jeddah through which patterns are investigated using different approaches for the different scales The book aims to explore the meaning of threshold spaces in old Jeddah Furthermore it shows that there are eighteen patterns of threshold spaces in the old town patterns that are solely related to this specific case study as well as modified patterns to the ones explored by Christopher Alexander This book shall allow not only a better understanding of the relationship between housing and the historical city but also an exploration of the role of the threshold space in shaping the old city of Jeddah It will be of interest to researchers students of architecture urban planning and anthropology studies and people involved in cultural heritage both academics and practitioners

The Merchant Houses of Mocha Nancy Um, 2011-12-01 Gaining prominence as a seaport under the Ottomans in the mid 1500s the city of Mocha on the Red Sea coast of Yemen pulsed with maritime commerce Its very name became synonymous with Yemen s most important revenue producing crop coffee After the imams of the Qasimi dynasty ousted the Ottomans in 1635 Mocha s trade turned eastward toward the Indian Ocean and coastal India Merchants and shipowners from Asian African and European shores flocked to the city to trade in Arabian coffee and aromatics Indian textiles Asian spices and silver from the New World Nancy Um tells how and why Mocha s urban shape and architecture took the forms they did Mocha was a hub in a great trade network encompassing overseas cities agricultural hinterlands and inland market centers All these connected places together with the functional demands of commerce in the city the social stratification of its residents and the imam s desire for wealth contributed to Mocha s architectural and urban form Eventually in the mid 1800s the Ottomans regained control over Yemen and abandoned Mocha as their coastal base Its trade and its population diminished and its magnificent buildings began to crumble until few traces are left of them today This book helps bring Mocha to life once again

Traditional Buildings Allen Noble, 2009-09-18 Based on a lifelong professional and personal interest Traditional Buildings presents a unique survey of vernacular architecture across the globe

The reader is taken on a fascinating tour of traditional building around the world which includes the loess cave homes of central China the stilt houses on the shores of Dahomey the housebarns of Europe and North America the wind towers of Iran the Bohio houses of the Arawak Indians of the Caribbean and much more Professor s Noble s extensive travels have allowed him to examine many of the building at close quarters and the richly illustrated text includes photographs from his personal collection With its comprehensive and detailed bibliography the work will be welcomed by experts and non specialists alike

Traditional Architecture of the Arabian Gulf R. Hawker,2008-06-10 This book chronicles the florescence of architecture in the Arabian Gulf after the expulsion of the Portuguese in the early 1600 s It demonstrates how the power vacuum created by the collapse of Portuguese control over the trade routes in the Indian Ocean encouraged a growth in fortified architecture especially in Oman that radiated out to the surrounding region and was then slowly replaced by new patterns in domestic and public architecture and town planning throughout the Gulf as the trade lines were secured and the individual countries took the first steps towards the formation of today s modern nation states The book documents the buildings and crafts of this era and analyses them within the framework of the political economic and social information available through primary sources from the period in a way that is both intelligent and accessible It considers the settlements as part of a larger connected network of cities towns and villages and focuses both on how the buildings provided innovative solutions to the demanding climate and yet incorporated new decorative and functional ideas Topics are extensively and richly illustrated with colored photographs of the buildings as they are now black and white and color historic photographs from archival and museum collections line drawings and computer generated reconstructions The book is therefore attractive to a number of audiences including those who live in or travel to the Gulf as well as people with an interest in Arab and Islamic design culture and society vernacular architecture and post colonial approaches to colonial history
