Writing in a warm engaging style Dr Robert Phillips offers useful information and practical coping strategies to help you through a stressful time. He lends his expertise in dealing with the psychological aspects of chronic health problems and provides the most recent medical information about lupus. Coping with Aging Richard S. Lazarus, Bernice N. Lazarus, 2006-01-19

Coping with Aging is the final project of the late Richard S Lazarus the man whose landmark book Emotion and Adaptation put the study of emotion in play in the field of psychology. In this volume Lazarus examines the experience of aging from the standpoint of the individual rather than as merely a collection of statistics and charts. This technique is in line with his long standing belief that experiences should be looked at in their specific contexts rather than squeezed into an overly general statistical viewpoint that loses the subjects motivations. Drawing on his five decades of pioneering research Lazarus looks at aging emotion and coping and stability and change in both environment and personality. Because Lazarus mixes academic rigor with everyday examples this volume will be both useful to scholars and accessible to the lay audience that has so much gain from a systematic understanding of aging and emotion. Coping and Self-Concept in Adolescence H.A. Bosma, A.E.

(Sandy) Jackson, 2012-12-06 Self concept and coping behaviour are important aspects of development in adolescence. Despite their developmental significance however the two areas have rarely been considered in relation to each other. This book is the first in which the two areas are brought together it suggests that this interaction can open the way to new possibilities for further research and to new implications for applied work with adolescents. Two separate chapters review research carried out in each of the areas. These are followed by a series of more empirically focussed chapters in which issues such as changes in relationship patterns difficult school situations leaving school use of leisure anxiety and suicidal behaviour are examined in the context of self concept and coping. The final chapter seeks to identify some of the central themes emerging from this work and discusses possible research and applied implications. Toxic Friendships Suzanne Degges-White, Judy Pochel Van Tieghem, 2015-06-11 Good friends and healthy friendships are crucial to women's well being at every stage of life. But what happens when a friendship turns toxic? When a friend becomes hurtful or mistreats another? When a friend abandons another in a time of need? Here Suzanne Degges White and Judy Pochel Van Tieghem explore such toxic friendships and how women navigate the ups and downs as well as how broken friendships can be mended and bad friendships ended. Explaining and illustrating the rules of friendship at various stages of life the authors reveal what it takes to be a good friend how to identify bad friends and how to move forward when friendships turn sour. Vignettes of toxic friendship behaviors are shared as well as tips on how best to respond to these rule breaking friends in order to rebuild damaged relationships and repair a friendship's foundation when appropriate and how to decide when it's time to let go of a relationship that is bringing you down versus keeping you afloat. Information for parents is also provided to aid them as they help their daughters navigate their friendships. We all need friends but knowing when and how to let go can help us all be better friends to ourselves and also to others Attachment in Middle Childhood Kathryn A. Kerns, Rhonda A. Richardson, 2005-01-03 With contributions from leading investigators the book explores the effects on attachment of a wide range of factors in middle childhood including children's broadening network of social relationships Compelling data are presented on whether the quality of attachment in middle childhood can be predicted by assessments earlier in life and what may explain changes over time

BOOK JACKET Trauma and Coping Mechanisms among Assemblies of God World Missionaries Valerie A. Rance, 2021-12-21 Trauma from the fall of Adam and Eve forward impacts human lives in overpowering ways A review of the lives of biblical personalities and missionaries reveals shared traumatic experiences In addition to the stress of cultural adjustment missionaries often live in contexts of violence political unrest economic instability natural disasters and relational conflict The examined biblical personalities faced similar issues yet a majority coped with trauma in ways that led to well being The proposed biblical theory of well being assists missionaries to move deeper in their trust of God by utilizing the coping skills of the biblical personalities including asking God for help lifting up their praise and worship to God standing on a sense of call working with God lamenting venting to God in healthy ways embracing a theology of suffering and accepting assistance from friends and family The adherence to the constructs of this theory protects missionaries from the ravages of psychological trauma by avoiding negative coping and developing positive coping skills that lead to trusting in the only One who gives hope in seemingly hopeless situations
