Corregidor 1945 Mark Lardas, 2023-07-20 A detailed and fascinating exploration of the 1945 US combined land naval and air operation to retake Corregidor and the other Japanese held islands in Manila Bay from a determined and well entrenched enemy The islands guarding the entrance to Manila Bay Luzon had been seized by the Japanese in May 1942 In February 1945 US forces were back and closed in on Manila from the north and south against heavy Japanese resistance A joint US parachute and amphibious assault was planned to capture the largest island Corregidor using the much reinforced 503rd PRCT and elements of the 24th Infantry Division and 2nd Engineer Special Brigade Facing them were over 6 000 Japanese troops recently evacuated from Bataan where they had been cut off by advancing US forces General MacArthur desired the island once a symbol of American defiance to be liberated with a flourish This superbly illustrated work examines the ambitious US assault on Corregidor which witnessed the most dangerous and risky parachute drop in airborne history and vicious desperate fighting by the defenders as they sought to prevent American troops from taking the island It also covers the recapture of other islands defending Manila Bay El Fraile Fort Drum Caballo and Carabao

Axelrod, 2007 A reference to the ideological military political biographical and social topics surrounding World War II which is often considered the pivotal event of the twentieth century Battle on Land David G. Bartsch, 2010-07-23 In December 1941 the War Department sent two transports and a freighter carrying 103 P 40 fighters and their pilots to the Philippines to bolster Gen Douglas MacArthur's Far East Air Force They were then diverted to Australia with new orders to ferry the P 40s to the Philippines from Australia through the Dutch East Indies But on the same day as the second transport reached its destination on January 12 1942 the first of the key refueling stops in the East Indies fell to rapidly advancing Japanese forces resulting in a break in their ferry route and another change in their orders This time the pilots would fly their aircraft to Java to participate in the desperate Allied defense of that ultimate Japanese objective Except for the pilots from the Philippines almost all of the other pilots eventually assigned to the five provisional pursuit squadrons ordered to Java were recent graduates of flying school with just a few hours on the P 40 Only forty three of them made it to their assigned destination the rest suffered accidents in Australia were shot down over Bali and Darwin or were lost in the sinking of the USS Langley as it carried thirty two of them to Java Even those who did reach the secret field on Java wondered if they had been sacrificed for no purpose As the Japanese air assault intensified daily the Allied defense collapsed Only eleven Japanese aircraft fell to the P 40s Author William H Bartsch has pored through personal diaries and memoirs of the participants cross checking these primary sources against Japanese aerial combat records of the period and supplementing them with official records and other American Dutch and Australian accounts Bartsch s thorough and meticulous research yields a narrative that situates the Java pursuit pilots experiences within the context of the overall strategic situation in the early days of the Pacific theater

The Star-entangled Banner Sharon Delmendo, 2005 This work looks at the problematic relationship between the Philippines and the US It argues that when faced with a national crisis or a compelling need to reestablish its autonomy each nation paradoxically turns to its history with the other to define its place in the world

Secret Mission to the Philippines William Wise, 1968 Describes the unusual World War II command of Chick Parsons who as leader of the American Filipino guerrilla movement lived behind enemy lines never carried arms or fired a shot and became one of America s most decorated heroes
