premier franchise Shanghai Filmmaking HUANG Xuelei, 2014-09-03 In Shanghai Filmmaking Huang Xuelei invites readers to go on an intimate detailed behind the scenes tour of the world of early Chinese cinema She paints a nuanced picture of the Mingxing Motion Picture Company the leading Chinese film studio in the 1920s and 1930s and argues that Shanghai filmmaking involved a series of border crossing practices Shanghai filmmaking developed in a matrix of global cultural production and distribution and interacted closely with print culture and theatre People from allegedly antagonistic political groupings worked closely with each other to bring a new form of visual culture and a new body of knowledge to an audience in and outside China By exploring various border crossings this book sheds new light on the power of popular cultural production during China's modern transformation Re-Viewing the Past Sean D. O'Reilly, 2018-08-23 Re-Viewing the Past: The Uses of History in the Cinema of Imperial Japan analyzes the complicated relationship between history films audiences reviewers and censors in Japan for the critically important years from 1925-1945 First contextualizing the history of the popular Bakumatsu period 1853-1868 the moment of Japan's emergence as a modern nation Sean O'Reilly paves the way for a reinterpretation of Japanese pre and postwar cinema Setting a film in the Bakumatsu period offered cultural breathing room to both filmmakers and viewers offering a cinematic space where apolitical entertainment and now forbidden themes like romance still reigned Some filmmakers and viewers even conceived of these films as being a form of resistance against Japan's growing militarism As comparisons between the popularity of such films versus that of state sponsored propaganda films show audiences responded enthusiastically to these glimmers of resistance O'Reilly argues that we should turn our attention to the much more popular films of the time that were major hits with audiences in order to understand what resonated with wartime spectators and to speculate about why this might have been the case Including clips of these rare films a so far neglected area of Japanese film history is now firmly situated in context to offer a thought provoking multidisciplinary approach House Full Lakshmi Srinivas, 2016-08-31 India is the largest producer and consumer of feature films in the world far outstripping Hollywood in the number of movies released and tickets sold every year Cinema quite simply dominates Indian popular culture and has for many decades exerted an influence that extends from clothing trends to music tastes to everyday conversations which are peppered with dialogue quotes With House Full Lakshmi Srinivas takes readers deep into the moviegoing experience in India showing us what it's actually like to line up for a hot ticket and see a movie in a jam packed theater with more than a thousand seats Building her account on countless trips to the cinema and hundreds of hours of conversation with film audiences fans and industry insiders Srinivas brings the moviegoing experience to life revealing a kind of audience that far from passively consuming the images on the screen is actively engaged with them People talk shout whistle cheer others sing along mimic or dance at times audiences even bring some of the ritual practices of Hindu worship into the cinema propitiating the stars onscreen with incense and camphor The picture Srinivas paints of Indian filmgoing is immersive fascinating and deeply empathetic giving us an unprecedented understanding of the audience's lived experience an aspect of Indian film studies that has been largely overlooked
