Handbook of Research on Student-Centered Strategies in Online Adult Learning Environments Fitzgerald, Carlton J.,Laurian-Fitzgerald, Simona,Popa, Carmen,2018-06-08 As traditional classroom settings are transitioning to online environments teachers now face the challenge of using this medium to promote effective learning strategies especially when teaching older age groups Because adult learners bring a different set of understandings and skills to education than younger students such as more job and life experiences the one size fits all approach to teaching does not work thus pushing educators to create a student centered approach for each learner The Handbook of Research on Student Centered Strategies in Online Adult Learning Environments is an important resource providing readers with multiple perspectives to approach issues often associated with adult learners in an online environment This publication highlights current research on topics including but not limited to online competency based education nontraditional adult learners virtual classrooms in public universities and teacher training for online education This book is a vital reference for online trainers adult educators university administrators researchers and other academic professionals looking for emerging information on utilizing online classrooms and environments in student centered adult education Facilitating Learning in Online Environments Steven R. Aragon, 2010-04-22 This volume presents models methods and strategies that facilitate and promote learning within online environments Arguing that success in online environments is dependent on the role of autonomy in order to create sustained and enduring learners the introductory chapter presents current research and identifies ways through which autonomous learning is established within the learning environment Contributors demonstrate how quality online programs are made up of a blend of technology pedagogy organization strategy and vision explore the concept of online social presence as a significant factor in improving instructional effectiveness and contributing to a feeling of community among learners and offer strategies for instructors facing the new challenges and opportunities of the online educational experience Two chapters examine master's level online programming by exploring a model through which the design template for one such program was built and presenting the actual experiences students who completed master's degrees online Editor Steven R. Aragon joins his colleagues to make the case that instructional designers need ways to support quality teaching and learning within online environments that take into account the variability in student learning styles provide external motivation for the isolated students and build community collaboration and communications among learners Finally contributors from the field analyze the impact that online technology is having on training and development initiatives of business and industry and demonstrate how current trends have cultivated an environment open to online learning This is the 100th issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education
