Australian Civilization A Symposium:

Australian Civilization ,1962 Australian Civilization Peter Coleman,1962 Australian Civilization ,

Inventing Australia Richard White,2020-07-28 White sets himself a most ambitious task and he goes remarkably far to achieving his goals Very few books tell so much about Australia with elegance and concision as does his Professor Michael Roe Stimulating and informative an antidote to the cultural cringe Canberra Times To be Australian what can that mean Inventing Australia sets out to find the answers by tracing the images we have used to describe our land and our people the convict hell the workingman s paradise the Bush legend the typical Australian from the shearer to the Bondi lifesaver the land of opportunity the small rich industrial country the multicultural society The book argues that these images rather than describing an especially Australian reality grow out of assumptions about nature race class democracy sex and empire and are invented to serve the interests of particular groups There have been many books about Australia s national identity this is the first to place the discussion within an historical context to explain how Australians views of themselves change and why these views change in the way they do Australian Civilization. A Symposium Edited by P. Coleman, Etc Peter Coleman,1962 History Wars Stuart Macintyre,Anna Clark,2013-05-31 The nation s history has probably never been more politicised than it is today Politicians journalists columnists academics and Australians from all walks of life argue passionately and often ideologically about the significance of the national story the cherished ideal of the fair go the much contested facts of Indigenous dispossession the Anzac legend and the nation s strategic alliance with the United States Historians have become both combatants and casualties in this war of words In The History Wars Stuart Macintyre and Anna Clark explore how this intense public debate has polarised the nation and paralysed history departments This edition includes a new afterword by Stuart Macintyre which recounts with rueful irony the outbreak of controversy that followed the book s original publication and the further light it shed on the uses and abuses of Australian history History Wars Doug Munro,2021-10-21 In 1993 Manning Clark came under severe posthumous attack in the pages of Quadrant by none other than Peter Ryan who had published five of the six volumes of Clark s epic A History of Australia In applying what he called an overdue axe to a tall poppy Ryan lambasted the History as an imposition on Australian credulity and declared its author a fraud both as a historian and a person This unprecedented public assault by a publisher on his best selling author was a sensation at the time and remains lodged in the public memory In History Wars Doug Munro forensically examines the right and wrongs of Ryan s allegations concluding that Clark was more sinned against than sinning and that Ryan repeatedly misrepresented the situation More than just telling a story Munro places the Ryan Clark controversy within the context of Australia s History Wars This book is an illuminating saga of that ongoing contest James Curran University of Sydney The Ryan Clark controversy speaks to the place of Manning Clark in Australia s national imagination Had Ryan taken his axe to another historian it s unlikely that we would be still talking about it 30 years later But Clark was the author and keeper of Australia's national story however imperfect his scholarship and however blinkered that story Few if any historians in the Anglo American world have occupied the space that Clark occupied by dint of will force of personality and felicity of pen Donald Wright University of New Brunswick

Only in Australia William Coleman, 2016-06-17 This edited volume is about the Australian difference and how Australia's economic and social policy has diverged from the approach of other countries Australia seems to be following a special path of its own that it laid down more than a century ago Australia's distinctive bent is manifested in a tightly regulated labour market a heavy reliance on means testing and income taxation a geographical centralization of political power combined with its dispersal amongst autonomous authorities and electoral singularities such as compulsory and preferential voting In seeking to explain this Australian Exceptionalism the book covers a diverse range of issues the strength and weakness of religion democratic and undemocratic tendencies the poverty of public debate the role of elites the exploitation of Australian sports stars the politics of railways the backwardness of agriculture deviation from the Westminster system the original encounter between European and Aboriginal cultures and the heavy taxation of tobacco Bringing together contributions from economists economic historians and political scientists the volume seeks to understand why Australia is different It offers a range of explanations from the historical legacy to material factors historical chance and personalities

The Making of the Nations and Cultures of the New World Gérard

Bouchard, 2008-03-03 The Making of the Nations and Cultures of the New World explores the question of how a culture a collective consciousness is born Gérard Bouchard compares the histories of New World collectivities which were driven by a dream of freedom and sovereignty and finds both major differences and striking commonalities in their formation and evolution He also considers the myths and discursive strategies devised by elites in their efforts to unite and mobilize diversified populations

EcCentric Visions Gaile McGregor, 2006-01-01 What this book represents is quite literally a slice of white Australian life By noting the patterns and parallels that emerge in a random sampling of social phenomena of widely varying types from soap operas to political behaviour Gaile McGregor has constructed a model that in its challenge to uniformitarianism is a test case in ethnographic theory Using methods ranging from the hermeneutic through the structuralist to the psychoanalytic McGregor deploys the self evidence of communal life and language to establish not only that all cultural phenomena are patterned but that this patterning is unique to and consistent across the entire system Further it not only influences but constrains the way the Australian conceptualizes codifies and expresses his her existential position Hence the Australian predilection for icons of intermediacy the verandah in architecture the bush in literature the beach in folk culture the middle ground in landscape painting the pub in everyday life This identification with buffer zones between inside and outside not only mimics the Australian's real bracketing between desert and ocean but embodies his her sense of disablement vis vis both culture and nature art and techne super ego and id all of which are coded as feminine

An Appreciation of Difference Melinda Hinkson, Jeremy Beckett, 2008 WEH Stanner was a public intellectual whose work reached beyond the walls of the academy and he remains a highly significant figure in Aboriginal affairs and Australian anthropology. Educated by Radcliffe Brown in Sydney and Malinowski in London, he undertook anthropological work in Australia, Africa, and the Pacific. Stanner contributed much to public understandings of the Dreaming and the significance of Aboriginal religion. His 1968 broadcast lectures After the Dreaming continue to be among the most widely quoted works in the field of Aboriginal studies. He also produced some exceptionally evocative biographical portraits of Aboriginal people. Stanner's writings on post-colonial development and assimilation policy urged an appreciation of Indigenous people's distinctive world views and aspirations. Hinkson and Beckett have drawn together some of Australia's leading academics working in Aboriginal studies to provide an historical and analytical context for Stanner's work as well as demonstrating the continuing relevance of his writings in the contested field of Aboriginal affairs.

The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins, indigenous and migrant literatures, as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society.

Apocryphal and Literary Influences on Galway Diasporic History Gay Lynch, 2010-10-12 Apocryphal and Literary Influences on Galway Diasporic History establishes that apocryphal stories in all their transformations contribute to collective memory. Common characteristics frame their analysis: irreducible and enduring elements often embedded in archetypal drama; lack of historical verification; establishment in collective memory; revivals after periods of dormancy; subjection to political and economic manipulation; implicit speculation and literary transformations. This book contextualises Unsettled, an Australian novel about a convict play derived from the Irish apocryphal story of The Magistrate of Galway, and documents previously unpublished primary material including apocryphal stories passed through generations of descendants of settlers. Martin and Maria Lynch and The Hibernian Father, a play by Irish convict Edward Geoghegan. It puts forward new hypotheses that the Irish hero Cuchulain may have provided a template for the archetypal and apocryphal story of the Magistrate of Galway, that disgraced Trinity College medical student and aspiring writer Edward Geoghegan enacted and recounted the same father-son archetypal conflict when he was transported to Botany Bay in 1839 and wrote The Hibernian Father based on the Magistrate of Galway. That working-class Irish families were marginalised in South-east South Australian historical records that oral apocryphal Lynch stories may be true that Kate Grenville's The Secret River (2006) offers an alternative history of the Hawkesbury River settlement by some definitions apocryphal. The mystery of Geoghegan's disappearance is solved and knowledge about his life increased. French theorist Gerard Genette's notion advanced in Palimpsests: Literature in the Second Degree (1997) of all novels being transtextual provides a model for the analysis of relationships between these key apocryphal texts.
