Australian Inspiration:

Out of Australia Steven Strong, Evan Strong, 2025-09-12 In their startling new book Steven and Evan Strong challenge the out of Africa theory Based on fresh examination of both the DNA and archeological evidence they conclude that modern humans originated from Australia not Africa The original Australians referred to by some as Aborigines like so many indigenous peoples are portrayed as backward and primitive Yet as the Strong's demonstrate original Australians had a rich culture which may have sown the first seeds of spirituality in the world They had the technology to make international seafaring voyages and have left traces in the Americas and possibly Japan Southern India Egypt and elsewhere They practiced brain surgery invented the first hand tools and had knowledge of penicillin This book brings together 30 years of intensive research in consultation with elders in the original Australian community Among their conclusions are the following There is evidence that humans existed in Australia 40 000 years before they existed in Australia There were migrations of original Australians in large boats throughout the Indian Pacific rim Three distinct kinds of Homo sapiens are found in Australia There is evidence from the Americas that debunks the out of Africa theory The spiritual influence of the Aborigines is reflected in the religions of the world Got Inspiration? Lisa Head, 2020-04-21 Inspiration can be found every day in people places and things around each of us This book can help you explore the inspiration around us Reading these daily doses of inspiration can add positivity to your day and aid you in following your personal inspiration and achieving your goals Inspiration can be explored and used as a powerful tool for your mind The 365 daily doses of inspiration explored here can lead to personal inspiration and bright days for you

Whose

Ideas Matter? Amitav Acharya, 2011-07-22 Asia is a crucial battleground for power and influence in the international system. It is also a theater of new experiments in regional cooperation that could redefine global order. Whose Ideas Matter is the first book to explore the diffusion of ideas and norms in the international system from the perspective of local actors with Asian regional institutions as its main focus. There is no Asian equivalent of the EU or of NATO. Why has Asia and in particular Southeast Asia avoided such multilateral institutions? Most accounts focus on U.S. interests and perceptions or intraregional rivalries to explain the design and effectiveness of regional institutions in Asia such as SEATO, ASEAN, and the ASEAN Regional Forum. Amitav Acharya instead foregrounds the ideas of Asian policymakers including their response to the global norms of sovereignty and nonintervention. Asian regional institutions are shaped by contestations and compromises involving emerging global norms and the preexisting beliefs and practices of local actors. Acharya terms this perspective constitutive localization and argues that international politics is not all about Western ideas and norms forcing their way into non-Western societies while the latter remain passive recipients. Rather, ideas are conditioned and accepted by local agents who shape the diffusion of ideas and norms in the international system. Acharya sketches a normative trajectory of Asian regionalism that constitutes an important contribution to the global sovereignty regime and explains a remarkable continuity in the design and functions of Asian regional institutions.

D.H. Lawrence's Australia Dr David Game, 2015-08-28 The first full length account of D.H. Lawrence's rich engagement with a country he found both fascinating and frustrating. D.H. Lawrence's Australia focuses on the philosophical, anthropological, and literary influences that informed the utopian and regenerative visions that characterise so much of Lawrence's work. David Game gives particular attention to the four novels and one novella published between 1920 and 1925, what Game calls Lawrence's Australian period, shedding new light on Lawrence's attitudes towards Australia in general and more specifically towards Australian Aborigines, women, and colonialism. He revisits key aspects of Lawrence's development as a novelist and thinker, including the influence of Darwin and Lawrence's rejection of eugenics, Christianity, psychoanalysis, and science. While Game concentrates on the Australian novels such as Kangaroo and The Boy in the Bush, he also uncovers the Australian elements in a range of other works, including Lawrence's last novel Lady Chatterley's Lover. Lawrence lived in Australia for just three months, but as Game shows, it played a significant role in his quest for a way of life that would enable regeneration of the individual in the face of what Lawrence saw as the moral collapse of modern industrial civilisation after the outbreak of World War I.

Australian News Summary, 1952 River Dreams Ian Tyrrell, 2018-03-01 In the beginning there was the river before the beach before the drain before the dredging before the dams before numerous other actions that altered the stream River Dreams reveals the complex history of the Cooks River in south eastern Sydney a river renowned as Australia's most altered and polluted While nineteenth century developers called it improvement the sugar mill tanneries and factories that lined the banks of Sydney's Cooks River had drastic consequences for the health of the river Local Aboriginal people became fringe dwellers and over time the river became severely compromised with many ecosystems damaged or destroyed Later a large section was turned into a concrete canal and in the late 1940s the river was rerouted for the expansion of Sydney Airport While much of the river has been rehabilitated in recent decades by passionate local groups and through government initiatives it continues to be a source of controversy with rapid apartment development placing new stresses on the region River Dreams is a timely reminder of the need to tread cautiously in seeking to dominate or ignore our environment A beautiful book that reminds us that Australians are river people as much as we are bush or coast dwellers IAN HOSKINS
