Contextual Factors In Education:

Contextual Factors in Education, 1987 Contextual Factors in Education, 1987 Individual and Contextual Factors in the English Language Classroom Rahma Al-Mahrooqi, Christopher J. Denman, 2022-03-22 This edited volume examines a number of topics related to the roles of individual and contextual factors in English as second or foreign language ESL EFL settings by presenting chapters across the three sections of theoretical and pedagogical approaches teacher and learner research and research into the roles of technology The book has a focus on practical actions and recommendations related to individual and contextual factors in ESL EFL with a specific concern with issues of cognition metacognition emotion and identity and offers perspectives from a diverse range of international education settings For teachers of ESL EFL the effective recognition and integration of individual and contextual factors into the classroom may represent a significant challenge This is often the case in those settings where native English speaking teachers work in foreign language contexts where they may have limited understanding of local cultures and languages or where language instructors have class groups that are culturally and linguistically diverse In these and similar contexts the types and extent of individual and contextual factors impacting on language learning may challenge both learner and instructor expectations of what an effective and supportive classroom is While such a situation offers numerous opportunities for learners and teachers to expand their knowledge of themselves and each other it also presents the possibility for ineffective teaching and learning to occur It is within this framework that the book presents the latest theoretical pedagogical and research perspectives from around the world thereby providing a resource for all stakeholders with an interest in the roles individual and contextual factors play in the English learning process

Contextual Factors in Education, 1987 Local Contextual Influences on Teaching Esther Boucher-Yip, Patrick Ng, 2014-10-16 This volume is a collection of personal narratives and research findings by English language ESL EFL teachers who found themselves in one way or another teaching in various contexts all over the world The central theme throughout these narratives is how contextual factors played a role in their approach to language teaching in different ways The contributors reflect on their practices and provide an engaging discussion about how they deal with curriculum and classroom organization issues within the local context Readers can expect to learn and understand how ESL EFL teachers in this volume exercise their agency in teaching in a language classroom These teachers through their own unique stories and research findings reflect on how they responded to local contextual factors such as the learning culture national and school policies personal beliefs and attitudes towards pedagogy the sociolinguistic context of teaching the school culture and the wider sociopolitical context in which learning and teaching takes place Since the narrative approach has been placed center stage in teacher education as a method and an objective of inquiry the contributors adopt the narrative form to reflect and discuss their instructional practice

Out-of-Field Teaching Practices Anna Elizabeth du

Plessis,2017-04-17 Society perceives the role of school leaders as fixers Yet the author poses some confronting questions can they fix or manage the out of field phenomenon without having in depth knowledge and understanding Can educators teach the next generation of teachers and school leaders without appreciating the realities of the workplace Can policymakers develop effective policies without a deeper understanding of the workforce issues that influence quality education beyond the obvious issues Many dilemmas face today s teaching workforce and workplaces The book takes the reader on a journey as experienced in real life by teachers and school leaders It aims an extreme global focus on the quality of education and on governments achievements in providing opportunities to prepare the next generation of students for their future The author s assessment exposes more concerns than assurances Anna du Plessis academic career includes more than 25 years of classroom experience across three countries Her journey in leadership positions started during her fourth year of teaching Her compassion for teachers school leaders and students stimulated a search for a deeper understanding of the lifeworld and challenges facing educational practitioners The objective in this book is to share information that will improve education systems strategies decisions policies and actions Readers of this book might be parents student teachers prospective school leaders educational directors policymakers or teacher educators Only knowing and understanding can inform well directed decisions

Digital Transformation of Education in the Covid-19 Process and its Psychological Effects on Children Emrah

Soykan,Ayhan Çakici,Mert Bastas,2023-03-17 IEA International Computer and Information Literacy Study 2018

Assessment Framework Julian Fraillon,John Ainley,Wolfram Schulz,Daniel Duckworth,Tim Friedman,2019-07-02 This open access book presents the assessment framework for IEA's International Computer and Information Literacy Study ICILS 2018 which is designed to assess how well students are prepared for study work and life in a digital world. The study measures international differences in students' computer and information literacy (CIL), their ability to use computers to investigate, create, participate, and communicate at home, at school, in the workplace, and in the community. Participating countries also have an option for their students to complete an assessment of computational thinking (CT). The ICILS assessment framework articulates the basic structure of the study, providing a description of the field and the constructs to be measured. This book outlines the design and content of the measurement instruments, sets down the rationale for those designs, and describes how measures generated by those instruments relate to the constructs. Hypothesized relations between constructs provide the foundation for some of the analyses that follow. Above all, the framework links ICILS to other similar research, enabling the contents of this assessment framework to combine theory and practice in an explication of both the what and the how of ICILS.

The Power of Technology in School Leadership during COVID-19 Antonios Kafa, Nikleia Eteokleous, 2024-02-28. This book discusses school leaders' ability to use digital technologies successfully through specific approaches and techniques. It also discusses the technological challenges arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and the obstacles derived from the lack of digital capacity of school leaders in various contexts. The work addresses school leaders' experiences, confidence, competence, skills, and practices to use digital technologies effectively. Also, it explores how the COVID-19 pandemic influenced school leaders' role in establishing effective processes towards educational digital transformation and provides further knowledge as part of school leaders' digital professional development aspect. The book draws information and knowledge from the thematic areas of technology and school leadership in educational practice and includes both conceptual and empirical information on autonomous and less autonomous educational systems, centralized and decentralized education systems. Overall, this edited book fills the gap with information on the connection between school leadership and technology as an aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic in school organizations.

Instructional Models for Physical Education Michael Metzler, Gavin T. Colquitt, 2021-05-30. No single instructional method can meet all of the student learning needs expressed in the SHAPE America National Standards for Physical Education. This new edition provides pedagogical knowledge and resources that support physical education teachers' selection and use of instructional models and gives physical educators a plan for incorporating these models into their teaching. Presented in two sections, Instructional Models for Physical Education 4E first presents the rationale, pedagogical knowledge, and selection processes for Model-Based Instruction (MBI). MBI is the commitment to use one instructional plan throughout a unit of instruction. The second section provides pedagogical knowledge for the selection, implementation, and assessment of instructional models used in P-12 physical education. This edition has been updated to be in alignment with the SHAPE America National Standards for Physical Education. It includes new sections on differentiated instruction and practical applications. A companion website contains additional examples and information for each model The book includes everything the reader needs for planning implementing and assessing when teaching with instructional models It helps readers incorporate research based practices in their lessons adapt activities and teach to standards This text can be used as the stand alone text for courses on physical education teaching methods at the undergraduate and graduate levels Contemporary Approaches To Research On Learning Environments: Worldviews Darrell Fisher, Myint Swe Khine, 2006-05-25 Learning environment research has undergone considerable growth in the past thirty years and has now reached a stage of notable diversity and internationalization Earlier studies often used questionnaires to assess learning environments but today both qualitative and quantitative approaches are used Many contemporary studies are a productive combination of these two approaches This volume brings together prominent educators and researchers from around the world to share their contemporary research on educational learning environments The chapters provide information on recent trends and developments and effective applications of different methods to improve teaching and learning The book will be a critical and specialized source that describes recent advances in learning environment studies across all continents The contributors come from Australia Belgium Cyprus Finland India Indonesia Israel Japan The Netherlands New Zealand Singapore Turkey Taiwan Thailand and the USA An Inventory of Contextual Factors and Conditions Affecting Individual and Institutional Behavior in Schools, Colleges and Departments of Education David L.
