Contributions To Urban Sociology:

Contributions to Urban Sociology Ernest Watson Burgess, Donald J. Bogue, 1964 Contributions to Urban Sociology Ernest Watson Burgess, Donald Joseph Bogue, 1964 Patrick Geddes' Contribution to Sociology and Urban Planning Indra Munshi, 2022-03-29 This book explores Patrick Geddes' significant contributions to urban planning and sociology. His vision of the city, rooted in the principles of social development and preservation of cultural and ecological resources, has inspired generations of urban planners, architects, and social scientists engaged with contemporary urban issues. The book discusses Geddes' early experiments with urban renewal in Edinburgh, the famous Cities and Town Planning Exhibition, and his work in India for the improvement of cities and towns with minimal financial and human cost. It examines the theoretical underpinnings of his ideas in relation to issues such as better housing and health, the preservation of history and culture, the role of a citizen university, and urban renewal, and the contemporary urban ecological crisis, among others. Furthermore, it looks at the question of sustainability in the context of Geddes' vision of a more humane, social, natural, and aesthetic town and city. A comprehensive review of Patrick Geddes' ideas, this book underlines the relevance of his work to contemporary urban concerns and issues, especially in India. It will be of interest to scholars and researchers of sociology, urban studies, city planning, urban sociology, architecture, human geography, urban geography, settlement studies, development studies, and environmental sustainability.

The Social Fabric of the Metropolis James F. Short (Jr.), 1971 Urban Sociology Ernest Watson Burgess, Donald J. Bogue, 1970 Urban Sociology. Edited by Ernest W. Burgess and Donald J. Bogue. (An Abridged Edition of "Contributions to Urban Sociology".) [With Maps and Tables.] Ernest Watson BURGESS (and BOGUE (Donald Joseph)), Donald Joseph BOGUE, 1967 Readings in Urban Sociology Scott Elias William Bedford, 1927 The Organization of Cities John R. Miron, 2017-01-20 This book focuses on the relationship between the state and economy in the development of cities. It reviews and reinterprets fundamental theoretical models that explain how the operation of markets in equilibrium shapes the scale and organization of the commercial city in a mixed market economy within a liberal state. These models link markets for the factors of production, markets for investment and fixed capital, formation markets for transportation, and markets for exports in equilibrium, both within the urban economy and the rest of the world. In each case, the model explains the urban economy by revealing how assumptions about causes and structures lead to predictions about scale and organization outcomes. By simplifying and contrasting these models, this book proposes another interpretation: that governance and the urban economy are outcomes negotiated by political actors motivated by competing notions of commonwealth and the individual desire for wealth and power. The book grounds its analysis in economic history, explaining the rise of commercial cities and the emergence of the urban economy. It then turns to factors of production, export and factor markets, introducing and parsing the Mills model, breaking it down into its component parts and creating a series of simpler models that can better explain the significance of each economic assumption. Simplified models are also presented for real estate and fixed capital investment markets transportation and land use planning The book concludes with a discussion of linear programming and the Herbert Stevens and the Ripper Varaiya models A fresh presentation of the theories behind urban economics this book emphasizes the links between state and economy and challenges the reader to see its theories in a new light As such this book will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners of economics public policy public administration urban policy and city and urban planning The Legacy of G.S.
