The Globalization of Corporate Media Hegemony Lee Artz, Yahya R. Kamalipour, 2012-02-01 When commercial media practices are insinuated into local cultures, existing cultural and media practices are often displaced and social inequalities are exacerbated, sometimes with the consent of consumers but frequently confronting organized proponents. The Globalization of Corporate Media Hegemony provides case studies from five continents: from government-promoted telecommunications programs and technologies in Canada and Britain; MTV Asia's call-in request lines and the pan-Latin ideology of a Mexican television variety show; to Islamic pop radio in Turkey; commercial radio in Africa; a Millionaire game show in India; and Hollywood's muted influence on Korean cinema, among others. Each case offers new insight into the particulars of an expanding corporate hegemony, and together they invite the conversation on media globalization to consider the dynamics of class conflict and negotiation as an analytical perspective having prescriptive potential.

Public Broadcasting and the Public Interest Michael P. McCauley, B. Lee Artz, DeeDee Halleck, Paul E. Peterson, 2016-09-16 As federal funding for public broadcasting wanes and support from corporations and an elite group of viewers and listeners rises, public broadcasting's role as vox populi has come under threat. With contributions from key scholars from a wide variety of disciplines, this volume examines the crisis facing public broadcasting today by analyzing the institution's development, its present-day operations, and its prospects for the future. Covering everything from globalization and the rise of the Internet to key issues such as race and class, to specific subjects such as advertising, public access, and grassroots radio, Public Broadcasting and the Public Interest provides a fresh and original look at a vital component of our mass media.

Global Communications Paula Chakravartty, Yuezhi Zhao, 2008 This provocative book takes a new approach toward understanding the uneven flows of global communications. Rather than guiding its discussion by geography, types of media, or traditional separations of power and resistance, Global Communications examines political, economic power, and communication in relation to historically specific encounters with modernity. It underscores lived experiences in its approach to globalization, showing that the state and the market can both be sites of empowerment, just as civil society might also be a site of repression. Taking a political-economic analysis of communication and culture, this dynamic group of international authors looks beyond developments in the North American information and culture industries to map new forms of citizenship and exclusion. The chapters spotlight China, Ghana, India, Japan, Palestine, Russia, Singapore, and Venezuela, and foreground the transnational formations of the European Union, the pan-Arab and Spanish-speaking markets, and civil society actors in sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East, and North America. Theoretically driven and empirically grounded, Global Communications defines communication broadly to include production, circulation, and consumption, and addresses urgent questions about the inequalities of globalization and the possibilities of hybrid cultural forms and practices.

Screening Neoliberalism Ignacio

Sanchez Prado,2014-06-30 Cavernous often cold always dark with the lingering smell of popcorn in the air the experience of movie going is universal The cinematic experience in Mexico is no less profound and has evolved in complex ways in recent years Films like Y Tu Mama Tambien El Mariachi Amores Perros and the work of icons like Guillermo del Toro and Salma Hayek represent much more than resurgent interest in the cinema of Mexico In Screening Neoliberalism Ignacio Sanchez Prado explores precisely what happened to Mexico s film industry in recent decades Far from just a history of the period Screening Neoliberalism explores four deep transformations in the Mexican film industry the decline of nationalism the new focus on middle class audiences the redefinition of political cinema and the impact of globalization This analysis considers the directors and films that have found international notoriety as well as those that have been instrumental in building a domestic market Screening Neoliberalism exposes the consequences of a film industry forced to find new audiences in Mexico s middle class in order to achieve economic and cultural viability The Anarchist in the Library Siva

Vaidhyanathan,2005-05-11 From Napster to Total Information Awareness to flash mobs the debate over information technology in our lives has revolved around a single question How closely do we want cyberspace to resemble the real world Siva Vaidhyanathan enters this debate with a seminal insight While we ve been busy debating how to make cyberspace imitate the world the world has been busy imitating cyberspace More and more of our social political and religious activities are modeling themselves after the World Wide Web Vaidhyanathan tells us the key information structure of our time and the key import from cyberspace into the world is the peer to peer network Peer to peer networks have always existed but with the rise of electronic communication they are suddenly coming into their own And they are drawing the outlines of a battle for information that will determine much of the culture and politics of our century affecting everything from society to terrorism from religion to the latest social fads The Anarchist in the Library is a radically original look at how this battle defines one of the major fault lines of twenty first century civilization
