Imperial Maine and Hawai'i Paul T. Burlin, 2008-03-01 Burlin's book provides an analysis of some of the broad themes and currents of 19th century American expansion in the Pacific through a discussion of a number of Maine inhabitants either going to Hawai'i or other areas of the archipelago. Individuals covered include Sanford Dole, Luther Secerance, John L. Stevens and James G. Blaine.

A Short History of Medicine Erwin H. Ackerknecht, 2016-05-01 A bestselling history of medicine enriched with a new foreword, concluding essay and bibliographic essay. Erwin H. Ackerknecht's A Short History of Medicine is a concise narrative long appreciated by students in the history of medicine, medical students, historians and medical professionals as well as all those seeking to understand the history of medicine. Covering the broad sweep of discoveries from parasitic worms to bacilli and x-rays and highlighting physicians and scientists from Hippocrates and Galen to Pasteur, Koch and Roentgen, Ackerknecht narrates Western and Eastern civilization's work at identifying and curing disease. He follows these discoveries from the library to the bedside, hospital and laboratory, illuminating how basic biological sciences interacted with clinical practice over time. But his story is more than one of laudable scientific and therapeutic achievement. Ackerknecht also points toward the social, ecological, economic and political conditions that shape the incidence of disease. Improvements in health, Ackerknecht argues, depend on more than laboratory knowledge; they also require that we improve the lives of ordinary men and women by altering social conditions such as poverty and hunger. This revised and expanded edition includes a new foreword and concluding biographical essay by Charles E. Rosenberg, Ackerknecht's former student and a distinguished historian of medicine. A new bibliographic essay by Lisa Haushofer explores recent scholarship in the history of medicine.

Early FM Radio Gary L. Frost, 2010-04-01 The commonly accepted history of FM radio is one of the twentieth century's iconic sagas of invention heroism and tragedy Edwin Howard Armstrong created a system of wideband frequency modulation radio in 1933 The Radio Corporation of America RCA convinced that Armstrong's system threatened its AM empire failed to develop the new technology and refused to pay Armstrong royalties Armstrong sued the company at great personal cost He died despondent exhausted and broke But this account according to Gary L Frost ignores the contributions of scores of other individuals who were involved in the decades long struggle to realize the potential of FM radio The first scholar to fully examine recently uncovered evidence from the Armstrong v RCA lawsuit Frost offers a thorough revision of the FM story Frost's balanced contextualized approach provides a much needed corrective to previous accounts Navigating deftly through the details of a complicated story he examines the motivations and interactions of the three communities most intimately involved in the development of the technology Progressive era amateur radio operators RCA and Westinghouse engineers and early FM broadcasters In the process Frost demonstrates the tension between competition and collaboration that goes hand in hand with the emergence and refinement of new technologies Frost's study reconsiders both the social construction of FM radio and the process of technological evolution Historians of technology communication and media will welcome this important reexamination of the canonic story of early FM radio Reprint of Papers on Electrostatics and Magnetism William Thomson, 1872 William Thomson Baron Kelvin 1824 1907 born with a great talent for mathematics and physics was educated at Glasgow and Cambridge While only in his twenties he was appointed to the University of Glasgow s Chair in Natural Philosophy which he was to hold for over fifty years He is best known for lending his name to the Kelvin unit of measurement for temperature after his development of an absolute scale of temperature This book is a corrected 1884 edition of Kelvin s 1872 collection of papers on electrostatics and magnetism It includes all his work on these subjects previously published as articles in journals including the Cambridge Mathematical Journal and the Transactions of the Royal Society Kelvin also wrote several new items to fill gaps in this collection so that its coverage of the state of electromagnetic research in the late nineteenth century is comprehensive Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1882 The Dial , 1914 The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa Robert W. Strayer, 1978-01-01 The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa calls into question a number of common assumptions about the encounter between European missionaries and African societies in colonial Kenya The book explores the origins of those communities associated with the Anglican Church Missionary Society from 1875 to 1935 examines the development within them of a mission culture probes their internal conflicts and tensions and details their relationship to the larger colonial society Professor Strayer argues that genuinely religious issues were important in the formation of these communities that missionaries were ambivalent in their attitudes toward modernizing change and the colonial state alike and that mission communities possessed substantial attractions even in the face of competition with independent churches Dr John Lonsdale of Trinity College Cambridge has said that It is a sensitive piece of revisionist history which breaks down the simple dichotomy of missions and Africans commonly found in earlier historiographies and even in the period of profound crisis over female circumcision in Kikuyuland In this Professor Strayer shows convincingly how mission communities could be preserved from destruction by principled divisions between Africans as much as between their white missionaries He has pursued themes rather than events and has therefore been able to make remarkably intimate observations of mission communities which were following their own internal patterns of growth yet within the context of a deepening situation of colonial dependence Scientific Papers of the Institute of Physical and Chemical Research Rikagaku Kenkyūjo (Japan), 1974 Beginning with v 12 its Abstracts v 1 16 from its Bulletin v 7 22 were issued with the Scientific papers Reprint of Papers on Electrostatics and Magnetism William Thomson Baron Kelvin, 1884 Sessional Papers - Legislature of the Province of Ontario Ontario.
