Academia And The Luster Of Capital:

Academia and the Luster of Capital Sande Cohen, Ideas says Sande Cohen have attained commodity status in the academy and knowledge is now seen as another capitalistic industry In Academia and the Luster of Capital Cohen both reveals and interrogates the specific and material workings of this economy of the marketplace of ideas Cohen uses paradigms from Baudrillard Lyotard Deleuze and Guattari to assemble a war machine against the well oiled apparatus of self preservation and self reproduction of the academic institution In detailed and concrete arguments he challenges accepted theories of criticism especially university based myths Academia and the Luster of Capital constitutes a compelling statement for the abandonment of legitimating officiating paradigms of thought in all academic disciplines and outlines possibilities for the emergence of the new in thought in action

Knowledge, Space, Economy John Bryson, Peter Daniels, Nick Henry, Jane Pollard, 2002-01-04 We are now living through a period of knowledge capitalism in which as Castells put it the action of knowledge upon knowledge is the main source of productivity In the face of such transformation the economic social and institutional contours of contemporary capitalism are being reshaped At the heart of this world are an emergent set of economies regions institutions and peoples central of the flows and translations of knowledge This book provides an interdisciplinary review of the triad of knowledge space economy on entering the twenty first century Drawing on a variety of disciplinary backgrounds the first part of the book comprises a set of statements by leading authors on the role of knowledge in capitalism Thereafter the remaining two parts of the book explore the landscape of knowledge capitalism through a series of analyses of knowledge in action within a range of economic political and cultural contexts Bringing together a set of authors from across the social sciences this book provides both a major theoretical statement on understanding the economic world and an empirical exemplification of the power of knowledge in shaping the spaces and places of today s society

At the Limits of History Keith Jenkins, 2013-02-01 Why bother with history Keith Jenkins has an answer He helps us re think the end of history as signalled by postmodernity Readers may disagree with him but he never fails to provoke debate about the future of the past Joanna Bourke Professor of History Birkbeck College Keith Jenkins work on historical theory is renowned this collection presents the essential elements of his work over the last fifteen years Here we see Jenkins address the difficult and complex question of defining the limits of history The collection draws together the key pieces of his work in one handy volume encompassing the ever controversial issue of postmodernism and history questions on the end of history and radical history into the future Exchanges with Perez Zagorin and Michael Coleman further illuminate the level of debate that has surrounded postmodernism and which continues to do so An extended introduction and abstracts which contextualize each piece together with a foreword by Hayden White and an afterword by Alun Munslow make this collection essential reading for all those interested in the theory and practice of history and its development over the last few decades

Genealogical Pragmatism John J. Stuhr, 1997-10-16 Drawing on the work of popular American writers American philosophers and

Continental thinkers this book provides a new interpretation of pragmatism and American philosophy Art Subjects

Howard Singerman, 2023-09-01 Nearly every artist under the age of fifty in the United States today has a Master of Fine Arts degree Howard Singerman's thoughtful study is the first to place that degree in its proper historical framework and ideological context Arguing that where artists are trained makes a difference in the forms and meanings they produce he shows how the university with its disciplined organization of knowledge and demand for language played a critical role in the production of modernism in the visual arts Now it is shaping what we call postmodernism like postmodernist art the graduate university stresses theory and research over manual skills and traditional techniques of representation Singerman who holds an M F A in sculpture as well as a Ph D in Visual and Cultural Studies is interested in the question of the artist as a professional and what that word means for and about the fashioning of artists He begins by examining the first campus based art schools in the 1870s and goes on to consider the structuring role of women art educators and women students the shift from the fine arts to the visual arts the fundamental grammar of art laid down in the schoolroom and the development of professional art training in the American university Singerman's book reveals the ways we have conceived of art in the past hundred years and have institutionalized that conception as atelier activity as craft and finally as theory and performance Nearly every artist under the age of fifty in the United States today has a Master of Fine Arts degree Howard Singerman's thoughtful study is the first to place that degree in its proper historical framework and ideological context Arguing that where ar Decentering Music Kevin Korsyn, 2004-12-02 As a work of cultural criticism that recalls the concerns of Foucault Hayden White Zizek and others Decentering Music examines the struggle for the authority to speak about music at a time when the humanities are in crisis By linking the institutions that support musical research including professional associations and universities to complex historical changes such as globalization and the commodification of knowledge Korsyn undertakes a critique of musical scholarship as an institutional discourse while contributing to a general theory of disciplinary structures that goes beyond the limits of any single field In asking a number of fundamental questions about the models through which disciplinary objects in music are constructed Korsyn suggests unexpected relationships between works of musical scholarship and the cultural networks in which they participate Thus David Lewin's theory of musical perceptions is compared to Richard Rorty's concept of the liberal ironist Susan McClary's feminist narrative of music history is juxtaposed with T S Eliot's dissociation of sensibility and Steven Feld's work in recording the music of the Kaluli people is compared to the treatment of ambient sound in contemporary cinema Developing a framework for interpretation in dialogue with a number of poststructuralist writers Korsyn goes far beyond applying their thought to the analysis of music by showing the cultural dilemmas to which their work responds Korsyn suggests how musical research already participates in these ideas Rather than impose any single method Decentering Music empowers readers to choose for themselves by interrogating their own values and ideological commitments exploring the enabling conditions for statements about music By demonstrating the complicity of opposing positions and challenging readers to reexamine their own values Decentering Music will surely provoke debate while appealing to readers in a variety of fields and to anyone concerned about the crisis in the humanities Reconstructing the “Uni-versity” Harvey J. Graff, 2025-09-14 Slogans myths and isolated anecdotes are inadequate substitutes for documented history and contextual understanding Literature on the history of higher education is dominated by ahistorical and contextually ignorant slogans Seldom acknowledged in discussions of the decline or failure of the modern university is 1 how long it has been going on at least since the 1960s and 2 universities own complicity in this long complicated and contradictory process Myths intertwine inseparably with slogans to echo yet another lost cause Our collective as well as individual pasts provide essential lessons if we know how to read and learn from them More complicated is imagining a plausible better future for universities In Reconstructing the Uni versity From the Ashes of the Mega and Multi versity to the Futures of Higher Education Harvey J Graff bringing experience from over 50 years as a professor provides an accurate history of higher education redefining the issues and terms to establish a new agenda Jairus’s Daughter and the Female Body in Mark Janine E. Luttick, 2023-11-17 Jairus s Daughter and the Female Body in Mark demonstrates that ubiquitous and significant depictions of children in the literature and material culture of the first century CE shaped the mindsets of the Gospel of Mark s original audience Through a detailed analysis of the story of Jairus s daughter in Mark 5 and of the archaeological remains depicting female children Janine E Luttick reveals how ancient hearers of this story encountered an image of a female child that communicated ideas of hope to Jesus s followers and in turn how readers today can understand the authority of Jesus the domestic structures of early Christianity and the suffering and loss experienced by some early Christians Teaching Peace Denny J. Weaver, Gerald Biesecker-Mast, 2003-09-08 This book opens a new frontier in understanding nonviolence Discussions of peace and nonviolence usually focus on either moral theory or practical dimensions of applying nonviolence in conflict situations Teaching Peace carries the discussion of nonviolence beyond ethics and into the rest of the academic curriculum This book isn t just for religion or philosophy teachers it is for all educators Teaching Peace begins with a discussion rooted in Christian theology where nonviolence is so central and important But it is clear that there are other paths to nonviolence and that one certainly doesn t have to be a Christian to practice nonviolence The pieces that follow therefore show how a nonviolent perspective impacts disciplines across the curriculum from acting to biology to mathematics to psychology Art History, After Sherrie Levine Howard Singerman, Sherrie Levine, 2012 For this in depth examination of artist Sherrie Levine Howard Singerman surveys a broad range of sources to assess an artist whose work was understood from the outset to oppose the values of the art world in the 1980s but who by the end of the decade was exhibiting in some of the most successful commercial galleries in New York The Politics of Writing Islam Mahmut Mutman, 2013-11-21 The Politics of Writing Islam provides a much needed critique of existing forms of studying writing and representing Islam in the West Through critiquing ethnographic literary critical psychoanalytic and theological discourses the author reveals the problematic underlying cultural and theoretical presuppositions Mutman demonstrates how their approach reflects the socially politically and economically unequal relationship between the West and Islam While offering a critical insight into concepts such as writing power post colonialism difference and otherness on a theoretical level Mutman reveals a different perspective on Islam by emphasizing its living everyday and embodied aspects in dynamic relation with the outside world in contrast to the stereotyped authoritarian and backward religion characterized by an omnipotent God Throughout Mutman develops an approach to culture as an embodied everyday living and ever changing practice He argues that Islam should be perceived precisely in this way that is as an open heterogeneous interpretive multiple and worldly belief system within the Abrahamic tradition of ethical monotheism and as one that is contested within as well as outside its own culture

Critical Mathematics Education: Past, Present and Future, 2010-01-01 Critical mathematics education brings together a series of concerns related to mathematics and its role in society the practices of teaching and learning of mathematics in educational settings and the practices of researching mathematics education The work of Ole Skovsmose has provided a seminal contribution to the shaping of those concerns in the international community of mathematics educators and mathematics education researchers This book gathers contributions of researchers from five continents for whom critical mathematics education has been an inspiration to think about many different topics such as the dialogical and political dimensions of teacher education mathematical modeling the philosophy of mathematics from social and political perspectives teaching practices in classrooms the connection between mathematics and society the scope and limits of critical thinking in relation to mathematics and mathematics education and the political dimension of researching mathematics education The book is not only a tribute to Ole Skovsmose's long academic career it is also a way of providing an overview of the roots of the critical mathematics education concerns their current developments in different parts of the world and their future directions With a diversity of styles and forms of texts this book is addressed to all those teachers and researchers who would like to be introduced or would like to go deeper into the types of insights that critical mathematics education offers

Reflecting on Reflexivity T. M. S. (Terry) Evens, Don Handelman, Christopher Roberts, 2016-03-01 Humanness supposes innate and profound reflexivity This volume approaches the concept of reflexivity on two different yet related analytical planes Whether implicitly or explicitly both planes of thought bear critically on reflexivity in relation to the nature of selfhood and the very idea of the autonomous individual ethics and humanness science as such and social science ontological dualism and fundamental ambiguity On the one plane a collection of original and innovative ethnographically based essays is offered each of which is devoted to ways in which reflexivity plays a fundamental role in human social life and the study of it on the other anthropo philosophical and developed in the volume's Preface Introduction and Postscript it is argued that reflexivity distinguishes definitively albeit relatively the being and becoming of the human Masocriticism Paul Mann,1999-01-01 These essays on literary theory philosophy and cultural criticism describe in their form and content the end of criticism even while performing the endlessness of that endgame In a sense the book deconstructs all forms of critique and criticism including deconstruction and including its own self That the book is so painfully aware of the futility of its own enterprise even while pursuing it relentlessly and with such critical rigor is what makes this a book of masocriticism as well as about masocriticism Critical Pedagogy and Predatory Culture Peter McLaren,2002-03-11 This book is a principled accessible and highly stimulating discussion of a politics of resistance for today Ranging widely over issues of identity representation culture and schooling it will be required reading for students of radical pedagogy sociology and political science Critical Mathematics Education Paul Ernest,Bharath Sriraman,Nuala Ernest,2016-01-01 Mathematics is traditionally seen as the most neutral of disciplines the furthest removed from the arguments and controversy of politics and social life However critical mathematics challenges these assumptions and actively attacks the idea that mathematics is pure objective and value neutral It argues that history society and politics have shaped mathematics not only through its applications and uses but also through molding its concepts methods and even mathematical truth and proof the very means of establishing truth Critical mathematics education also attacks the neutrality of the teaching and learning of mathematics showing how these are value laden activities indissolubly linked to social and political life Instead it argues that the values of openness dialogicality criticality towards received opinion empowerment of the learner and social political engagement and citizenship are necessary dimensions of the teaching and learning of mathematics if it is to contribute towards democracy and social justice This book draws together critical theoretic contributions on mathematics and mathematics education from leading researchers in the field Recurring themes include The natures of mathematics and critical mathematics education issues of epistemology and ethics Ideology the hegemony of mathematics ethnomathematics and real life education Capitalism globalization politics social class habitus citizenship and equity The book demonstrates the links between these themes and the discipline of mathematics and its critical teaching and learning The outcome is a groundbreaking collection unified by a shared concern with critical perspectives of mathematics and education and of the ways they impact on practice

Imprisoned by History Martin L. Davies,2009-12-04 This book analyzes what history does in contemporary culture It argues that contemporary society is in historical terms already historicized shaped by history and thus history loses sight of the world seeing it only as a reflection of its own self image By illustrating the ways in which history enforces socially coercive attitudes and forms of behavior the author argues that history is in itself ideological and exists as an instrument of political power Contending that this ideological function is the normal function of professional academic history he repudiates the conventional view that only biased or bad history is ideological By finding history projecting onto the world and getting reflected back at it the exacting history focused thinking and behavior on which the discipline and the subject rely he concludes that history's very normality and objectivity are inherently compromised and that history works only in terms of its own self interest

Mythopoetic Cinema Kriss Ravetto-Biagioli, 2017-08-08 In Mythopoetic Cinema Kriss Ravetto Biagioli explores how contemporary European filmmakers treat mythopoetics as a critical practice that questions the constant need to provide new identities a new Europe and with it a new European cinema after the fall of the Soviet Union Mythopoetic cinema questions the perpetual branding of movements ideas and individuals Examining the work of Jean Luc Godard Alexander Sokurov Marina Abramovi and Theodoros Angelopoulos Ravetto Biagioli argues that these disparate artists provide a critical reflection on what constitutes Europe in the age of neoliberalism Their films reflect not only the violence of recent years but also help question dominant models of nation building that result in the general failure to respond ethically to rising ethnocentrism In close readings of such films as Sokurov's Russian Ark 2002 and Godard's Notre Musique 2004 Ravetto Biagioli demonstrates the ways in which these filmmakers engage and evaluate the recent reconceptualization of Europe's borders mythic figures and identity paradoxes Her work not only analyzes how these filmmakers thematically treat the idea of Europe but also how their work questions the ability of the moving image to challenge conventional ways of understanding history

A History of History Alun Munslow, 2012-12-20 In a provocative analysis of European and American historical thinking and practice since the early 18th century A History of History confronts several basic assumptions about the nature of history Among these are the concept of historical realism the belief in representationalism and the idea that the past possesses its own narrative What is offered in this book is a far reaching and fundamental rethinking of realist and representationalist history of a particular kind by addressing and explaining the ideas of major philosophers of history over the past three hundred years and those of the key theorists of today In pursuing this radical analysis the understanding of history as a narrative is evaluated along with contemporary notions such as the continuing presence of the past and the idea of its lessons Written by one of the leading thinkers on the subject A History of History provides an accessible and radical history of history while offering new insights into the pressing questions of the nature purpose and function of history This book is an essential text for all students teachers and consumers of history
