The Three Minute Thesis in the Classroom Heather Boldt,2023-04-27 The Three Minute Thesis 3MT competition is an annual academic speaking competition that challenges graduate students to present their thesis and its significance to a non specialist audience in just three minutes In The Three Minute Thesis in the Classroom author Heather Boldt focuses on how the 3MT can be used in an ESL or EAP classroom to improve students speaking skills particularly about research This Brief Instructional Guide uses data from the author s corpus of 3MT transcripts to reveal the six moves typical of this type of presentation and then provides instructors with a variety of classroom applications in the areas of vocabulary pronunciation describing research to non specialists and effective slide design

Discourse Intonation in L2 Dorothy M. Chun,2002-01-01 Intonation rhythm and general melody of language are among the first aspects of speech that infants attend to and produce themselves Yet these same features are among the last to be mastered by adult L2 learners Why is this and how can L2 learners be helped This book first presents the latest linguistic theories of intonation in particular how intonation functions in discourse not only to signal sentence types and attitudinal meanings but also to provide turn taking and other conversational cues The second part of the book examines the research in applied linguistics on the acquisition of L2 phonology and intonation The third section offers practical applications of how to incorporate the teaching of intonation into L2 instruction with a focus on using new speech technologies The accompanying CD ROM makes a unique addition in allowing for simultaneous audio playback and visual display of the pitch contours of utterances contained in the book Users can start or stop the playback at any point in the utterance and can observe first hand how such visual and audio representations could be useful for L2 learners

Asian English Language Classrooms Handoyo Puji Widodo,Alistair Wood,Deepti Gupta,2017-06-14 The teaching of English in the Asian context is always challenging and dynamic because both teachers and learners have diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds Equally important where English is not widely used outside the classroom English language classrooms are an authentic site of learner engagement For these reasons for all those concerned with contemporary English language teaching ELT in Asia Asian English Language Classrooms Where Theory and Practice Meet provides an account of theoretical orientations and practices in the teaching of English to multilingual speakers whose primary language is not English While covering the fundamental ELT areas e g the teaching of language skills educational literature the use of technology in ELT the role of pragmatics in ELT social psychology of the language classroom and language classroom management with which every language teacher and teacher trainer must be concerned this volume showcases how particular orientations shape ELT practices We believe that practicing English teachers must have a heightened awareness of the theory behind their practice At the same time the theoretical stance must be firmly anchored in actual classrooms Containing newly commissioned chapters written by well regarded and emerging scholars this book will appeal not only to beginning teachers or teachers in training but also to established teachers around Asia where English is used as a lingua franca If you are a student teacher of English or an English teacher who would like to see what other progressive teachers like you are doing across Asia this is the book you have been looking for Journal of Arts and Sciences ,2004

The relationship between music and language

Lutz Jäncke, Traditionally music and language have been treated as different psychological faculties This duality is reflected in older theories about the lateralization of speech and music in that speech functions were thought to be localized on the left and music functions on the right hemisphere But with the advent of modern brain imaging techniques and the improvement of neurophysiological measures to investigate brain functions an entirely new view on the neural and psychological underpinnings of music and speech has evolved The main point of convergence in the findings of these new studies is that music and speech functions have many aspects in common and that several neural modules are similarly involved in speech and music There is also emerging evidence that speech functions can benefit from music functions and vice versa This new research field has accumulated a lot of new information and it is therefore timely to bring together the work of those researchers who have been most visible productive and inspiring in this field and to ask them to present their new work or provide a summary of their laboratory s work
