Dress and Identity in America Daniel Delis Hill,2023-12-14 Dress and Identity in America is an examination of the conservatism and materialism that swept across the country in the late 1940s through the 1950s a backlash to the wartime tumult privations and social upheavals of the Second World War The study looks at how American men sought to recapture a masculine identity from a generation earlier that of the stoic patriarch breadwinner and dutiful father and in the process became the men in the gray flannel suits who were complacently conventional and conformist Parallel to that is a look at how American women who had donned pants and went to work in wartime munitions factories or joined services like the WACS and WAVES were now expected to stay at home as housewives and mothers dressed in cinched ultrafeminine New Look fashions As the Space Age dawned their baby boom children rejected the conventions of their elders and experimented with their own ideas of identity and dress in an emerging era of counterculture revolutions Couture & Commerce Alexandra Palmer,Royal Ontario Museum,2001 The 1950s were the golden years of haute couture captured by iconic images of glamorous models wearing dramatic clothes Yet the real women who wore these clothes adapted them to suit their own tastes altered them to extend their life and often could not bear to part with them long after the dresses had outlived their use This gorgeously illustrated book demonstrates why so many of these designs are still in existence and why we are fascinated by them fifty years later Couture and Commerce investigates how and why postwar couture fashion was important in its own day The Paris couture houses survived due to the enthusiasm of the North American fashion press and commercial buyers Alexandra Palmer traces the European haute couture trade with North America by following actual surviving couture dresses from the design house sketch through the model used in New York fashion shows and as a template for copies and knock offs and finally to the consumer Couture and Commerce is a remarkable mixture of accessible text color photographs of the original garments design house sketches and photographs retailers advertisements and society page images Weaving together analysis of the clothes and interviews with those who traded sold and wore couture Alexandra Palmer vividly recreates the 1950s fashion world Dress & Vanity Fair ,1927 1960 Wardell Yearbook Ken & Joy (Neal) Brown,
