Bernard Bringing Up Our Mongol Son:

Bernard; Bringing Up Our Mongol Son John Wilks (Ph. D.), Eileen Wilks, 1974-01-01 Down's Syndrome David Gibson, 1978 Ce document tente de fournir la somme des informations recueillies par l'auteur sur les aspects psychologiques touchant les personnes atteintes du syndrome de Down. Il décrit alors le développement psychologique des individus, les caractéristiques de l'intelligence, une analyse comparative de la personnalité, l'adaptation sociale, les aptitudes que les personnes peuvent développer, le développement cognitif, le langage et la communication. Il termine en portant son regard particulièrement sur la modification de comportement. The Family Fund (Routledge Revivals) Jonathan Bradshaw, 2015-06-03 In The Family Fund first published in 1980 Bradshaw discusses the introduction of The Family Fund, a grant given to families in response of the discovery of the damages caused by the Thalidomide drug. He examines all aspects of the Fund including its origins, aims, publicity and its future. This text is ideal for students of sociology. Parents and Young Mentally Handicapped Children Helen McConachie, 2016-01-08 First published in 1986, this book reviews research on the role parents play in fostering the early development of children with mental handicaps. Professionals and parents must work together to give such children the chance of living as ordinary lives as possible, and here the author develops a broadly based conceptual framework for the involvement of parents as teachers of their young handicapped children. McConachie identifies characteristics of parents which seem of particular relevance to the design and success of intervention programmes. Although written in the 1980s, this book discusses topics that are still important today. Toys and Play for the Handicapped Child Barbara Riddick, 2005-08-04 Toys and Play for the Handicapped Child is written by a psychologist who ran the first professionally staffed Toy Library in the UK. Her experience enables her to write in practical detail about the role of toys and play both in normal development and in the development of handicapped children. It will be found equally useful by parents, teachers and other professionals, and by those concerned to promote productive play in handicapped and non-handicapped children. A Reader's Guide for Parents of Children with Mental, Physical, Or Emotional Disabilities Cory Moore, Kathryn Gorham Morton, Joni B. Mills, 1977 Daily Living with a Handicapped Child Diana M. Millard, 2016-01-13 First published in 1984, this book focuses on the support and reassurance needed by parents of children with handicaps. It provides a practical guide in relation to daily care and is equally as relevant to professionals, therapists, teachers, doctors, and psychologists who must advise parents. Written by an Occupational Therapist, the book highlights the need to make such children as independent as possible and gives advice on care of a special baby, modifications to the home environment, the needs of a child with a physical handicap, problems of educational handicap, and the place of a child in the family and community. Mental Retardation & Developmental Disabilities Abstracts, 1975 Leaving Residential Care Jim Black, Paul Brearley, Penny Gutridge, Dr Gwyneth Roberts, Gwyneth Roberts, 2013-07-04 Tavistock Press was established as a co-operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge. Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press Reproduced here in facsimile this volume was originally published in 1982 and is available individually The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection

The Costs of Caring Sally Baldwin, 2015-12-22 First published in 1985 this book considers the financial consequences of parents and other relatives caring for severely disabled children at home At the time of publication little reliable information was available on the costs incurred by informal carers which this book set to rectify The volume interweaves hard statistical material about money with the detailed personal responses of parents It examines the claim that disablement in a child reduces parents earnings while simultaneously creating an extra expense The author compares the incomes and expenditure patterns of more than 500 families with disabled children and 700 control families of the time showing that the financial effects of disablement in a child can be far reaching and pervasive This book discusses contemporary policy implications of these findings in a chapter dealing with the rationale for compensating families with disabled children and in the final chapter Although the book was originally published in 1985 it references issues that are still important today and whilst its main concern is families with disabled children it will also be useful to anyone caring for other kinds of dependent people such as the elderly

Disabled Children Anne Borsay, 2015-10-06 This volume of essays attempts to identify the shared experiences of disabled children and examine the key debates about their care and control The essays follow a chronological progression while focusing on the practices in a number of different countries

Disability, Mothers, and Organization Melanie Panitch, 2012-08-06 This book examines how and why mothers with disabled children became activists Leading campaigns to close institutions and secure human rights these women learned to mother as activists struggling in their homes and communities against the debilitating and demoralizing effects of exclusion Activist mothers recognized the importance of becoming advocates for change beyond their own families and contributed to building an organization to place their issues on a more public scale In highlighting this under examined movement this book contributes to the scholarship on Disability Studies Women's Studies Sociology and Social Movement Studies
