Architecture And Truth In Fin De Siècle Vienna:

Architecture and Truth in Fin-de-Siècle Vienna Leslie Topp, 2004-06-21 Leslie Topp investigates how truth in Viennese architecture at the turn of the twentieth century could be interpreted in a variety of ways including truth to purpose symbolist or ideal truth and ethical notions of authenticity Drawing on newly uncovered archival materials Topp offers a new interpretation of familiar buildings demonstrating how they encompass utopianism hyper rationality and subjectivism She also explores the relationship between Viennese modern architecture and contemporary painting psychiatry fashion labor issues and anti Semitic politics Fin-de-Siècle Vienna Carl E. Schorske, 1981 A landmark book from one of the truly original scholars of our time a magnificent revelation of turn of the century Vienna where out of a crisis of political and social disintegration so much of modern art and thought was born Not only is it a splendid exploration of several aspects of early modernism in their political context it is an indicator of how the discipline of intellectual history is currently practiced by its most able and ambitious craftsmen It is also a moving vindication of historical study itself in the face of modernism's defiant suggestion that history is obsolete David A Hollinger History Book Club Review Each of the seven separate studies can be read separately Yet they are so artfully designed and integrated that one who reads them in order is impressed by the book's wholeness and the momentum of its argument Gordon A Craig The New Republic A profound work on one of the most important chapters of modern intellectual history H R Trevor Roper front page The New York Times Book Review Invaluable to the social and political historian as well as to those more concerned with the arts John Willett The New York Review of Books A work of original synthesis and scholarship Engrossing Newsweek Mysticism and Architecture Roger Paden, 2007-01-01 A multi disciplinary study of the house that the philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein built for his sister in Vienna between 1926 and 1928 this book weaves together ideas taken from a number of disciplines_sociology political science aesthetics architecture urban planning and philosophy_to develop a complex multifaceted interpretation of the purpose and design of the house which in turn is used to ground a new interpretation of Wittgenstein's philosophical works emphasizing their mystical nature and practical purpose Liberalism, Nationalism and Design Reform in the Habsburg Empire Matthew Rampley, Markian Prokopovych, Nóra Veszprémi, 2020-01-20 Liberalism Nationalism and Design Reform in the Habsburg Empire is a study of museums of design and applied arts in Austria Hungary from 1864 to 1914 The Museum for Art and Industry now the Museum of Applied Arts as well as its design school occupies a prominent place in the study The book also gives equal attention to museums of design and applied arts in cities elsewhere in the Empire such as Budapest Prague Cracow Brno and Zagreb The book is shaped by two broad concerns the role of liberalism as a political cultural and economic ideology motivating the museums foundation and their engagement with the politics of imperial national and regional identity of the late Habsburg Empire This book will be of interest for scholars of art history museum studies design history and European history Constructing the Viennese Modern Body Nathan Timpano, 2017-05-25 This book takes a new interdisciplinary approach to analyzing modern Viennese visual culture one informed by Austro German theater contemporary medical treatises centered on hysteria and an original examination of dramatic gestures in expressionist artworks It centers on the following question How and to what end was the human body discussed portrayed and utilized as an aesthetic metaphor in turn of the century Vienna By scrutinizing theatrically hysterical performances avant garde puppet plays and images created by Oskar Kokoschka Koloman Moser Egon Schiele and others Nathan J Timpano discusses how Viennese artists favored the pathological or puppet like body as their contribution to European modernism

The Culture of the Case Frederic J. Schwartz, 2023-06-13 How artists in twentieth century Germany adapted the idea of the medical or legal case as an artistic strategy to push to the fore sexualities scandals and crimes that were otherwise concealed In early twentieth century Germany the artistic avant garde borrowed procedures from the medical and juridical realms to expose and debate matters that society preferred remain hidden and unspoken Frederic J Schwartz explores how the evocation or creation of a case provided artists with a means to engage themes that ranged from blasphemy to Lustmord or sexual murder Shedding light on the case as a cultural form Schwartz shows its profound effect on artists and the ways it dovetailed with methods used by these figures to exploit fundamental changes taking place across the mass media of their time As Schwartz shows the case was a common denominator that connected seemingly disparate works George Grosz and Rudolf Schlichter drew on it for their violent visual art as did architect Adolf Loos when he equated ornament with crime

Expressionists meanwhile approached the question of whether the so called mad shared a right of public expression with those deemed sane and examined medical and legal approaches to what society labeled as insanity The case also took on a personal dimension when artists found themselves confronted with or chose to engage with the legal system German courts prosecuted John Heartfield and others for their provocative works while Bertolt Brecht created publicity for himself by suing the firm to whom he sold the film rights to The Threepenny Opera Provocative and insightful The Culture of the Case offers a privileged view of the spaces of representation in which images in some instances as cases functioned at a key moment of modernity The Oxford Critical and Cultural History of Modernist Magazines Peter Brooker, Andrew Thacker, 2009 themes that became key to modernist artists and critics association perception representation subjectivity writing and language Accordingly this book re thinks modernism itself in the light of both the fine arts and music to advocate a multiplicity of modernisms from which it is necessary for scholars to construct their own narratives Buffalo at the Crossroads Peter H. Barbara Hepworth Rachel Whiteread and others These non architect practitioners she argues show that error need not be excluded and precision can be made accountable Wittgenstein's Novels Martin Klebes,2006-07-25 Analyzing features of Wittgenstein's philosophical work and including in depth textual analyses this study investigates the impact of Ludwig Wittgenstein's work on contemporary German and French novelists Drawing upon aesthetics architectural history philosophy of science and photography the book seeks to explain why references both to Wittgenstein as a person as well as to his work are more pervasive than other equally renowned twentieth century philosophers and asks why some authors such as H ndler and Roubaud are less well known and only partially translated into English History Beyond the Text Sarah Barber,Corinna Peniston-Bird,2013-02-01 Historians are increasingly looking beyond the traditional and turning to visual oral aural and virtual sources to inform their work The challenges these sources pose require new skills of interpretation and require historians to consider alternative theoretical and practical approaches In order to help historians successfully move beyond traditional text Sarah Barber and Corinna Peniston Bird bring together chapters from historical specialists in the fields of fine art photography film oral history architecture virtual sources music cartoons landscape and material culture to explain why when and how these less traditional sources can be used Each chapter introduces the reader to the source suggests the methodological and theoretical questions historians should keep in mind when using it and provides case studies to illustrate best practice in analysis and interpretation Pulling these disparate sources together the introduction discusses the nature of historical sources and those factors which are unique to and shared by the sources covered throughout the book Taking examples from around the globe this collection of essays aims to inspire practitioners of history to expand their horizons and incorporate a wide variety of primary sources in their work Jugendstil Women and the Making of Modern Design Sabine Wieber,2021-10-21 Jugendstil that is Germany's distinct engagement with the international Art Nouveau movement is now firmly engrained in histories of modern art architecture and design Recent exhibitions and publications across the world explored Jugendstil's key protagonists and artistic centres to firmly anchor their activities within the trajectories of German modernism Women however continue to be largely absent from these revisionist accounts Jugendstil Women and the Making of Modern Design argues that women in fact actively participated in the cultural and socio economic exchanges that generated German design responses to European modernity By drawing on previously unpublished archival material and a series of original case studies including Elsa Bruckmann's Munich salon the Photo Studio Elvira and the Debschitz School the book explores women's important contributions to modern German culture as collectors consumers critics designers educators and patrons This book offers a new interpretation of this vibrant period by considering diverse manifestations of historical female agency that pushed against historically entrenched conventions and gender roles The book's rigorous approach reshapes Jugendstil historiography by positing women's lived experiences against dominant ideologies that emerged at this precise moment In short the book advocates women as an integral part of the emergence dissemination and reception of Jugendstil and questions the deeply gendered histories of this key period in modern art
