Architecture Paul-Alan Johnson,1994-04-18 The Theory of Architecture Concepts Themes Practices Paul Alan Johnson
Although it has long been thought that theory directs architectural practice no one has explained precisely how the connection between theory and practice is supposed to work This guide asserts that architectural theory does not direct practice but is itself a form of reflective practice Paul Alan Johnson cuts through the jargon and mystery of architectural theory to clarify how it relates to actual applications in the field He also reveals the connections between new and old ideas to enhance the reader s powers of critical evaluation Nearly 100 major concepts themes and practices of architecture as well as the rhetoric of architects and designers are presented in an easily accessible format Throughout Johnson attempts to reduce each architectural notion into its essential concept By doing so he makes theory accessible for everyday professional discussion Topics are arranged under ten headings identification definition power attitudes ethics order authority governance relationship and expression Areas covered under these headings include Utopic thought in theories of architecture Advocacy and citizen participation in architecture The basis of architectural quality and excellence The roles of the architect as artist poet scientist and technologist Ethical obligations of architecture Rationales for models and methods of design How authority is determined in architecture How architects structure their concepts Conventions of communication within the architectural profession Each section begins by showing the etymology of key terms of the topic discussed along with a summary history of the topic s use in architecture Discussions probe the conceptual and philosophical difficulties of different theories as well as their potential and limitations in past and present usage Among the provocative issues discussed in terms of their relationship to architecture are chaos theory feminism service to the community and the use of metaphor Johnson points out with stunning clarity the intentions as well as the contradictions and inconsistencies of all notions and concepts All architects and designers as well as students and teachers in these disciplines will gain many insights about architectural thought in this groundbreaking text Ralph Erskine Peter Collymore,Riksställning (Sweden),1989

Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott,2004 A balance of sophistication and clarity in the writing authoritative entries and strong cross referencing that links architects and structures to entries on the history and theory of the profession make this an especially useful source on a century of the world s most notable architecture The contents feature major architects firms and professional issues buildings styles and sites the architecture of cities and countries critics and historians construction materials and planning topics schools movements and stylistic and theoretical terms Entries include well selected bibliographies and illustrations Reference that rocks American Libraries May 2005

Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin,2009-01-27 Clear and accessible Analysing Architecture opens a fresh way to understanding architecture It offers a unique notebook of architectural strategies to present an engaging introduction to elements and concepts in architectural design Beautifully illustrated throughout with the author's original drawings examples are drawn from across the world and many periods of architectural history from prehistoric times to the recent past to illustrate analytical themes and to show how drawing can be used to study architecture Since its first edition appeared in 1997 Analysing Architecture has established itself internationally as one of the key texts in architectural education This third edition includes a new section discussing the ways analysing examples cultivates a capacity for design Original chapters have been expanded new case studies added and the format rearranged for additional clarity The bibliography of recommended supplementary reading has also been extended In Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin clearly identifies the key elements of architecture and conceptual themes apparent in buildings and relevant to other works of architecture such as gardens and cities He describes ideas for use in the active process of design Breaking down the grammar of architecture into themes and moves Unwin exposes its underlying patterns to reveal the organizational strategies that lie beneath the superficial appearances of buildings Exploring buildings as results of the interaction of people with the world around them Analysing Architecture offers a definition of architecture as identification of place and provides a greater understanding of architecture as a creative discipline This book presents a powerful impetus for readers to develop their own capacities for architectural design It will also be of use to all those with an interest in the human occupation of and involvement with space anthropologists archaeologists film makers installation artists planners urban designers politicians The Ark, London Hugh Pearman, 1993 Modern Architecture Through Case Studies 1945 to 1990 Peter Blundell Jones, Eamonn Canniffe, 2012-08-21 Once again new interpretations are presented of some of the most famous architecture of the period Work by lesser known architects whose influence and role have been overlooked by conventional histories of the subject is discussed The case study structure allows each example to be discussed and used as a springboard to explore different theoretical approaches Filled with beautiful photographs plans and architect's drawings this is a clear and accessible discussion on a period of architecture that engages many questions still under debate in architecture today

Fundamental Concepts of Architecture Alban Janson, Florian Tigges, 2014-02-28 Architecture is an experience with the intellect and with all our senses in motion and in use But in order to actually discuss and assess it with relevance a clarification of terms is essential in order to avoid the vagueness that often prevails when talking about architecture This dictionary provides a vocabulary that allows the architecture discourse to go beyond the declaration of constructive relationships or the description of architectonic forms in familiar terms like roof base wall and axis or proportion The point is to describe the experience of architecture how exactly does it contribute to the experience of a situation For instance the staging of an entrance situation or the layout and visitor routes through a museum From context through guidance readability patina spatial structure symmetry and tectonics to width and narrowness or window the most important terms in architectural language are explained precisely and in detail Modern Architecture: A Critical History (Fifth) (World of Art) Kenneth Frampton, 2020-09-08 An extensively revised and updated edition of a bestselling classic on modern architecture and its origins by Kenneth Frampton Kenneth Frampton's highly acclaimed survey of modern architecture and its origins has been a classic since it first appeared in 1980 Starting with the cultural developments since 1750 that drove the modern movement moving through the creation of modern architecture and exploring the effects of globalization and the phenomenon of international celebrity architects this book is the definitive history of modern architecture For this extensively revised and updated fifth edition of Modern Architecture Frampton added new chapters exploring the ongoing modernist tradition in architecture while also examining the varied responses to the urgent need to build more sustainably and create structures that will withstand changing climates This new edition features completely redesigned interiors and an updated and expanded bibliography making this volume more indispensable than ever 100 Gennaro Postiglione, 2004 This volume features 100 homes of different architects Ralph Erskine, architect, 1985 Architecture and Identity Chris Abel, Norman Foster, 2012-10-02 Instead of tuning the consumer to the machine we can now tune the machine to the consumer This edited collection of essays now in its second edition brings together the author's key writings on the cultural technological and theoretical developments reshaping Modern architecture into a responsive and diverse movement for the twenty first century Chris Abel approaches his subject from a wide range of knowledge including cybernetics philosophy new human science and development planning as well as his experience as a teacher and critic on four continents The result is a unique global perspective on the changing nature of Modern architecture at the turn of the millennium Including two new chapters this revised and expanded second edition offers radical insights into such topics as the impact of information technology on customized architecture production the relations between tradition and innovation prospects for a global eco culture and the local and global forces shaping the architecture and cities of Asia Chris Abel is an architectural writer and educator based in Malta He has taught at major universities in the UK North and South America Southeast Asia and the Middle East and is a contributor to numerous international journals and other publications He currently holds visiting appointments at the University of Malta and the University of the Philippines Ralph Erskine, Architect John W. Myefski, 1988 History of Construction Cultures Volume 2 João Mascarenhas-Mateus, Ana Paula Pires, 2021-07-08 Volume 2 of History of Construction Cultures contains papers presented at the 7ICCH Seventh International Congress on Construction History held at the Lisbon School of Architecture Portugal from 12 to 16 July 2021 The conference has been organized by the Lisbon School of Architecture FAUL NOVA School of Social Sciences and Humanities the Portuguese Society for Construction History Studies and the University of the Azores The contributions cover the wide interdisciplinary spectrum of Construction History and consist on the most recent advances in theory and practical case studies analysis following themes such as epistemological issues building actors building materials building machines tools and equipment construction processes building services and techniques structural theory and analysis political social and economic aspects knowledge transfer and cultural translation of construction cultures Furthermore papers presented at thematic sessions aim at covering important problematics historical periods and different regions of the globe opening new directions for Construction History research We are what we build and how we build thus the study of Construction History is now more than ever at the centre of current debates as to the shape of a sustainable future for humankind Therefore History of Construction Cultures is a critical and indispensable work to expand our understanding of the ways in which everyday building activities have been perceived and experienced in different cultures from ancient times to our century and all over the world

Architecture and Anthropology Adam Jasper, 2020-05-21 Both architecture and anthropology emerged as autonomous theoretical disciplines in the 18th century enlightenment Throughout the 19th century the fields shared a common icon the primitive hut and a common concern with both routine needs and ceremonial behaviours Both could lay strong claims to a special knowledge of the everyday And yet in the 20th century notwithstanding genre classics such as Bernard Rudofsky's Architecture without Architects or Paul Oliver's Shelter and various attempts to make architecture anthropocentric such as Corbusier's Modulor disciplinary exchanges between architecture and anthropology were often disappointingly slight This book attempts to locate the various points of departure that might be taken in a contemporary discussion between architecture and anthropology The results are radical post colonial theory is here counterpoised to 19th century theories of primitivism archaeology is set against dentistry fieldwork is juxtaposed against indigenous critique and climate science is applied to questions of shelter This publication will be of interest to both architects and anthropologists The chapters in this book were originally published within two special issues of Architectural Theory Review 50
