Arguing With Scripture The Rhetoric Of Scripture In The Letters Of Paul:

Arguing With Scripture Christopher D. Stanley, 2004-05-10 Drawing on recent discussions of quotations in the fields of rhetorics linguistics and literary studies Stanley argues that Paul's explicit appeals to Jewish Scriptures must be analyzed as rhetorical devices that seek to influence the thoughts feelings and actions of a first century audience an approach that requires a different set of questions and methods than scholars have typically used in their studies of Paul's quotations Key questions include why Paul quoted words of Scripture to support some of his arguments and not others how quotations help to advance the developing arguments of Paul's letters and how a mostly illiterate first century audience from a variety of backgrounds might have viewed these sudden intrusions of material from a Jewish religious text Answering these questions requires paying careful attention to the affective and poetic dimensions as well as the intellectual aspects of the original audience's encounter with the Holy Scriptures of Israel

As it is Written Stanley E. Porter, Christopher D. Stanley, 2008 This work examines the notion of the land and its conquest which are important subjects today for the formation of the Pentateuch The sabbatical calendar known from the books of Enoch and Jubilees and several Dead Sea Scrolls is applied to the Pentateuch revealing it as the calendar

Echoes of Scripture in the Letter of Paul to the Colossians Christopher A. Beetham, 2009-01-31 While the use of the Old Testament in the New Testament has captured the attention of biblical scholars over the years no study has been devoted to the presence of Scripture in Colossians largely because there are no explicit quotations in Colossians With the introduction of literary intertextuality into the discipline however scholars have begun to devote more attention to the NT authors less explicit references to Scripture often labelled as allusions and or echoes Scholars however continue to debate what constitutes an allusion or echo or how one validates a given proposal as such This study proposes new definitions of these terms and offers a methodology on how to detect and validate them using Colossians as a test case

The Bible, Mormon Scripture, and the Rhetoric of Allusivity J.

Frederick,2016-05-05 One of the most pertinent questions facing students of Mormon Studies is gaining further understanding of the function the Bible played in the composition of Joseph Smith s primary compositions the Book of Mormon and the Doctrine and Covenants With a few notable exceptions such as Philip Barlow s Mormons and the Bible and Grant Hardy s Understanding the Book of Mormon full length monographs devoted to this topic have been lacking This manuscript attempts to remedy this through a close analysis of how Mormon scripture specifically the Book of Mormon and the Doctrine and Covenants integrates the writings of New Testament into its own text This manuscript takes up the argument that through the rhetoric of allusivity the allusion to one text by another Joseph Smith was able to bestow upon his works an authority they would have lacked without the incorporation of biblical language In order to provide a thorough analysis focused on how Smith incorporated the biblical text into his own texts this work will limit itself only to those passages in Mormon scripture that allude to the Prologue of John s gospel John 1 1 18 The choice of the Prologue of John is due to its frequent appearance throughout Smith s corpus as well as its recognizable language This study further argues that the manner in which Smith incorporates the Johannine Prologue is by no means uniform but actually quite creative taking at least four different forms Echo Allusion Expansion and Inversion The methodology used in this work is based primarily upon recent developments in intertextual studies of the Bible an analytical method that has proved to be quite effective in studying later author s use of earlier texts

The Character of Christian Scripture (Studies in Theological Interpretation)

Christopher R. Seitz,2011-10-01 The early church received the Scriptures of Israel as Christian Scriptures and did not change them The older testament was received as a witness to God and when a newer testament emerged the older was not dismissed harmonized or edited Rather the church moved forward with a two testament witness Christopher Seitz an internationally renowned expert in canonical interpretation illuminates the two testament character of Scripture and its significance for the contemporary church He interacts critically with current interest in the New Testament s use of the Old Testament and addresses an issue of perennial concern how to hear both testaments as Christian witness

Mutual

Boasting in Philippians Isaac D. Blois,2020-07-23 Isaac Blois argues that Paul s focus in Philippians on the mutual boasting shared between himself and his converts draws on the mutual boasting shared between Israel and her covenant God as apparent in both Deuteronomy and Isaiah Using the appearance of this central theme in the pivotal passages of Phil 1 25 26 and 2 14 16 as his focus Blois stresses the integral relation between mutual boasting and the role that it plays in Paul s exhortations to the Philippian believers exploring its backdrop in both the biblical tradition and the cultures surrounding them Blois demonstrates how the mutual boasting that Paul shares with his beloved community is culturally appropriate the sharing of honor among friends and family was common in antiquity as seen through the epistolary writing of prominent Roman authors such as Cicero Seneca and Fronto In light of the Scriptural and cultural basis for this motif of shared boasting Blois argues that the apostle is able to deploy the motif in order to motivate an appropriate response from his audience in the letter Focusing on the prominence of mutual honor and its use for motivation in Philippians 1 and 2 Blois offers a fresh perspective on the exhortative function of the eschatological boasting that is to exist between Paul and his congregation on the day of Christ

Paul's Letter to the Romans Arland J. Hultgren, 2011-05-16 Building on his own translation from the Greek Hultgren walks readers through Romans verse by verse illuminating the text with helpful comments probing into major puzzles and highlighting the letter's most inspiring features He also demonstrates the forward looking missional character of Paul's epistle written as Hultgren suggests to introduce Roman Christians to the major themes of Paul's theology and to inspire in them both confidence in the soundness of his teaching and support for his planned missionary efforts in Spain

Called from the Jews and from the Gentiles Pablo T. Gadenz, 2009 Slight revision of the author's thesis doctoral Pontifical Gregorian University 2008

The Figure of Adam in Romans 5 and 1 Corinthians 15 Filipe d Jesus Legarreta-Castillo, 2014-02-01 Felipe Legarreta gives careful attention to patterns of exegesis in Second Temple Judaism and identifies for the first time a number of motifs by which Jews drew ethical implications from the story of Adam and his expulsion from Eden He then demonstrates that throughout the Christological passages in Romans and 1 Corinthians Paul is taking part in a wider Jewish exegetical and ethical discussion regarding life in the new creation

Methodology in the Use of the Old Testament in the New David Allen, Steve Smith, 2019-09-19 This volume brings together scholars of both the Old and New Testaments to discuss three areas of methodological interest in respect of the use of the Old Testament in the New OT NT It begins with an interdisciplinary conversation into insights that OT NT scholars might glean from other related disciplines and approaches The subsequent essays consider the notion of an Old Testament text's context and how contemporaneous authors such as Philo or the Qumran community conceived of and attended to the concept The contributors then turn their focus to the criteria that can should be used for determining Old Testament allusions or echoes and the legitimacy for so doing particularly responding to the work of Richard Hays The volume closes with a fresh proposal for OT NT methodology along with a concluding reflection on the collected essays

Paul and the Hermeneutics of Faith Francis Watson, 2015-11-19 In recent years scholars from both Christian and Jewish backgrounds have tried to rethink the relationship between earliest Christianity and its Jewish milieu and Paul has emerged as a central figure in this debate Francis Watson contributes to this scholarly discussion by seeing Paul and his Jewish contemporaries as above all readers of scripture However different the conclusions they draw they all endeavour to make sense of the same normative scriptural texts in the belief that as they interpret the scriptural texts the texts will themselves interpret and illuminate the world of contemporary experience In that sense Paul and his contemporaries are standing on common ground

Far from relativizing their differences however it is this common ground that makes such differences possible In this new edition Watson provides a comprehensive new introduction entitled A Response to My Critics in which he directly engages with the critics of the previous edition There is a substantial new Preface and two new Appendices and the text has been fully revised throughout

The Rhetoric of Abraham's Faith in Romans 4 Andrew Kimseng Tan,2018-04-20 Explore Romans 4 from a sociorhetorical perspective Andrew Kimseng Tan examines Romans using sociorhetorical interpretation to determine how Paul attempted to alleviate dissension between Judean or Jewish and non Judean or gentile Christians Through his analysis of Paul s rhetoric Tan reveals that Paul used Abraham s faith in Genesis to demonstrate that the both groups were equally children and heirs of Abraham whose acceptance by God was through the same kind of faith that Abraham possessed not through the Mosaic law which Judean Christians claimed gave them a special honored status with God Features A model for the application of sociorhetorical interpretation for analyzing close readings of biblical texts A demonstration of the persuasive power of Romans 4 through the use of sociorhetorical interpretation Exploration of the relationships between important theological topics such as resurrection the Mosaic law the Holy Spirit righteousness ethical living and eschatological salvation

A Complementary Approach to the Interpretation and Translation of Biblical Metaphors Peter Kamande Thuo,2021-01-31 In this in depth study Peter Kamande Thuo explores the complexity of accurately understanding interpreting and translating Scripture especially biblical metaphors Engaging the need for a stronger theoretical framework for conceptualizing and communicating metaphors across languages Dr Thuo proposes a complementary approach that utilizes relevance theory to bridge gaps presented by conceptual metaphor theory and cognitive linguistics Yet this book is far more than an abstract theoretical treatise Dr Thuo offers the example of the circumcised heart of Romans 2 as a case study providing practical guidance for his readers as he demonstrates the process of translating such a phrase into Kikuyu So doing he reminds us that the challenge of understanding interpreting and applying biblical metaphors across culture and language is not limited to the work of professional translation Rather it is at the heart of all scholarship discipleship and pastoral teaching and the task of every person engaged in reading the word of God

The Fear of God in 2 Corinthians 7:1 Euichang Kim,2019-02-21 Euichang Kim focuses upon the phrase the fear of God drawn from 2 Corinthians exhortation to reconcile with God As opposed to these words appearing from no particular source Kim points to the wider contexts of Old Testament passages quoted by Paul and demonstrates that God s eschatological promises in particular his coming judgment his promise to redeem his people and the prospect of a new covenant are intertwined with this motif of fear Beginning with an analysis of the meaning of fear in both the Old Testament and the New Kim proceeds to the context of fear within 2 Corinthians Scripture the writings of Second Temple Judaism and the very eschatology of Paul suggesting that it stems from an awareness of God s judgment to come and serves to motivate righteous behavior Kim finally argues that in the context of 2 Corinthians the fear of God functions as the proper response to God s saving acts in Christ and provides motivation for believers to pursue a holy life in anticipation of the eschatological judgment to come

Ephesians and Artemis Michael Immendorfer, 2017-06-12 In this study Michael Immendorfer examines the relationship between the New Testament letter to the Ephesians and the ancient city of Ephesus which had the great Artemis as its goddess He seeks to make a contribution to the discussion on the extent to which conclusions can be drawn concerning the local historical explanation of New Testament epistles by viewing the latter through the lens of Greco Roman cultic practices Thus the contents of Ephesians are compared with the abundantly available archaeological and epigraphical sources of the Asia Minor metropolis This endeavour reveals that the letter contains numerous unequivocal references to the cult of Artemis a nexus suggesting that the author was very familiar with the historical background of ancient Ephesus and contextualised his letter accordingly for the intended readers who lived in this particular cultic environment

The Deliverance of God Douglas A. Campbell, 2009-08-07 This book breaks a significant impasse in much Pauline interpretation pushing beyond both Lutheran and New perspectives on Paul to a non contractual apocalyptic reading of many of the apostle's most famous and most troublesome texts His strongly antithetical vision identifies participation in Christ as the sole core of Pauline theology and produces the most radical rereading of Romans 1-4 for more than a generation Even those who disagree will be forced to clarify their views as never before
