Brickyards To Graveyards From Production:

Brickyards to Graveyards Villia Jefremovas, 2012-02-01 Brickyards to Graveyards examines how the overidealized picture of Rwanda as the darling of the world community in the 1980s was shattered amidst the genocide that occurred a decade later. The brick and tile industries of Rwanda provide a microcosm to examine the transformation of gender class and power relations through the precolonial colonial and postcolonial periods and provide insights into the explosive impact of these changes on Rwandan culture and society. The book illustrates how these gender class and power relations played out in times of economic political and demographic crisis and argues that these factors have not changed significantly since the Rwandan Patriotic Front took power in 1994. Intersectionality and Beyond Emily Grabham, Davina Cooper, Jane Krishnadas, Didi Herman, 2008-08-21 This collection addresses the present and the future of the concept of intersectionality within socio legal studies. Including contributions from a range of international scholars this book interrogates what has become a key organizing concept across a range of disciplines most particularly law political theory and cultural studies.

After "Rwanda" Jean-Paul Martinon, 2013-09-10 Is writing about peace after the Rwandan Genocide self defeating. Whether it is the intensity of the massacres the popularity of the genocide or the imaginary forms of cruelty however one looks at it everything in the Rwandan Genocide appears to defy once again the possibility of thinking peace anew. In order to address this problem this book investigates the work of specific French and Rwandese philosophers in order to renew our understanding of peace today. Through this path breaking investigation peace no longer stands for an ideal in the future but becomes a structure of inter subjectivity that guarantees that the violence of language always prevails over any other form of violence. This book is the very first monograph in philosophy related to the events of 1994 in Rwanda. Jean Paul Martinon is Programme Leader of the MPhil PhD Programme in Visual Cultures at Goldsmiths College University of London. He has written monographs on a Victorian workhouse Swelling Grounds Rear Window 1995 the idea of the future in the work of Derrida Malabou and Nancy On Futurity Palgrave 2007 the temporal dimension of masculinity The End of Man Punctum 2013 and the event of knowledge in museums The Curatorial A Philosophy of Curating Bloomsbury 2013. In each case he writes in an attempt to make sense of time its staging in museums its advent its gender its neglect the ethics that derive from it and the way it is used and abused to structure human life. www.jeanpaulmartinon.net Vulnerable Bodies Erin K.

Baines, 2017-03-02 Examining the response of the United Nations to forced displacement in three cases this insightful work lays bare the breach between advances in global policy on gender equality and humanitarianism and the implementation of these policies. In this book Erin Baines uses the examples of Bosnia Rwanda and Guatemala to explore the interplay between the global the national and the local level. By providing critical empirical data feminist propositions can be tested against experience. Vulnerable Bodies will form an excellent resource for courses in international relations gender studies development studies comparative politics and for UN policymakers and government practitioners. Inequalities and

Conflicts in Modern and Contemporary African History Jan Záhorký, 2018-11-16 The book deals with historical social economic political and international causes contexts and consequences of inequalities and conflicts in Africa In particular the book is to puts conflicts and turbulences in Ethiopia in a broader African comparative perspective It also identifies and analyzes multiple causes of conflicts which cannot be studied only as a result of one variable Inequalities and conflicts have a whole set of causes stemming from historically inherited as well as global international socio economic political and other contexts which cannot be analyzed separately This book is vital for anyone who is interested in the study of African history comparative politics and conflict in Africa

Genocide Lives in Us Jennie E. Burnet, 2012-11-19 In the aftermath of the 1994 genocide Rwandan women faced the impossible resurrecting their lives amidst unthinkable devastation Haunted by memories of lost loved ones and of their own experiences of violence women rebuilt their lives from less than nothing Neither passive victims nor innate peacemakers they traversed dangerous emotional and political terrain to emerge as leaders in Rwanda today This clear and engaging ethnography of survival tackles three interrelated phenomena memory silence and justice and probes the contradictory roles women played in postgenocide reconciliation Based on more than a decade of intensive fieldwork Genocide Lives in Us provides a unique grassroots perspective on a postconflict society Anthropologist Jennie E Burnet relates with sensitivity the heart wrenching survival stories of ordinary Rwandan women and uncovers political and historical themes in their personal narratives She shows that women s leading role in Rwanda s renaissance resulted from several factors the dire postgenocide situation that forced women into new roles advocacy by the Rwandan women s movement and the inclusion of women in the postgenocide government Honorable Mention Aidoo Snyder Book Prize Women s Caucus of the African Studies Association

Africa's World War Gerard Prunier, 2008-12-31 The Rwandan genocide sparked a horrific bloodbath that swept across sub Saharan Africa ultimately leading to the deaths of some four million people In this extraordinary history of the recent wars in Central Africa Gerard Prunier offers a gripping account of how one grisly episode laid the groundwork for a sweeping and disastrous upheaval Prunier vividly describes the grisly aftermath of the Rwandan genocide when some two million refugees a third of Rwanda s population fled to exile in Zaire in 1996 The new Rwandan regime then crossed into Zaire and attacked the refugees slaughtering upwards of 400 000 people The Rwandan forces then turned on Zaire s despotic President Mobutu and with the help of a number of allied African countries overthrew him But as Prunier shows the collapse of the Mobutu regime and the ascension of the corrupt and erratic Laurent D sir Kabila created a power vacuum that drew Rwanda Uganda Angola Zimbabwe Sudan and other African nations into an extended and chaotic war The heart of the book documents how the whole core of the African continent became engulfed in an intractable and bloody conflict after 1998 a devastating war that only wound down following the assassination of Kabila in 2001 Prunier not only captures all this in his riveting narrative but he also indicts the international community for its utter lack of interest in what was then the largest conflict in the world Praise for the hardcover The most ambitious of several remarkable new books that reexamine the extraordinary tragedy of Congo and Central Africa since the Rwandan genocide of 1994 New York Review of Books One of the first books to lay bare the complex dynamic between Rwanda and Congo that has been driving this disaster Jeffrey Gettleman New York Times Book Review Lucid meticulously researched and incisive Prunier's will likely become the standard account of this under reported tragedy Publishers Weekly

War, Women, and Power Marie E. Berry, 2018-03-15 While dominant narratives emphasize war's destructive effects this book demonstrates how war can open up unexpected opportunities for women's political mobilization Genocide Alexander Laban Hinton, Kevin Lewis O'Neill, 2009-04-07 Leading anthropologists consider issues of truth memory and representation in the aftermath of genocides in the Balkans Guatemala Indonesia East Timor Germany Nigeria Rwanda and Sudan Pathological Altruism Barbara Oakley, 2012-01-05 Pathological Altruism is a groundbreaking new book the first to explore the negative aspects of altruism and empathy seemingly uniformly positive traits In fact pathological altruism in the form of an unhealthy focus on others to the detriment of one's own needs may underpin some personality disorders Hyperempathy an excess of concern for what others think and how they feel helps explain popular but poorly defined concepts such as codependency The contributing authors of this book provide a scientific social and cultural foundation for the subject of pathological altruism creating a new field of inquiry Each author's approach points to one disturbing truth what we value so much the altruistic good side of human nature can also have a dark side that we ignore at our peril

Securing Livelihoods Isabelle Hillenkamp, Frédéric Lapeyre, Andreia Lemaître, 2013-10 Analyzes what people do for themselves in the informal economy and how it relates to public policies formal institutions and broader socio economic processes

Politics and the Urban Frontier Tom Goodfellow, 2022 This book offers the first full length comparative analysis of urban development trajectories in Eastern Africa and the political dynamics that underpin them It offers a multi scalar historically grounded and interdisciplinary analysis of the urban transformations unfolding in the world's most dynamic crucible of urban change

Identity Politics in the Public Realm Avigail Eisenberg, Will Kymlicka, 2011-10-11 In an age of multiculturalism and identity politics many minority groups seek some form of official recognition or public accommodation of their identity But can public institutions accurately recognize or accommodate something as subjective and dynamic as identity Are there coherent standards and fair procedures for responding to identity claims In this book Avigail Eisenberg and Will Kymlicka lead a distinguished team of scholars who explore state responses to identity claims worldwide Their case studies focus on key issues where identity is central to public policy such as the construction of census categories interpretation of antidiscrimination norms and assessment of indigenous rights By illuminating both the risks and opportunities of institutional responses to diversity this volume shows that public institutions can either enhance or distort the benefits of identity politics Much depends on the agency of citizens and the ability of institutions to adapt to success and failure

Kigali Samuel Shearer, 2025-10-28 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press s Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more In the first decade of the twenty first century the government of Rwanda hired American and Singaporean design firms to transform the image of Kigali from a wounded city into a competitive destination for foreign investment The firms produced promotional images of a post conflict tabula rasa waiting to be rebuilt by foreign investors as an urban solution to climate change However to make this marketing image real much of the actual city would need to be destroyed and its residents converted to consumers of green housing and service delivery systems

Kigali is an ethnography of a city that is being destroyed so that it can be rebuilt for the end of the world Drawing on years of ethnographic fieldwork with Kigali residents as they navigate the catastrophes induced by sustainable urbanism this book offers a searing critique of capitalist solutions to climate change and an account of the city's popular alternatives to sustainable urbanism

The Violence of Law Jens Meierhenrich, 2024-05-02 Examines lawfare a little understood form of warfare in post genocide Rwanda where it contributed to the making of dictatorship

Investing in Authoritarian Rule Anuradha Chakravarty, 2016 This book shows how Rwanda's mass courts for genocide crimes helped ensure political stability and authoritarian control for Rwandan elites

Women and War in Rwanda Georgina Holmes, 2013-10-25 Focusing on television media reporting of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and its aftermath this book explores how African states directly involved in conflict western states with geopolitical interests in Africa's Great Lakes region militia groups human rights activists and NGOs use gendered media narratives strategically often engaging in politics of revisionism and denial to change the behaviour of other actors in the international system Critically analysing BBC documentary films and news features and drawing on interviews with British Rwandan and Congolese journalists filmmakers political commentators and human rights activists Georgina Holmes argues that documentary films and political discussion programmes are postcolonial contact zones wherein competing actors perform in an attempt to influence international political decision making on military and humanitarian intervention and public perceptions of genocide and war The book breaks new ground in understanding how Rwandan and Congolese women actively engage in producing and shaping international public discourse on genocide and war despite being depicted as silent passive victims of conflict This book is essential reading on the gendered dynamics of media reporting on conflicts and will appeal to anyone with an interest in Feminist Security Studies Political Communication Media and Film Studies African Studies Genocide Studies and International Relations

Interviewing in Social Science Research Lee Ann Fujii, 2017-07-28 What is interviewing and when is this method useful What does it mean to select rather than sample interviewees Once the researcher has found people to interview how does she build a working relationship with her interviewees What should the dynamics of talking and listening in interviews be How do researchers begin to analyze the narrative data generated through interviews Lee Ann Fujii explores the answers to these inquiries in Interviewing in Social Science Research the latest entry in the Routledge Series on Interpretive Methods This short highly readable book explores an interpretive approach to interviewing for purposes of social science research Using an interpretive methodology the book examines interviewing as a relational enterprise As a relational undertaking interviewing is more akin to a two way dialogue than a one way interrogation Fujii examines the methodological foundations for a relational approach to interviewing while at the same time covering many of the practical nuts and bolts of relational interviewing Examples come from the author's experiences conducting interviews in Bosnia Rwanda and the United States and from relevant literatures across a variety of social scientific disciplines Appendices to the book contain specific tips and suggestions for relational interviewing in addition to interview excerpts that give readers a sense of how relational interviews unfold This book will be of great value to graduate students and researchers from across the social sciences who are considering or planning to use interviews in their research and can be easily used by academics for teaching courses or workshops in social science methods
