The colonisation of time Giordano Nanni, 2020-10-20 The Colonisation of Time is a highly original and long overdue examination of the ways that western European and specifically British concepts and rituals of time were imposed on other cultures as a fundamental component of colonisation during the nineteenth century Based on a wealth of primary sources it explores the intimate relationship between the colonisation of time and space in two British settler colonies Victoria Australia and the Cape Colony South Africa and its instrumental role in the exportation of Christianity capitalism and modernity thus adding new depth to our understanding of imperial power and of the ways in which it was exercised and limited All those intrigued by the concept of time will find this book of interest for it illustrates how western European time s rise to a position of global dominance from the clock to the seven day week is one of the most pervasive enduring and taken for granted legacies of colonisation in today s world

The Public Life of Australian Multiculturalism Anthony Moran,2016-11-26 This book argues that in a globalising world in which nation states have to manage population flows and intensifying cultural diversity within their borders multicultural policy and approaches have never been more important The author takes an extended case study approach examining Australia s experiments with pragmatic forms of multiculturalism and multicultural policy since the early 1970s up to the present The Public Life of Australian Multiculturalism challenges some larger assumptions about multiculturalism either that it undermines national identity or that it is and should strive to be a post national approach to identity issues Instead it argues that framing multiculturalism by inclusive national identity has been the key to multiculturalism s continuity and general success in Australia The book also directly challenges the claim that we have entered a post multicultural world making a case instead for the continuing relevance of pragmatic approaches to multiculturalism Students and scholars researching in sociology politics migration multiculturalism ethnic and racial studies nationalism and identity studies will find this study of interest The Dingo Debate Bradley Smith,2015-08-03 The Dingo Debate explores the intriguing and relatively unknown story of Australia s most controversial animal the dingo Throughout its existence the dingo has been shaped by its interactions with human societies With this as a central theme the book traces the story of the dingo from its beginnings as a semi domesticated wild dog in South east Asia to its current status as a wild Australian native animal under threat of extinction It describes how dingoes made their way to Australia their subsequent relationship with Indigenous Australians their successful adaption to the Australian landscape and their constant battle against the agricultural industry During these events the dingo has demonstrated an unparalleled intelligence and adaptable nature seen in few species The book concludes with a discussion of what the future of the dingo in Australia might look like what we can learn from our past relationship with dingoes and how this can help to allow a peaceful co existence The Dingo Debate reveals the real dingo beneath the popular stereotypes providing an account of the dingo s behaviour ecology impacts and management according to scientific and scholarly evidence rather than hearsay This book will appeal to anyone with an interest in Australian natural history wild canids and the relationship between humans and carnivores

Writing Home Glenn Morrison,2017-01-30 Writing Home explores the literary representation of Australian places by those who have walked them In particular it examines how Aboriginal and settler narratives of walking have shaped portrayals of Australia s Red Centre and consequently ideas of nation and belonging Central Australia has long been characterised as a frontier the supposed divide between black and white ancient and modern But persistently representing it in this way is preventing Australians from re imagining this internationally significant region as home Writing Home argues that the frontier no longer adequately describes Central Australia and that the Aboriginal songlines make a significant but under acknowledged contribution to Australian discourses of hybridity belonging and home Drawing on anthropology cultural theory journalism politics and philosophy the book traces shifting perceptions of Australian place and space since precolonial times through six recounted walking journeys of the Red Centre A Reef in Time J.E.N. Veron,2010-03-30 Veron presents the geological history of the Great Barrier Reef the biology of coral reef ecosystems and a primer on what we know about climate change He concludes that most coral reefs will be dead from mass bleaching and irreversible acidification within the coming century unless greenhouse gas emissions are curbed Genocide on Settler Frontiers Mohamed Adhikari,2015-06-01 European colonial conquest included many instances of indigenous peoples being exterminated Cases where invading commercial stock farmers clashed with hunter gatherers were particularly destructive often resulting in a degree of dispossession and slaughter that destroyed the ability of these societies to reproduce themselves The experience of aboriginal peoples in the settler colonies of southern Africa Australia North America and Latin America bears this out The frequency with which encounters of this kind resulted in the annihilation of forager societies raises the question of whether these conflicts were inherently genocidal an issue not yet addressed by scholars in a systematic way Civilisation of Port Phillip Thomas James Rogers,2018-02-23

Port Phillip s free settlers often said that they were civilising a wilderness The truth was that the occupied country already had people laws politics and economies What did civilisation mean to the free settlers And what was the relationship between civilising and violence The Civilisation of Port Phillip tracks the violent history of the first years of British settlement in the Port Phillip District now the state of Victoria It illuminates the underlying free settler rhetoric that advocated and abetted violence on the frontier For the first time we hear the settlers tell us in their own words what the civilisation of Port Phillip really involved Frontier violence in Port Phillip involved Aboriginal peoples convicts free settlers and colonial officials This history shows how the lives of these different people interconnected in early Port Phillip in unlikely friendships dire misunderstandings and fatal clashes It paints a vivid picture of the period drawn from archival records a thorough re reading of older histories and new ideas in the scholarship of violence As well as sheep and firearms free settlers brought Enlightenment ideas about civilisation to Port Phillip When these European ideas were coupled with Australian frontier experience they manifested in an exterminatory attitude towards people deemed undesirable in the coming colony The Civilisation of Port Phillip shows how free settler rhetoric law and systems of classification reinforced and sought to justify the violence of the frontier Chinese Market Gardening in Australia and New Zealand Joanna Boileau,2017-07-27

This book offers a fresh perspective on the Chinese diaspora It is about the mobilisation of knowledge across time and space exploring the history of Chinese market gardening in Australia and New Zealand It enlarges our understanding of processes of technological change and human mobility highlighting the mobility of migrants as an essential element in the mobility and adaptation of technologies Truly multidisciplinary Chinese Market Gardening in Australia and New Zealand incorporates elements of economic agricultural social cultural and environmental history along with archaeology to document how Chinese market gardeners from subtropical southern China adapted their horticultural techniques and technologies to novel environments and the demands of European consumers It shows that they made a significant contribution to the economies of Australia and New Zealand developing flexible strategies to cope with the vagaries of climate and changing business and social environments which were often hostile towards Asian immigrants Chinese Market Gardening in Australia and New Zealand will appeal to students and scholars in the fields of the Chinese diaspora in particular the history of the Chinese in Australasia the history of technology horticultural and garden history and environmental history as well as Asian studies more generally Crossroads and Cultures, Volume A: To 1300 Bonnie G.
