Architecture And Nihilism On The Philosophy Of Modern Architecture:

Architecture and Nihilism Massimo Cacciari, Stephen Sartarelli, 1993 Massimo Cacciari one of the most influential social philosophers in Italy today is the founder of the trend of criticism known as negative thought that focuses on the failure of traditional logic to explicate the problems of modernity This book which introduces his writings to an English speaking audience provides a striking social and philosophical account of the twentieth century metropolis Patrizia Lombardo's extensive introduction situates Cacciari's thought within the milieu of Italian political activism and philosophy between the 1960s and the 1980s from his collaboration on the leftist journal Contropiano to his long association with Manfredo Tafuri Cacciari studies the relation between philosophy and modern architecture and applies the thinking of avant garde architects artists and writers to the social and political problems raised by technological society He begins by defining the modern metropolis using the terms and ideas of Georg Simmel and Max Weber but revealing where their frameworks are limited He then examines the work of Adolf Loos and other architects and designers in early twentieth century Vienna showing how their architecture and criticism expose the alienation and utopianism in notions of the organic city Cacciari demonstrates how architecture intersects with the city and the state but also with the interior of the private dwelling and with its resistance to the external world Bringing together philosophy sociology urbanism labor history economics and aesthetics he helps us comprehend via these disciplines a crucial period in the history of modernity

The Ethical Function of Architecture Karsten Harries, 1998-07-31 Can architecture help us find our place and way in today's complex world Can it return individuals to a whole to a world to a community Developing Giedion's claim that contemporary architecture's main task is to interpret a way of life valid for our time philosopher Karsten Harries answers that architecture should serve a common ethos But if architecture is to meet that task it first has to free itself from the dominant formalist approach and get beyond the notion that its purpose is to produce endless variations of the decorated shed In a series of cogent and balanced arguments Harries questions the premises on which architects and theorists have long relied premises which have contributed to architecture's current identity crisis and marginalization He first criticizes the aesthetic approach focusing on the problems of decoration and ornament He then turns to the language of architecture If the main task of architecture is indeed interpretation in just what sense can it be said to speak and what should it be speaking about Expanding upon suggestions made by Martin Heidegger Harries also considers the relationship of building to the idea and meaning of dwelling Architecture Harries observes has a responsibility to community but its ethical function is inevitably also political He concludes by examining these seemingly paradoxical functions

Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun, 2002-04-25 This new account of international modernism explores the complex motivations behind this revolutionary movement and assesses its triumphs and failures The work of the main architects of the movement such as Frank Lloyd Wright Adolf Loos Le Corbusier and Mies van der Rohe is re-examined shedding new light on their roles as acknowledged masters Alan

Colquhoun explores the evolution of the movement from Art Nouveau in the 1890s to the megastructures of the 1960s revealing the often contradictory demands of form function social engagement modernity and tradition

The Architecture of Jens Fredrick Larson Rod Miller, 2024-08-19 After serving with the Canadian Artillery and becoming an ace with the Royal Flying Corps American Jens Fredrick Larson settled into architecture At age 28 he began work at Dartmouth As his reputation grew he would go on to work with myriad clients and more than thirty five colleges and universities in America and elsewhere including Colby College Bucknell College Wake Forest University the City University of Paris the University of New Brunswick and the Institute for Advanced Study Princeton This text explores the history of Larson and his career with a look at his major projects and the challenges faced late in his career when a nascent Modernism denigrated and misunderstood the meaning and value of the Georgian style

German Façade Design Randall Ott, 2016-09-17 German architecture prior to the modern period has received less systemic analytical study than that of Italy

France and Britain Scholarly discussion of broad traditions or continuities within Germanic or Central European facade design is even sparser Baroque era studies of the region mostly devote themselves to isolated architects monuments or movements Modernism's advent decisively changed this Germanic architecture enjoyed sudden ascendancy Yet even so study specifically of that region's facades still lagged nothing compares to the dozens of treatments of Le Corbusier's facade systems for example and how these juxtapose with French neoclassical or Italian Renaissance methods Given the paucity of multi period studies one can be forgiven for believing Germany's effervescence of radical modern works seems unprecedented This book takes up these multiple quandaries It identifies and documents a previously unrecognized compositional tradition characterized here as the screen facade and posits it as a counter narrative critiquing the essentialist authentic canon currently dominant in Western architectural history By crossing evenly over the dividing line between the historical and modern periods it offers valuable insights on indigenous roots underlying some aspects of Germany's invigorating early twentieth century architectural developments The book chronologically examines 400 years of closely related facades concentrated in Germany but also found in Austria the Czech Republic German speaking Switzerland and nearby areas of Central Europe While nearly 75 buildings are mentioned and illustrated a dozen are given extensive analysis and the book focuses on the works of three architects Schinkel Behrens and Mies Relationships between examples of these three architects' facades far transcend mere homage amongst masters Glimmers of the system they eventually codify are apparent as early as at Heidelberg Castle in 1559 and Nürnberg's Rathaus in 1622 The book argues that in Germany northern Gothic affinities for bisection intense repetition and rote aggregation intersected with southern Classical affinities for symmetry hierarchy and centrality thereby spawning a unique hybrid product the screen facade Instead of graphic formality this study is guided by on site perceptions propositional contrasts means of approach interpretive conflicts and emotion and it relates the design of these facades to concepts proposed by contemporary philosophers including Novalis Hegel Nietzsche Freud Adorno and most importantly Gadamer on hermeneutics

Robin Boyd: Spatial Continuity Mauro Baracco, Louise Wright, 2017-01-20 Australian architect Robin Boyd 1919-1971 advocated tirelessly for the voice of Australian architects so that there could be an architecture that might speak to Australian conditions and sensibilities His legacy continues in the work of contemporary Australian architects yet also prompts a way forward for architecture particularly in relationship to the landscapes they inhabit through a quality of continuous space found in his work where the buildings are spatially reliant and sympathetic to the places they occupy A selection of 22 projects are documented comprehensively in this book for the first time This slice through Boyd's body of work reveals a gifted complex and contemporary thinker

The Phenomenology of Real and Virtual Places Erik Malcolm Champion, 2018-10-26 This collection of essays explores the history implications and usefulness of phenomenology for the study of real and virtual places While the influence of phenomenology on architecture and urban design has been widely acknowledged its effect on the design of virtual places and environments has yet to be exposed to critical reflection These essays from philosophers cultural geographers designers architects and archaeologists advance the connection between phenomenology and the study of place The book features historical interpretations on this topic as well as context specific and place centric applications that will appeal to a wide range of scholars across disciplinary boundaries The ultimate aim of this book is to provide more helpful and precise definitions of phenomenology that shed light on its growth as a philosophical framework and on its development in other disciplines concerned with the experience of place

Cities, Words and Images P. Lombardo, 2003-02-21 The city is an essential theme of modernity in literature architecture photography and film This book first focuses on ardent reactions to the metropolitan explosion in the nineteenth century with Baudelaire and Poe as key figures More recent representations of the city are then investigated in Europe and the United States Lombardo reflects on the way in which the changes in human perception created by urbanization are expressed in the various arts in terms of form and content

Metaphysics and Music in Adorno and Heidegger Wesley Phillips, 2015-07-08 Metaphysics and Music in Adorno and Heidegger explains how two notoriously opposed German philosophers share a rethinking of the possibility of metaphysics via notions of music and waiting This is connected to the historical materialist project of social change by way of the radical Italian composer Luigi Nono

Mies Contra Le Corbusier Gevork Hartoonian, 2024-09-02 In Mies Contra Le Corbusier Gevork Hartoonian embarks on a captivating exploration of the architectural ideologies embodied in the works of Mies van der Rohe and Le Corbusier Focusing on the non synchronicity inherent in their approaches to the tectonics of the column and wall Hartoonian conducts a comparative analysis of carefully selected diachronic projects from each architect This insightful journey unravels the architects ideological stances within the ongoing dialogue between modernity and tradition Hartoonian sheds light on the inclination of Mies and Le Corbusier toward a frameless architecture a characteristic prominently displayed in their late works Drawing inspiration from Marxian philosophy the author contends that significant technological developments play a crucial role in shaping subjectivities across the cultural spectrum creating an uneven dissemination The frame in Hartoonian s lens transcends the boundaries of a single building becoming a lens through which to frame a nuanced understanding of the urban landscape and tectonics Mies Contra Le Corbusier stands as a thought provoking exploration that not only unveils the intricacies of architectural history but also offers profound insights into the cultural and technological forces shaping the built environment This book will be of interest to researchers and students of architectural history and theory Additionally it offers a timely discussion of Mies and Le Corbusier s contributions to architecture s contemporaneity for the younger generation of architects

Digital Matters Jan Harris, Paul Taylor, 2007-05-07 Analyzing the complex interaction between the material and immaterial aspects of new digital technologies this book draws upon a mix of theoretical approaches including sociology media theory cultural studies and technological philosophy to suggest that the Matrix of science fiction and Hollywood is simply an extreme example of how contemporary technological society enframes and conditions its citizens Arranged in two parts the book covers theorizing the Im Material Matrix living in the Digital Matrix Providing a novel perspective on on going digital developments by using both the work of current thinkers and that of past theorists not normally associated with digital issues it gives a fresh insight into the roots and causes of the social matrix behind the digital one of popular imagination The authors highlight the way we should be concerned by the power of the digital to undermine physical reality but also explore the potential the digital has for alternative empowering social uses The book s central point is to impress upon the reader that the digital does indeed matter It includes a pessimistic interpretation of technological change and adds a substantial historical perspective to the often excessively topical focus of much existing cyberstudies literature making it an important volume for students and researchers in this field

Transcultural Poetics and the Concept of the Poet Ranjan Ghosh,2016-12-08 Critiquing the politics and dynamics of the transcultural poetics of reading literature this book demonstrates an ambitious understanding of the concept of the poet across a wide range of traditions Anglo American German French Arabic Chinese Sanskrit Bengali Urdu and philosophies of creativity that are rarely studied side by side Ghosh carves out unexplored spaces of negotiation and intersections between literature aesthetics and philosophy The book demonstrates an original method of global comparison that displaces the relatively staid and historicist categories that have underpinned comparative literature approaches so far since they rarely dare stray beyond issues of influence and schools or new world literature approaches that affirm cosmopolitanism and transnationalism as overarching themes Going beyond comparatism and reformulating the chronological patterns of reading this bold book introduces new methodologies of reading literature to configure the concept of the poet from Philip Sidney to T S Eliot reading the notion of the poet through completely new theoretical and epistemic triggers Commonly known texts and sometimes well circulated ideas are subjected to refreshing reading in what the author calls the transcultural now and in fusionised transpoetical matrices By moving between theories of poetry and literature that come from widely separated times contexts and cultures this book shows the relevance of canonical texts to a theory of the future as marked by post global concerns

Digital Matters Jan Ll Harris,Paul A. Taylor,2005 Analyzing the complex interaction between aspects of new digital technologies this book draws upon a mix of theoretical approaches to give fresh insight into the roots of the social matrix behind the digital Matrix of popular imagination

Controlling Urban Events Andrea Pavoni,2017-12-06 How does order emerge out of the multiplicity of bodies objects ideas and practices that constitute the urban This book explores the relation between space law and control in the contemporary city and particularly in the context of urban mega events through a combined geographical and normative analysis Informed by the recent spatial affective and material turns in the humanities and social sciences Andrea Pavoni addresses this question by pursuing an innovative and trans disciplinary approach capable of accounting for the emergence of order in urban space both at the conceptual and empirical levels Two overarching objectives are pursued First to account for the increasing convergence of logics techniques and technologies of law security and marketing into novel potentially oppressive spatial configurations Second to envisage a consistent ethico political strategy to counter this evolution by rethinking originally and in radically spatial terms the notion of justice Forging a sophisticated and original analysis this book offers an analysis that will be of considerable interest to those working in critical urban geography critical legal studies critical event studies surveillance and control studies
