American Architecture Now II Barbaralee Diamonstein-Spielvogel, 1985 Meaning in Architecture, now Carlo Deregibus, Aurosa Alison, 2024-10-15 The connection between form and meaning has been so intrinsic and obvious that it has been implicit for centuries Then around fifty years ago the issue of meaning suddenly burst into the architectural world with many scholars and practitioners bustling to introduce semiology and semiotics into design Now after the globalisation and the atomisation of thoughts of the last decades those debates could seem pretty meaningless the form being mainly an aesthetic feature or a counterfeit fetish for everchanging feeble poetics Yet we continue to design produce and critique architecture attributing meanings intentions and hopes to its forms Once more we will explore and discuss the elusive yet unavoidable connection between meaning and architecture four thematic sections to understand the place and dimension of meaning in of from to after or maybe even for Architecture Art to Come Terry Smith, 2019-09-06 In Art to Come Terry Smith who is widely recognized as one of the world's leading historians and theorists of contemporary art traces the emergence of contemporary art and further develops his concept of contemporaneity Smith shows that embracing contemporaneity as both a historical concept and a condition of the globalized world allows us to grasp how contemporary art exists in a fluid space of increasing interdependencies multiple contemporaneous modernities and persistent inequalities Throughout these essays Smith offers systematic proposals for writing contemporary art's histories while assessing how curators critics philosophers artists and art historians are currently doing so Among other topics Smith examines the intersection of architecture with other visual arts Chinese art since the Cultural Revolution how philosophers are theorizing concepts associated with the contemporary Australian Indigenous art and the current state of art history Art to Come will be essential reading for artists art students curators gallery workers historians critics and theorists Architecture Now! Houses Philip Jodidio, 2013 Le troisième volume de notre célèbre Architecture Now Houses présente 60 nouvelles demeures parmi les plus spectaculaires du monde entier Découvrez l'extraordinaire Turtle House dessinée par les artistes Carsten Hübner et Marcel Odenbach Biriwa au Ghana visitez l'impressionnante House de Tadao Ando Monterrey au Mexique ou prenez votre envol pour apprécier la Flight of Birds House de Bernardo Rodriguez aux Açores Mieux que tout magazine ou site internet ce nouveau livre vous permet d'explorer les maisons les plus belles et les plus extravagantes l'extérieur comme l'intérieur Ces univers intimes imaginés par quelques uns des architectes les plus talentueux du moment vous ouvrent exceptionnellement leurs portes pour une visite privée Comme dans les autres livres de la collection Architecture Now les maisons sont présentées travers des photos et des dessins et les architectes avec leurs listes de projets et leur adresse pour ceux qui seraient tentés de demander Shigeru Ban de leur concevoir une maison de 800 m² carrés sur une falaise au Sri Lanka Villa Vista Et même si vous n'avez pas le budget pour un tel luxe vous n'en ressentirez pas moins un réel plaisir vous plonger dans Architecture Now Houses 3 ARCHINESIA 5 Imelda Akmal (Editor in Chief), GOOD DESIGN IN

ARCHITECTURE NOW One of the most important quite dominant processes in architecture is design process and the goal of architecture design is to obtain good design Good design has double meaning aesthetic and ethic In architecture the two should be united as a single goal that a design process should strive for Moreover an architectural product does not only effect its client and architect On a broader level architectural products also effect their surrounding environments In a large scale they may even have an effect on the economy and the social and political condition The question is How does an architectural design attain the label good design We tried to find the answer through a round table discussion by inviting the two groups of professionals in Indonesia practitioners and academics What are their thought on this matter You can peruse them in the main coverage of Archinesia vol 5 Built Project in Southeast Asia House in Semarang Revano Satria Serenity House phuket Duangrit Bunnag Spiral House Surabaya Archimetric B House Bali d associates Recycled Wood House Jakarta Mamostudio 1 The Mori Bandung LABO Ize Hotel Bali Studio Tonton River Safari Singapore DP Architects Anjung Salihara Studiomasar Audi Centre Singapore Ong Ong Kineforum Misbar Jakarta Csutoras Liando Architravel special Scottish Parliament Building by Enric Miralles architecture students architects and anyone interested in how buildings are created and the history behind them The Architecture of Transgression, 2014-01-13 Transgression suggests operating beyond accepted norms and radically reinterpreting practice by pushing at the boundaries of both what architecture is and what it could or even should be. The current economic crisis and accompanying political social unrest has exacerbated the difficulty into which architecture has long been sliding challenged by other professions and a culture of conservatism architecture is in danger of losing its prized status as one of the pre eminent visual arts. Transgression opens up new possibilities for practice. It highlights the positive impact that working on the architectural periphery can make on the mainstream as transgressive practices have the potential to reinvent and reposition the architectural profession whether they are subverting notions of progress questioning roles and mechanisms of production aligning with political activism pioneering urban interventions advocating informal or incomplete development actively destabilising environments or breaking barriers of taste. In this new dispersed and expanded field of operation the balance of architectural endeavour is shifted from object to process from service to speculation and from formal to informal in a way that provides both critical and political impetus to proactively affect change. It discusses the spectacle and excess which permeates contemporary architecture in reference to the present aesthetic tendency for image making but does so by applying the tectonic of theatricality discussed by the 19th century German architect Gottfried Semper. In doing so it breaks new ground by opening up a dialogue between the study of the past and the design of the present. The work of each discussed architect is seen as addressing a historiographical problem. To this end and this is the second important aspect of this book the chosen buildings are discussed in terms of the thematic of the culture of building the tectonic of column and wall for example rather than the formal and this through a discussion that is informed by the latest available theories. Having set the aesthetic implication of the processes of the digitalization of architecture the book's conclusion highlights strategies by which architecture might postpone the full consequences of digitalization and thus the becoming of architecture as ornament on its own right Drawing on Architecture Jordan Kauffman, 2019-03-19 How architectural drawings emerged as aesthetic objects promoted by a network of galleries collectors and institutions and how this changed the understanding of architecture Prior to the 1970s buildings were commonly understood to be the goal of architectural practice architectural drawings were seen simply as a means to an end But just as the boundaries of architecture itself were shifting at the end of the twentieth century the perception of architectural drawings was also shifting they began to be seen as autonomous objects outside the process of building In Drawing on Architecture Jordan Kauffman offers an account of how architectural drawings promoted by a network of galleries and collectors exhibitions and events emerged as aesthetic objects and ultimately attained status as important cultural and historical artifacts and how this was both emblematic of changes in architecture and a catalyst for these changes Kauffman traces moments of critical importance to the evolution of the perception of architectural drawings beginning with exhibitions that featured architectural drawings displayed in ways that did not elucidate buildings but treated them as meaningful objects in their own right When architectural drawings were seen as having intrinsic value they became collectible and Kauffman chronicles early collectors galleries and sales He discusses three key exhibitions at the Leo Castelli Gallery in New York other galleries around the world that specialized in architectural drawings the founding of architecture museums that understood and collected drawings as important cultural and historical artifacts and the effect of the new significance of architectural drawings on architecture and architectural history Drawing on interviews with more than forty people directly involved with the events described and on extensive archival research Kauffman shows how architectural drawings became the driving force in architectural debate in an era of change

The Identity of the Architect Laura Iloniemi, 2019-12-23 Today there are more tools for communication than ever before yet very little in the way of reflection on how these are being used and even less on what exactly is being conveyed This issue of AD looks at how architecture is communicated from a cultural perspective Do the identities of practices or their business driven branding and promotional efforts resonate with the critical acclaim many architects seek Has slick image led media coverage sold the profession short How is it possible to convey the less visual and haptic qualities of architecture Can architects be more creative in their communication efforts making these joyous on their own terms as Le Corbusier did so memorably Is there really a need to succumb to the world of corporate marketing processes and managerial business jargon The issue explores notions of editing and curating work in an age of data deluge and discusses social media as a genuinely alternative space for communication rather than for just repurposing and regurgitating information relayed The Identity of the Architect encourages the promotion of practices as an integral extension of the very culture they hope to engender through their work Contributors Stephen Bayley Caroline Cole Adam Nathaniel Furman Gabor Gallov Jonathan Glancey Justine Harvey Owen Hopkins Crispin Kelly Jay Merrick Robin Monotti Juhani Pallasmaa Vicky Richardson Jenny Sabin and Austin Williams Featured architects Ian Ritchie BIG MVRDV IF_DO and Zaha Hadid Architects

Architecture in the Age of Mediatizing Technologies Sang Lee, 2024-10-31 This book offers a novel perspective on contemporary architecture exploring its position in mediatization attained through technological apparatuses It introduces the novel concepts of apparatus centrality and mediatization of architecture which have significant disciplinary and cultural ramifications Highlighting key technological and theoretical developments the book's narrative traces the transformation of architecture from the modernist era to the present digital age En route it reflects on how architecture becomes a crucial element of shifting dispositives through its confluence with technologies of aestheticization and virtualization and by emblemizing ecological ideals It also illuminates the reconfiguring of architectural practice through examining surprising interactions and analogies between architecture and music whose developments in notation and codification continually change the relationship between composer and performer The book explores how architecture is reshaped by broader theory and practice in media and ultimately serves as a cognitive agent It underscores that architecture profoundly influences our phantasmagoric image driven affective world through its increasingly apparatus centric approach to conception design production and mediatization Architecture in the Age of Mediatizing Technologies brings into focus the behavior of architecture in mediatization for researchers and advanced students in architectural design theory and history As an investigation into the interdisciplinary impact of architecture in a mediatized culture at large it also provides a valuable resource for cultural and media studies Architecture's Evil

Empire? Miles Glendinning, 2010-10-15 From Chicago to Toronto to Shanghai cities around the world have sprouted iconic buildings by celebrity architects like Frank Gehry and Daniel Libeskind that compete for attention both on the skyline and in the media But in recent years criticism of these extreme gestural structures known for their often exaggerated forms has been growing Miles Glendinning's impassioned polemic Architecture's Evil Empire looks at how today's trademark architectural individualism stretches beyond the well known works and ultimately extends to the entire built environment Glendinning examines how the global empire of the current modernism emerged particularly in relation to the excesses of global capitalism and explains its key organizational and architectural features placing its most influential theorists and designers in a broader context of history and artistic movements Arguing against the excesses of iconic architecture Glendinning advocates a vision of modern renewal that seeks to remedy the shattered and alienated look he sees in contemporary architecture Mingling scholarship with wry humor and a genuine concern for the state of architecture Architecture's Evil Empire will raise many heated debates and appeal to a wide range of readers from architects to historians interested in the built environment Observer, 2002 Architects Today Kester Rattenbury, Robert Bevan, Kieran Long, 2006-08-10 This volume offers both an introduction to and an insight into key contemporary architects as well as giving a snapshot of the varied nature of architecture today For each architect there are details of their life and work and illustrations of their most representative and iconic buildings Reflections on Architecture, Society and Politics Graham Cairns, 2016-10-04 Reflections on Architecture Society and Politics brings together a series of thirteen interview articles by Graham Cairns in collaboration with some of the most prominent polemic thinkers and critical practitioners from the fields of architecture and the social sciences including Noam Chomsky Peggy Deamer Robert A M Stern Daniel Libeskind and

Kenneth Frampton Each chapter explores the relationship between architecture and socio political issues through discussion of architectural theories and projects citing specific issues and themes that have led to and will shape the various aspects of the current and future built environment Ranging from Chomsky s examination of the US Mexico border as the architecture of oppression to Robert A M Stern s defence of projects for the Disney corporation and George W Bush this book places politics at the center of issues within contemporary architecture
