Ad Hominem Arguments Douglas Walton, 1998 A vital contribution to legal theory and media and civic discourse In the 1860s northern newspapers attacked Abraham Lincoln's policies by attacking his character using the terms drunk baboon too slow foolish and dishonest Steadily on the increase in political argumentation since then the argumentum ad hominem or personal attack argument has now been carefully refined as an instrument of oppo tactics and going negative by the public relations experts who craft political campaigns at the national level In this definitive treatment of one of the most important concepts in argumentation theory and informal logic Douglas Walton presents a normative framework for identifying and evaluating ad hominem or personal attack arguments Personal attack arguments have often proved to be so effective in election campaigns for example that even while condemning them politicians have not stopped using them In the media in the courtroom and in everyday confrontation ad hominem arguments are easy to put forward as accusations are difficult to refute and often have an extremely powerful effect on persuading an audience Walton gives a clear method for analyzing and evaluating cases of ad hominem arguments found in everyday argumentation His analysis classifies the ad hominem argument into five clearly defined subtypes abusive direct circumstantial bias poisoning the well and tu quoque you're just as bad arguments and gives methods for evaluating each type Each subtype is given a well defined form as a recognizable type of argument The numerous case studies show in concrete terms many practical aspects of how to use textual evidence to identify and analyze fallacies and to evaluate argumentation as fallacious or not in particular cases

Teaching Music History with Cases Sara Haefeli, 2022-11-22 Teaching Music History with Cases introduces a pedagogical approach to music history instruction in university coursework What constitutes a music historical case How do we use them in the classroom In business and the hard sciences cases are problems that need solutions In a field like music history a case is not always a problem but often an exploration of a context or concept that inspires deep inquiry Such cases are narratives of rich complex moments in music history that inspire questions of similar or related moments This book guides instructors through the process of designing a curriculum based on case studies finding and writing case studies and guiding class discussions of cases Science, Method, and Argument in Galileo Maurice A. Finocchiaro, 2021-08-28 This book collects a renowned scholar's essays from the past five decades and reflects two main concerns an approach to logic that stresses argumentation reasoning and critical thinking and that is informal empirical naturalistic practical applied concrete and historical and an interest in Galileo's life and thought his scientific achievements Inquisition trial and methodological lessons in light of his iconic status as father of modern science These republished essays include many hard to find articles out of print works and chapters which are not available online The collection provides an excellent resource of the author's lifelong dedication to the subject Thus the book contains critical analyses of some key Galilean arguments about the laws of falling bodies and the Copernican hypothesis of the earth's motion There is also a group of chapters in which Galileo's argumentation is compared and contrasted with that of other figures such as Socrates Karl Marx Giordano Bruno and his musicologist father Vincenzo Galilei The chapters on Galileo's trial illustrate an approach to the science vs religion issue which Finocchiaro labels para clerical and conceptualizes in terms of a judicious consideration of arguments for and against Galileo and the Church Other essays examine argumentation about Galileo's life and thought by the major Galilean scholars of recent decades The book will be of interest to scholars in philosophy logic philosophy of science history of science history of religion philosophy of religion argumentation rhetoric and communication studies Argumentation John P. Nordin, Edward Schiappa, 2024-05-31 This extensively updated second edition provides a comprehensive introduction to argumentation skills for undergraduates Clearly written with minimal technical jargon the book features many contemporary real world examples Through a unique conceptual framework students will learn how to assemble a coherent logical argument assess sources and organize and present written and verbal arguments The authors use the Toulmin model throughout to present issues and clarify concepts and have expanded the model to show how it can be used to examine real world arguments This new edition provides a deeper focus on value claims and credibility It also shows students how to assess fake news misinformation and post truth and incorporates more social scientific theories of persuasion such as the Elaboration Likelihood Model Argumentation Keeping Faith with Reason is an ideal textbook for undergraduate courses in argumentation persuasion critical thinking and informal logic An Instructor's Manual including advice on how to teach each section sample quizzes and additional examples is available at <https://routledge.com/9781032541228> Argumentation Mining Manfred Stede, Jodi Schneider, 2022-06-01 Argumentation mining is an application of natural language processing NLP that emerged a few years ago and has recently enjoyed considerable popularity as demonstrated by a series of international workshops and by a rising number of publications at the major conferences and journals of the field Its goals are to identify argumentation in text or dialogue to construct representations of the constellation of claims supporting and attacking moves in different levels of detail and to characterize the patterns of reasoning that appear to license the argumentation Furthermore recent work also addresses the difficult tasks of evaluating the persuasiveness and quality of arguments Some of the linguistic genres that are being studied include legal text student essays political discourse and debate newspaper editorials scientific writing and others The book starts with a discussion of the linguistic perspective characteristics of argumentative language and their relationship to certain other notions such as subjectivity Besides the connection to linguistics argumentation has for a long time been a topic in Artificial Intelligence where the focus is on devising adequate representations and reasoning formalisms that capture the properties of argumentative exchange It is generally very difficult to connect the two realms of reasoning and text analysis but we are convinced that it should be attempted in the long term and therefore we also touch upon some fundamentals of reasoning approaches Then the book turns to its focus the computational side of mining argumentation in text We first introduce a number of annotated corpora that have been used in the research From the NLP perspective argumentation mining shares subtasks with research fields such as subjectivity and sentiment analysis semantic relation extraction and discourse parsing Therefore many technical approaches are being borrowed from those and other fields We break argumentation mining into a series of subtasks starting with the preparatory steps of classifying text as argumentative or not and segmenting it into elementary units Then central steps are the automatic identification of claims and finding statements that support or oppose the claim For certain applications it is also of interest to compute a full structure of an argumentative constellation of statements Next we discuss a few steps that try to dig deeper to infer the underlying reasoning pattern for a textual argument to reconstruct unstated premises so called enthymemes and to evaluate the quality of the argumentation We also take a brief look at the other side of mining i e the generation or synthesis of argumentative text The book finishes with a summary of the argumentation mining tasks a sketch of potential applications and a necessarily subjective outlook for the field
