Archive Fever A Freudian Impression:

Archive Fever Jacques Derrida,1996 As a depository of civic record and social history whose very name derives from the Greek word for town hall the archive would seem to be a public entity yet it is stocked with the personal even intimate artifacts of private lives It is this inherent tension between public and private which inaugurates for Derrida an inquiry into the human impulse to preserve through technology as well as tradition both a historical and a psychic past What emerges is a marvelous expansive work engaging at once Judaic mythos Freudian psychoanalysis and Marxist materialism in a profound reflection on the real the unreal and the virtual Archive Fever Jacques Derrida,1996 Archive Fever Jacques

Derrida,1998 In Archive Fever Jacques Derrida deftly guides us through an extended meditation on remembrance religion time and technology fruitfully occasioned by a deconstructive analysis of the notion of archiving from back cover

Archives, Documentation, and Institutions of Social Memory Francis Xavier Blouin,William G. Rosenberg,2007-08-02 Essays exploring the importance of archives as artifacts of culture The Uncanny Nicholas Royle,2003 This is the first book length study of the uncanny an important concept for contemporary thinking and debate across a range of disciplines and discourses including literature film architecture cultural studies philosophy psychoanalysis and queer theory Much of this importance can be traced back to Freud s essay of 1919 The uncanny where he was perhaps the first to foreground the distinctive nature of the uncanny as a feeling of something not simply weird or mysterious but more specifically as something strangely familiar As a concept and a feeling however the uncanny has a complex history going back to at least the Enlightenment Nicholas Royle offers a detailed historical account of the emergence of the uncanny together with a series of close readings of different aspects of the topic Following a major introductory historical and critical overview there are chapters on the death drive d j vu silence solitude and darkness the fear of being buried alive doubles ghosts cannibalism telepathy and madness as well as more applied readings concerned for example with teaching politics film and religion This is a major critical study that will be welcomed by students and academics but will also be of interest to the general reader

Art + Archive Sara Callahan,2022-01-25 Art Archive provides an in depth analysis of the connection between art and the archive at the turn of the twenty first century The book examines how the archive emerged in art writing in the mid 1990s and how its subsequent ubiquity can be understood in light of wider social technological philosophical and art historical conditions and concerns Deftly combining writing on archives from different disciplines with artistic practices the book clarifies the function and meaning of one of the most persistent artworld buzzwords of recent years shedding light on the conceptual and historical implications of the so called archival turn in contemporary art The San Francisco of Alfred Hitchcock's Vertigo Douglas A. Cunningham,2012 This book is a collection of essays that examine the integrated relationship that the 1958 Alfred Hitchcock film Vertigo has with the history and culture of California and the San Francisco Bay area

Indigenous Archives Darren Jorgensen,Ian McLean,2017 The archive is a source of power It takes control of the past

deciding which voices will be heard and which won't how they will be heard and for what purposes Indigenous archivists were at work well before the European Enlightenment arrived and began its own archiving Sometimes at odds other times not these two ways of ordering the world have each learned from and engaged with the other Colonialism has been a struggle over archives and its processes as much as anything else The eighteen essays by twenty authors investigate different aspects of this struggle in Australia from traditional Indigenous archives and their developments in recent times to the deconstruction of European archives by contemporary artists as acts of cultural empowerment It also examines the use of archives developed for other reasons such as the use of rainfall records to interpret early Papunya paintings Indigenous Archives is the first overview of archival research in the production and understanding of Indigenous culture Wide ranging in its scope it reveals the lively state of research into Indigenous histories and culture in Australia

Installation Art and the Practices of Archivalism David Houston Jones, 2016-03-31 On the leading edge of trauma and archival studies this timely book engages with the recent growth in visual projects that respond to the archive focusing in particular on installation art It traces a line of argument from practitioners who explicitly depict the archive Samuel Beckett Christian Boltanski Art Language Walid Raad to those whose materials and practices are archival Mirosław Bałka Jean Luc Godard Silvia Kolbowski Boltanski Atom Egoyan Jones considers in particular the widespread nostalgia for archival media such as analogue photographs and film He analyses the innovative strategies by which such artefacts are incorporated examining five distinct types of archival practice the intermedial testimonial personal relational and monumentalist

Everyday Feminist Research Praxis Koen Leurs, Domitilla Olivieri, 2014-10-02 Everyday Feminist Research Praxis Doing Gender in The Netherlands offers a selection of previously unpublished work presented during the 2011 2012 and 2013 Netherlands Research School of Gender Studies NOG conferences Reflecting the wide spectrum of interdisciplinary gender studies this volume is organised into four sections along four conceptual knots These thematic entry points are space time affectivity public private and technological mediation The central emphasis of this volume is twofold first the everyday is approached as a concretely grounded site of micro political power struggles Second the contributors make explicit connections between theory and their everyday feminist research practices As a whole the interventions ranging from fashion modelling child birthing discourses and digital documentaries show how feminist research praxis remains crucial in critically disentangling naturalized routines of daily life which in turn enables the scrutiny of for example the arbitrariness of entrenched power relations and contradictory personal and collective everyday trajectories Everyday Feminist Research Praxis thus energises possibilities for new forms of recognition representation and redistribution of power

Killing Freud Todd Dufresne, 2006-09-19 Killing Freud takes the reader on a journey through the 20th century tracing the work and influence of one of its greatest icons Sigmund Freud A devastating critique Killing Freud ranges across the strange case of Anna O the hysteria of Josef Breuer the love of dogs the Freud industry the role of gossip and fiction bad manners pop psychology and French philosophy figure skating on thin ice and contemporary therapy culture A map to the Freudian minefield and a masterful negotiation of high theory and low culture Killing Freud is a witty and fearless revaluation of psychoanalysis and its real place in 20th century history It will appeal to anyone curious about the life of the mind after the death of Freud Derrida's Legacies Simon Glendinning, Robert Eaglestone, 2008-01-22 This volume brings together some of the most well known and highly respected commentators on the work of Jacques Derrida from Britain and America in a series of essays written to commemorate the life and come to terms with the death of one of the most important intellectual presences of our time The sometimes personal always insightful essays reflect on the multiple ways in which Derrida's work has marked intellectual culture in general and the literary and philosophical culture of Britain and America in particular The outstanding contributors offer an interdisciplinary view investigating areas such as deconstruction ethics time irony technology location and truth This book provides a rich and faithful context for thinking about the significance of Derrida's own work as an event that arrived and perhaps still remains to arrive in our time Rocket States: Atomic Weaponry and the Cultural Imagination Fabienne Collignon, 2014-07-31 Rocket States crosses the disciplines of Cold War Studies American Literature American Studies and Cultural Studies The particular attraction of this study lies in the combination of its range close textual and visual analysis of the correlations between land and weaponry set firmly within its political and cultural contexts with its unique analytical approach The book offers a synthesis between history theories of technology theories of space popular culture literary study and military science It illuminates a variety of literary texts from key writers and thinkers such as Pynchon Stephen King Norman Mailer and Tom Wolfe while also invoking figures like Nikola Tesla James Webb Batman and Ronald Reagan Organised topographically according to how missile technology manifests itself differently in particular locations Rocket States's geographical targets are Colorado Kansas Cape Canaveral and New York variously titled Excavation Preservation Evacuation and Transmission It advances through these states roughly chronologically beginning in the late 1940s and early 1950s and coming to an end in the first part of the 21st century Collignon's argument is concerned with identifying the recurring figures and fantasies of the Cold War the dome or parabola as sheltering techno form the fictions of total security adapting to constantly changing targeting strategies gadget love closed freezing worlds As such Rocket States analyses by what processes the Cold War is frequently literalised in its weapons installations and how these facilities in turn shape dreams of containment survival escape and techno supremacy Reading the Modernist Long Poem Brendan C. Gillott, 2020-12-10 How do readers approach the enigmatic and unnavigable modernist long poem Taking as the form's exemplars the highly influential but critically contentious poetries of John Cage and Charles Olson this book considers indeterminacy the fundamental feature of the long poem by way of its analogues in musicology mycology cybernetics and philosophy It addresses features of these works that figure broadly in the long poem tradition such as listing typography archives mediation and mereology while articulating how both poets broke with the longform poetic traditions of the early 1900s Brendan C Gillott argues for Cage's and Olson's centrality to these traditions in developing critiquing and innovating on the longform poetics of the past their work revolutionized the longform poetry of the 20th and 21st centuries Dust Carolyn Steedman, 2002 In this witty engaging and challenging book Carolyn Steedman has produced an original and sometimes irreverent investigation into how modern historiography has developed Dust The Archive and Cultural History considers our stubborn set of beliefs about an objective material world inherited from the nineteenth century with which modern history writing and its lack of such a belief attempts to grapple Drawing on her own published and unpublished writing Carolyn Steedman has produced a sustained argument about the way in which history writing belongs to the currents of thought shaping the modern world Steedman begins by asserting that in recent years much attention has been paid to the archive by those working in the humanities and social sciences she calls this practice archivization By definition the archive is the repository of that which will not go away and the book goes on to suggest that just like dust the matter of history can never go away or be erased This unique work will be welcomed by all historians who want to think about what it is they do

The Romance of the Lyric in Nineteenth-Century Women's Poetry Lee Christine O'Brien, 2012-10-05 The Romance of the Lyric in Nineteenth Century Women's Poetry Experiments in Form offers a new account of the nature of the lyric as nineteenth century women poets developed the form It offers fresh assessments of the imaginative and aesthetic complexity of women's poetry The monograph seeks to redefine the range and cultural significance of women's writing using the work of poets who have not heretofore been part of critical accounts of nineteenth century lyric poetry These new voices are set beside new readings of the poetry of established figures for example Christina Rossetti's Goblin Market and Augusta Webster's Medea in Athens and Circe The monograph draws substantially on the poetry of Rosamund Marriott Watson who was lost to literary history before the restoration of her oeuvre through the scholarly and critical work of Professor Linda K Hughes to make the case that once neglected and lost voices provide new ways of determining the cultural centrality of women and the poetry they produced in one of the richest periods of poetic experimentation in the Western literary tradition This monograph contends that Watson's poetry and prose provide new ways of analyzing the complex and frequently transgressive nature of the lyric engagement of women with folklore and myth and with the growing understanding in the nineteenth century of the fragmented fluid self in general and of the writer in particular Practices of Digital Humanities in India Maya

Dodd, Nirmala Menon, 2024-09-06 This book represents examples of innovations in digital humanities DH efforts across India while theorizing disparate challenges and its negotiations It examines DH projects that have spanned private and public efforts institutionally sanctioned lab work and crowd sourced programmes of public significance and shows how collectively they demonstrate the potential paths of DH in India The essays in the volume highlight the two fundamental challenges for DH acts of curation of new scales and the creation of platforms that can assist in the collation and analysis of these digital archives and changes in learning behaviour They examine the transformation of the university and the opening up of new relationships between knowledge and audience in concomitant spaces of scholarship such as libraries archives and museums The volume brings to the fore citizen efforts to document record and preserve as well as create new avenues of study and forge networks of scholarship that look very different from those of traditional academia It also foregrounds the challenges of location and addresses the questions of how DH should be taught in India and how to build digital infrastructures A go to guide for DH efforts in India this book will be an essential text for courses on digital humanities library and information sciences and the future of experiential learning

Transformation of Archives and Heritage Education in Post-apartheid South Africa Geraldine Frieslaar,Olusegun Morakinyo,2023-06-10 Although there have been significant strides to transform the demographics of archive and museum personnel develop new museums and heritage institutions and heritage training initiatives in post apartheid South Africa the Eurocentric model of the archive museum and heritage sector has largely remained intact Despite the euphoria around the transformation of heritage in the beginnings of post apartheid South Africa it can be argued that the transformation of heritage institutions has been superficial and cosmetic with the ideological foundation of the colonial archive and museum as well as Eurocentric modalities of heritage education remaining solid largely unmoved and under continuing challenge This is the thrust of this book which reflects on the transformation of archives and museum and heritage education in South Africa and argues for meaningful transformation of the sector through a decolonisation from its Eurocentric mooring

Virginia Woolf and the World of Books Nicola Wilson,Claire

Battershill,2018-09-27 A celebration of the centenary of the founding of Leonard and Virginia Woolf s Hogarth Press The Archive Project Niamh Moore,Andrea Salter,Liz Stanley,Maria Tamboukou,2016-07-28 Recent scholarship on archival research has raised questions concerning the character and impact of the archive on how the traces of the past are researched the use and analysis of different kinds of archived data methodological approaches to the practicalities involved and what kind of theory is drawn on and contributed to by such research The Archive Project Archival Research in the Social Sciences builds on these questions exploring key methodological ideas and debates and engaging in detail with a wide range of archival projects and practices in order to put to use important theoretical ideas that shed light on the methods involved Offering an overview of the current state of the field and written by four authors with extensive experience in conducting research in and creating archives around the world it demonstrates the different ways in which archival methodology practice and theory can be employed It also shows how the ideas and approaches detailed in the book can be put into practice by other researchers working on different kinds of archives and collections The volume engages with crucial questions including What is an archive and how does it come into existence Why do archival research and how is it done How can sense be made of the scale and scope of collections and archives What are the best ways to analyse the traces of the past that remain What are helpful criteria for evaluating the knowledge claims produced by archival research What is the importance of community archives How has the digital turn changed the way in which archival research is carried out What role is played by the questions that researchers bring into an archive How do we deal with unexpected encounters in the archive A rigorous and accessible examination of the methods and choices that shape research on the ground and the ways in which theory practice and methodology inform one another this book will appeal to scholars across the social sciences and humanities with interests in archival and documentary research
