THE CORE OF THE EARTH

The Earth's core is the innermost part of the planet, located at the center. It is composed of two main layers: the inner core and the outer core. The inner core is a solid sphere of iron and nickel, while the outer core is a liquid layer of the same materials. The core is responsible for generating the Earth's magnetic field through a process called the geodynamo. The temperature at the center of the Earth is estimated to be over 5,000 degrees Celsius.
