Mothers Bereaved by Stillbirth, Neonatal Death or Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Frances M. Boyle, 2018-10-26 First published in 1997 this volume studied families bereaved by perinatal or infant death including factors both preceding and following the experience and its effect on areas such as marriage mental health and future conception based on interviews with 194 women living in south eastern Queensland Australia Tracing the natural history of the first thirty months of their loss all mothers completed semi structured interviews and standardized questionnaires at two eight fifteen and thirty months following the baby's death The study aims to explain and explore these effects and to suggest some potential recommendations for the care and support of women who experience stillbirth neonatal death or SIDS Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Dawne Gurbutt, Peter Cattee, 2018-12-14 finding my baby that day shattered my life nothing would ever be the same way again This insightful guide is based on real life accounts from mothers who have experienced Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Focusing on grief motherhood and maternal identity the book is an intriguing read often upsetting yet desperately compelling The stories and poignant memories bring the subject to life Health and social care professionals will find a wealth of emotional and practical insights to improve professional practice as will psychiatrists psychologists counsellors and therapists This book has been written primarily to enable others to reflect on some of the stories which circulate around SIDS They are not always easy stories to write or easy stories to read but they are stories that need to be told and heard so that we can increase understanding of SIDS Dawne J Gurbutt in the Preface Parent Grief Paul C. Rosenblatt, 2016-02-04 Explores what couple and individual stories say and do not say about the child's dying and death and about parent grief The author uses narratives as his tool for the introduction and exploration of the many facets of parental grief Sudden Infant Death Syndrome, Hearing Before the Subcommittee on Public Health and Environment ..., 93-1, on H.R. 9585 (and All Identical Bills) ..., H.J. Res. 8 (and All Identical Joint Resolutions) ..., August 2, 1973 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, 1974 Coping with the Death of a Child Darin D. Schiffman, 2019-06-19 Coping with the Death of a Child shows clinicians how to integrate various therapeutic modalities and clinical approaches to grief therapy into one comprehensive model linked to positive change This integrated model shows mental health professionals how to offer practical and emotional support to the bereaved using descriptions of treatments care protocols and guidelines Through this approach practitioners can foster interpersonal support and growth among families even when grieving styles and timing differ between individuals Clinicians and the families they treat will come away from the book with tools for recognizing distorted and pathogenic exchanges between family members for valuing the emotional elements of their individual experiences and for shifting toward solution focused activities Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Act Extension, 1978 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Human Resources. Subcommittee on Child and Human Development, 1979 Reports on the Research Planning Workshops on the Sudden Infant Death Syndrome, 1972 An Examination of Parent Coping in Survivors of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Sharon Price Aadalén, 1983 When a Baby Dies of SIDS Karen Martin, 2017-08-15 The cause of the number one killer of apparently healthy infants between the ages of one week and one year Sudden Infant Death Syndrome SIDS continues to defy science This cruel mystery intensifies an already painful experience for bereaved parents who frequently blame themselves for their baby's death This book explores how parents grieve the meanings and casual explanations they attribute to a SIDS death the effects of their grief on family relationships and the strategies they use to cope and carry on Karen Martin's grounded theory study describes in detail the experiences of mothers and fathers whose babies died of SIDS ranging from less than one to over twenty five years after the baby's death Her work makes an important contribution to health fields and to the social science of medicine and is a critical resource for family doctors public health nurses counsellors ministers and all those working with grieving parents Children Mourning, Mourning Children Kenneth J. Doka, 2014-01-21 Based on the Hospice Foundation of America's second annual teleconference this book explores three basic themes in children's grief Firstly it maintains that children are always developing therefore their understanding of death and their reactions to illness and loss are also multifaceted and constantly undergoing change Secondly children grieve in ways that are both different from and similar to adults While they may need different therapeutic approaches from their elders each loss is different and the grief experience will be affected by many of the same factors that affect adults Thirdly it holds that they need significant support as they grieve Talking to children about loss and illness is too important to wait until a crisis rather it is essential to provide opportunities to discuss loss in times that are not so Emotionally Laden This Book Aims To Demonstrate That Open Communication between parents and children will lead to skills and understanding that are essential to the child for coping with loss and reaffirming that death is part of the process of living Aspects of Grief (Psychology Revivals) Jane Littlewood, 2014-07-11 How do bereaved people come to terms with their loss What factors are important in successful coping The death of a loved one is one of the most painful experiences that we have to encounter If the loved one is a child or partner the experience can be especially devastating How do we cope Do our families provide sufficient support Would professional help be better In this book originally published in 1992 the author provides an in depth study of the many aspects of bereavement and the grieving process With ample support from personal accounts of bereaved people she examines the experience of bereavement what can go wrong the importance of social networks both family and professional and looks at how society's attitudes to death and dying can affect our ability to cope There are specific chapters on the death of children in childhood adolescence and adult life and on the death of a partner The result is a book that will be of importance to all those who have regular contact with the dying and bereaved
