Auer, David Guralnick, Istvan Simonics, 2017-12-26 This book gathers the Proceedings of the 20th International Conference on Interactive Collaborative Learning ICL2017 held in Budapest Hungary on 27-29 September 2017. The authors are currently witnessing a significant transformation in the development of education. The impact of globalisation on all areas of human life, the exponential acceleration of technological developments and global markets, and the need for flexibility and agility are essential and challenging elements of this process that have to be tackled in general but especially in engineering education. To face these current real-world challenges, higher education has to find innovative ways to quickly respond to them. Since its inception in 1998, this conference has been devoted to new approaches in learning with a focus on collaborative learning. Today, the ICL conferences offer a forum for exchange concerning relevant trends and research results and for sharing practical experience gained while developing and testing elements of new technologies and pedagogies in the learning context.

Research Anthology on Developing Critical Thinking Skills in Students Management Association, Information Resources, 2020-10-02. Learning strategies for critical thinking are a vital part of today's curriculum as students have few additional opportunities to learn these skills outside of school environments. Therefore, it is essential that educators be given practical strategies for improving their critical thinking skills as well as methods to effectively provide critical thinking skills to their students. The Research Anthology on Developing Critical Thinking Skills in Students is a vital reference source that helps to shift and advance the debate on how critical thinking should be taught and offers insights into the significance of critical thinking and its effective integration as a cornerstone of the educational system. Highlighting a range of topics such as discourse analysis, skill assessment and measurement, and critical analysis techniques, this multi-volume book is ideally designed for teachers, instructors, instructional designers, curriculum developers, education professionals, administrators, policymakers, researchers, and academicians.

Trends and Developments for the Future of Language Education in Higher Education Xiang, Catherine Hua, 2021-06-25. Language education tends to require more face-to-face interaction and longer hours of both teaching and learning. The challenges of ensuring the future and development of the discipline, especially after a time of crisis, is equally unprecedented. A comprehensive overview of the global picture of best practices as well as research in recent times are needed in the field of language education, particularly in higher education settings. The changing nature of language education in terms of its policy, curriculum design, methodology, and innovation is an essential discussion to advance the field. It is critical to explore how a more collaborative, global, and interdisciplinary mindset, as well as technologically driven approaches, have emerged through recent years and how it will continue to shape the future development in the field. Trends and Developments for the Future of Language Education in Higher Education captures the current trends and ongoing development within language education through a global picture of the best practices as well as the latest research on language education in higher education settings. The chapters cover changes in policy, curriculum design, methodology, and innovation in the modern language education landscape. While focusing on the current situation of language education and the changes that it has been undergoing this book also provides information on future development and the overall outlook of language education This book is ideal for teachers instructional designers curricula developers inservice and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners researchers academicians and students looking for an overview of the current position of language education in higher education Tests that Second Language Teachers Make and Use Greta

Gorsuch,2019-10-24 Classroom tests are an everyday feature of second and foreign language classrooms worldwide Teachers spend a lot of time and energy making and using tests and learners spend of lot of time and energy taking them Nonetheless such assessments are under studied as they are considered routine This volume illuminates this little researched area Featuring fifteen classroom language tests made and used by Chinese English French German Italian Japanese Russian and Spanish teachers the book includes parallel teacher commentary and testing content chapters that transparently probe the teachers processes of making and using their tests Rather than view teachers tests as poor shadows of what professional test writers do this work identifies the reasoning behind teachers tests In addition focused testing content chapters take examples directly from the actual tests and the accompanying teacher commentary This book is an accessible applied resource for second and foreign language teachers language program administrators working with teachers students in teacher preparation and enrichment programs and scholars in language teaching learning and testing Overcoming the
