Commission for the Study of the Adolescent Period, 1913 Religious Thinking from Childhood to Adolescence Ronald Goldman, 2022-02-14 First published in 1964 Religious Thinking from Childhood to Adolescence describes the capacities of pupils of varying ages abilities and backgrounds to understand religious truths How concepts of the Bible of God of Jesus of Prayer and of the Church developed from the early years is seen within the psychological context of maturing thought and the implications for religious education which are provocative and far reaching are explored Teachers clergy and parents will find this book a challenge to reconsider not only how the growing child views what he is taught but also the reasons why he frequently misunderstands religious teaching By presenting a systematic account of religious thinking from 6 to 17 years Dr Goldman adds a new dimension to our insights into child development International Handbook of the Religious, Moral and Spiritual Dimensions in Education Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Kathleen Engebretson, Robert Jackson, Andrew McGrady, 2007-06-04 Traditionally spirituality has resided and been contained within religious frameworks but while the links between the two areas are still acknowledged by many in the contemporary world spirituality is perceived by some as an aspect of human life that is distinct from religion Consequently many are searching for meaning within and without religious traditions today and seeking answers to ethical and moral questions that have been generated by the knowledge and technological explosion One outcome is the renewed interest in the religious spiritual and moral dimensions of education throughout the life cycle This International Handbook presents the research and professional practice of scholars who are daily engaged in the consideration of these dimensions in education The result is a collection of essays which reflects the discipline in all of its internationality as it as today Embedded within the chapters is also an agenda for the future where the religious moral and spiritual dimensions in education are proposed as an exciting and challenging way forward for educators at all levels in society As well it offers a vision for the emergence of a peaceful and just world Effects of Alevi-Sunni Marriages on Children's Religious Education and Family Relations Dr. Fatma Kurttekin, 2024-12-31 In this study the views of parents in Alevi Sunni marriages on the phenomenon of religion and their children s religious education are examined While there has been a growing body of research on the role and significance of religion in Alevi Sunni families limited attention has been paid to their attitudes towards their children s religious education particularly within the context of cross religious marriages

Based on this this study aims to fill this research gap by examining the perspectives of parents in Alevi Sunni marriages on their children s religious education and family dynamics using qualitative methods to provide in depth insights Ten families living in Sivas Ankara and Tunceli who were contacted through snowball and purposive sampling participated in the study in which qualitative research techniques were used The data used in the study were collected through questionnaires and semi structured interview forms The data was analzed with the content analysis It was determined that the Alevi Sunni difference did not have a significant impact on the participants religious attitudes or their children s religious education Almost all parents stated that they wanted their children to choose their own path by acquiring experience and knowledge about both religious interpretations understandings The study identified two primary areas of difficulty in Alevi Sunni families familial opposition to the participants decision to marry and conflicts surrounding the children s religious education These tensions may stem from societal pressures to conform to sectarian norms and the fear of losing religious identity through cross mixed intrafaith marriages Such pressures highlight the need for open dialogue and acceptance within families which many participants reported as key to resolving conflicts The provision of religious education in the family and the religious identity of children have been discussed in a separate study Therefore in this study participants views on compulsory religious education activities which are also a subject of debate in society were evaluated In parallel with the findings in the literature the participants opinions were grouped in three categories namely abolishing the courses making the courses optional and improving the courses along with preserving their compulsory status Following the interviews it was seen that the participants could have arguments mostly due to external factors and that their own religious understanding did not have any impact on family life religious attitudes or child rearing Attention was drawn to the need for freedom from prejudices acceptance of the other as he she is honesty trust and a communicative environment of dialogue in order to reduce the tension in these two areas
