Architectural Drawings Of The Eighteenth Century:

French Architectural and Ornament Drawings of the Eighteenth Century Mary L. Myers, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1991 Architectural drawings of the eighteenth century Daniel Rabreau, 2001 French Architectural and Ornament Drawings of the Eighteenth Century Mary L. Myers, 1991-01-01 French Architectural and Ornament Drawings of the Eighteenth Century Peter Fuhling, 1995 Rec French architectural and ornament drawings of the eighteenth century exhibition cat Metropolitan Museum of Art New York Mary L Myers New York 1991 Architectural Space in Eighteenth-Century Europe Meredith Martin, 2017-07-05 Architectural Space in Eighteenth Century Europe Constructing Identities and Interiors explores how a diverse pan European group of eighteenth century patrons among them bankers bishops bluestockings and courtesans used architectural space and decor to shape and express identity Eighteenth century European architects understood the client's instrumental role in giving form and meaning to architectural space In a treatise published in 1745 the French architect Germain Boffrand determined that a visitor could judge the character of the master for whom the house was built by the way in which it is planned decorated and distributed This interdisciplinary volume addresses two key interests of contemporary historians working in a range of disciplines one the broad question of identity formation most notably as it relates to ideas of gender class and ethnicity and two the role played by different spatial environments in the production not merely the reflection of identity at defining historical and cultural moments By combining contemporary critical analysis with a historically specific approach the book's contributors situate ideas of space and the self within the visual and material remains of interiors in eighteenth century Europe In doing so they offer compelling new insight not only into this historical period but also into our own Architectural drawings of the eighteenth century Daniel Rabreau, 2001 Tools of the Imagination Susan Piedmont-Palladino, 2007 Covering 250 years of design tools and technologies this book reveals how architects have produced the drawings models renderings and animations which show us the promise of what might be built Eighteenth-century French Drawings in New York Collections Perrin Stein, Mary Taverer Holmes, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999 In-Between: Architectural Drawing and Imaginative Knowledge in Islamic and Western Traditions Hooman Koliji, 2016-03-09 Contemporary technical architectural drawings in establishing a direct relationship between the drawing and its object tend to privilege the visible physical world at the expense of the invisible intangible ideas and concepts including that of the designer's imagination As a result drawing may become a utilitarian tool for documentation devoid of any meaningful value in terms of a kind of knowledge that could potentially link the visible and invisible This book argues that design drawings should be recognized as intermediaries mediating between the world of ideas and the world of things spanning the intangible and tangible The notion of the Imaginal as an intermediary between the invisible and visible is discussed showing how architectural drawings lend themselves to this notion by performing as creative agents contributing not only to the physical world but also penetrating the realm of concepts The book argues that this in between quality to architectural drawing is essential and that it is critical to perceive drawings as subtle bodies that hold physical attributes for example form proportion color highly evocative yet with no matter Focusing on Islamic geometric architectural drawings both historical and contemporary it draws on key philosophical and conceptual notions of imagination from the Islamic tradition as these relate to the creative act In doing so this book not only makes important insights into the design process and act of architectural representation but more broadly it adds to debates on philosophies of the imagination linking both Western and Islamic traditions

The Architectural Drawings of Magdalen College, Oxford Roger White, 2001 The architectural drawings of Magdalen College Oxford number some thousand items and make up a collection unparalleled at any other Oxford or Cambridge college They span three centuries from the early eighteenth century to the present day and contain many beautiful contributions from some of the great names of English architecture including Nicholas Hawksmoor James Wyatt John Nash Humphry Repton A W N Pugin and leading members of the Scott dynasty This is the first comprehensive catalogue of the collection lavishly illustrated in both colour and black and white It is prefaced by a detailed introductory essay by Roger White which sets the drawings in their context and provides an overview of the architectural evolution of this most famously picturesque of Oxford colleges The catalogue has been compiled with the assistance of Robin Darwall Smith Archivist Magdalen College

Eleven Exercises in the Art of Architectural Drawing Marco Frascari, 2011-03-08 This text offers 11 servings of slow food for the architectural imagination as opposed to the tasteless fast food that dominates many drawing tables or digital tablets

Collecting and the Princely Apartment Susan Bracken, 2020-05-15 Collecting is an obsession that goes back to the mists of history While spare time and spare cash seem an absolute necessity for this kind of activity every collector has his or her own approach to the formation of a collection The way in which one's treasures are displayed is another important instance in which one collector differs from another Glass cases niches trays cupboards or drawers have been adopted sometimes cards offer information on the subject its age and provenance an overall theme may have prompted the choice of the actual objects displayed together security reasons suggest one room over another While some collectors keep their treasures as close as possible in their bedroom throughout their living quarters or in a locked up closet nearby others may find that they want to be able to show off their collection without being disturbed by visitors in the rooms in which they actually spend most of their time Certainly our notions of private and public have changed considerably over the centuries and this has had an impact on questions of display and on the separation of particular parts of the house from other less accessible ones in particular in great houses that allow for the establishment of a museum The museum in such cases is quite separate from the living quarters for example situated on the ground floor off the main hall Not all displays were so defined there were many forms of exhibition just as there were many forms of collections The aims and ambitions of the collector are often discussed in terms of the display of their collections in part because we believe that analysing how a collection was shown and how it was received are key contributors to our understanding the role and purpose of the collection In lieu of any other documentation inventories sales catalogues and wills remain essential tools for the historian of collecting both in terms of what was owned and where it was housed This volume the second in a series of four presents ten articles that explore the connection between collections and their display in near or separate from the princely apartment within a time frame that runs from the sixteenth century to the early nineteenth and within a geographical area that includes courts on the Italian peninsula in England France The Netherlands and Germany

'Archaeologizing' Heritage? Michael Falser, Monica Juneja, 2013-05-31 This book investigates what has constituted notions of archaeological heritage from colonial times to the present It includes case studies of sites in South and Southeast Asia with a special focus on Angkor Cambodia The contributions the subjects of which range from architectural and intellectual history to historic preservation and restoration evaluate historical processes spanning two centuries which saw the imagination and production of dead archaeological ruins by often overlooking living local social and ritual forms of usage on site Case studies from computational modelling in archaeology discuss a comparable paradigmatic change from a mere simulation of supposedly dead archaeological building material to an increasing appreciation and scientific incorporation of the knowledge of local stakeholders This book seeks to bring these different approaches from the humanities and engineering sciences into a trans disciplinary discussion

Literary Anecdotes of the Eighteenth Century; John Nichols, 1815 Between Design and Making Andrew Tierney, Melanie Hayes, 2024-07-08 The seventeenth and eighteenth centuries represent a high point in the intersection between design and workmanship Skilled artisans creative and technically competent agents within their own field worked across a wide spectrum of practice that encompassed design supervision and execution and architects relied heavily on the experience they brought to the building site Despite this the bridge between design and tacit artisanal knowledge has been an underarticulated factor in the architectural achievement of the early modern era Building on the shift towards a collaborative and qualitative analysis of architectural production Between Design and Making re evaluates the social and professional fabric that binds design to making and reflects on the asymmetry that has emerged between architecture and craft Combining analysis of buildings archival material and eighteenth century writings the authors draw out the professional pedagogical and social links between architectural practice and workmanship They argue for a process oriented understanding of architectural production exploring the obscure centre ground of the creative process the scribbled sketched hatched and annotated beginnings of design on the page the discussions arguments and revisions in the forging of details and the grappling with stone wood and plaster on the building site that pushed projects from conception to completion

The Eighteenth Century in Italy Jacob Bean, Felice Stampfle, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1971 This is the third in a series of catalogues published jointly by The Metropolitan Museum of Art and The Pierpont Morgan Library to record exhibitions of drawings from the two institutions and from distinguished private collections The exhibitions and the books that illustrate them will ultimately document the finest traditions of European draughtsmanship from the Renaissance through the nineteenth century The Eighteenth Century in Italy which follows The Italian Renaissance and The Seventeenth Century in Italy contains reproductions of 300 drawings presented one to a page The book brings together chronologically brilliant works by G B Tiepolo Canaletto Francesco Guardi Giovanni Battista Piranesi and Domenico Tiepolo as well as drawings of fifty one other masters of the Settecento As in the preceding catalogues the photographic reproductions have been made directly from the drawings themselves in order to retain as much as possible the original tonalities Each of the 300 drawings has a commentary record of provenance and exhibitions technical description and bibliography And for the first time in the series many watermarks have been drawn and reproduced photographically Publisher s description

Architectural Drawings Dr. Frances Sands, 2021-08-05 A visual large format compilation of some of the finest architectural drawings from Sir John Soane s extensive collection Architectural Drawings casts light on the magnificent architectural drawings of neo classical architect teacher and collector Sir John Soane that are otherwise concealed in archives This book featuring artworks handpicked from what was probably the first comprehensive collection of architectural drawings in the world numbering 30 000 at the time of his death in 1837 celebrates a life spent procuring curiosities The collection encompasses the hands of Montano Thorpe Wren Talman Hawksmoor Vanbrugh Gibbs Kent Chambers Adam Cl risseau P cheux Wyatt Playfair Nash and of course Soane himself The quality of Soane s collection of drawings is scarcely paralleled elsewhere and on account of their fragility these items are infrequently seen by the public This innovative book draws together the most exquisite and important works from the collection for the first time showing the extraordinary connoisseurship of Sir John Soane while also exploring what drove Soane to amass such a collection and the provenance of his various significant acquisitions This book illustrates the story of Soane as a collector of architectural drawings but a story which is not normally available to the public and will provide a sumptuous opportunity to peruse some of the finest architectural drawings in existence The Cultural Aesthetics of Eighteenth-Century Porcelain Michael E. Yonan, 2017-07-05 During the eighteenth century porcelain held significant cultural and artistic importance This collection represents one of the first thorough scholarly attempts to explore the diversity of the medium's cultural meanings Among the volume's purposes is to expose porcelain objects to the analytical and theoretical rigor which is routinely applied to painting sculpture and architecture and thereby to reposition eighteenth century porcelain within new and more fruitful interpretative frameworks The authors also analyze the aesthetics of porcelain and its physical characteristics particularly the way its tactile and visual qualities reinforced and challenged the social processes within which porcelain objects were viewed collected and used The essays in this volume treat objects such as figurines representing British theatrical celebrities a boxwood and ebony figural porcelain stand works of architecture meant to approximate porcelain visually porcelain flowers adorning objects such as candelabra and perfume burners and tea sets decorated with unusual designs The geographical areas covered in the collection include China North Africa Spain France Italy Britain America Japan Austria and Holland The Grand Theater of the World Valeria De Lucca, Christine Jeanneret, 2019-09-03 Music and space in the early modern world shaped each other in profound ways and this is particularly apparent when considering Rome a city that defined itself as the grande teatro del mondo The aim of this book is to consider music and space as fundamental elements in the performance of identity in early modern Rome Rome's unique milieu as defined by spiritual and political power as well as diplomacy and competition between aristocratic families offers an exceptionally wide array of musical spaces and practices to be explored from an interdisciplinary perspective Space is viewed as the theatrical backdrop against which to study a variety of musical practices in their functions as signifiers of social and political meanings The editors wish to go beyond the traditional distinction between music theatrical spectacles namely opera and other musical genres and practices to offer a more comprehensive perspective on the ways in which not only dramatic but also instrumental music and even the sounds of voices and objects in the streets relied on the theatrical dimension of space for their effectiveness in conveying social and political messages While most chapters deal with musical performances some focus on specific aspects of the Roman soundscape or are even intentionally silent dealing with visual arts and architecture in their performative and theatrical aspects The latter offer a perspective that creates a visual counterpoint to the ways in which music and sound shaped space
