Perfecting Justice in Rawls, Habermas and Honneth Miriam Bankovsky, 2012-02-23 Brings a deconstructive perspective to theories of justice in the early and later work of Rawls Habermas and Honneth Deliberative Theory and

Deconstruction Gormley Steven Gormley, 2020-06-18 Our political climate is increasingly characterised by hostility towards constructed others Steven Gormley answers the question what does it mean to do justice to others He pursues this question by developing a critical but productive dialogue between deliberative theory and deconstruction Two key claims emerge from this First doing justice to the other demands that we maintain an ethos of interruption And secondly Such an ethos requires a democratic form of politics In developing this account Gormley places deliberative theory and deconstruction into critical conversation with the work of Mouffe Aristotle Rorty Laclau and different traditions of critical theory Feeling in Theory

Rei Terada, 2009-07-01 Because emotion is assumed to depend on subjectivity the death of the subject described in recent years by theorists such as Derrida de Man and Deleuze would also seem to mean the death of feeling This revolutionary work transforms the burgeoning interdisciplinary debate on emotion by suggesting instead a positive relation between the death of the subject and the very existence of emotion Reading the writings of Derrida and de Man theorists often seen as emotionally contradictory and cold Terada finds grounds for construing emotion as nonsubjective This project offers fresh interpretations of deconstruction s most important texts and of Continental and Anglo American philosophers from Descartes to Deleuze and Dennett At the same time it revitalizes poststructuralist theory by deploying its methodologies in a new field the philosophy of emotion to reach a startling conclusion if we really were subjects we would have no emotions at all Engaging debates in philosophy literary criticism psychology and cognitive science from a poststructuralist and deconstructive perspective Terada s work is essential for the renewal of critical thought in our day The Ways We Think Emma Williams, 2016-02-16 The

Ways We Think critiques predominant approaches to the development of thinking in education and seeks to offer a new account of thought informed by phenomenology post structuralism and the ordinary language philosophical traditions Presents an original account of thinking for education and explores how this alternative conception of thought might be translated into the classroom Explores connections between phenomenology post structuralism and ordinary language philosophical traditions Examines the relevance of language in accounts of how we think Investigates the philosophical accounts of Gilbert Ryle Martin Heidegger John Austin and Jacques Derrida Draws upon experience of own teaching practice as philosopher in residence Method in Metaphysics Andrew Beards, 2008-02-16 In the last few decades analytical philosophers have rediscovered an interest in the subject of metaphysics Surveying the contributions made by these philosophers Method in Metaphysics initiates a critical dialogue between analytical metaphysics and the philosophy of Bernard Lonergan It argues for a basic method in metaphysics a method that arises from a critically grounded epistemology and cognitional theory In addition it serves as a much needed overview and introduction to current trends in analytical metaphysics Andrew Beards shows how Lonergan s philosophy can help to clarify not only particular issues in current debates but also the larger question of a basic method He goes on to apply this method to topics at the forefront of discussions in contemporary philosophy topics such as universals tropes events causality and the metaphysics of the self and the social While the main focus of the study is on Lonergan and analytical philosophy Beards also introduces the philosophies of Whitehead Husserl and Derrida into the debate He brings Lonergan s critical realist philosophy into finely textured dialogue with a number of well known contemporary metaphysicians such as Dummet Putnam Lewis and Kripke

Dialectics and Deconstruction in Political Economy R. Albritton, 1999-06-08 Robert Albritton offers the most authoritative reassessment of Marxist political economy since Althusser Original reinterpretations of thinkers including Hegel Weber Althusser Derrida and Adorno cast new light on heated battles between Hegelian dialectics and deconstructivist criticism The book makes accessible the sometimes daunting thought associated with both dialectics and deconstruction drawing upon insights from philosophy sociology political science and critical theory Finding a non essentialist way of using the immense cognitive power of dialectics accepting a limited deconstruction but challenging further deconstructionist directions represents a major breakthrough for political economy

The Figure of Knowledge Sebastiaan Loosen, Rajesh Heynickx, Hilde Heynen, 2020-10-01 It is a major challenge to write the history of post WWII architectural theory without boiling it down to a few defining paradigms An impressive anthologising effort during the 1990s charted architectural theory mostly via the various theoretical frameworks employed such as critical theory critical regionalism deconstructivism and pragmatism Yet the intellectual contours of what constitutes architectural theory have been constantly in flux It is therefore paramount to ask what kind of knowledge has become important in the recent history of architectural theory and how the resulting figure of knowledge sets the conditions for the actual arguments made The contributions in this volume focus on institutional geographical rhetorical and other conditioning factors They thus screen the unspoken rules of engagement that postwar architectural theory ascribed to

Between Eternities Gregory Bruce Smith, 2008-05-13 Between Eternities reflects on the possibility of political philosophy as an ongoing architectonic activity that is necessarily linked to both the past and future Almost all contemporary work in political philosophy either studies the subject with an eye to past tradition_choosing a winner from that tradition and then deducing what follows from the posited premises in a thoroughly modern constructivist fashion_or else limits itself to drawing out what follows from already accepted premises and principles There is almost no effort to reflect upon the prerequisites for the tradition being an ongoing undertaking that can have a unique future Between Eternities attempts to set loose that thinking toward the future

Law and Sacrifice Johan Van der Walt, 2014-06-11 In the wake of apartheid Law and Sacrifice draws on the uniquely expansive protection of fundamental rights now entrenched in the South African Constitution to outline a new theory of law The South African Constitution not only protects the rights of people against abuses of power by the state but also against abuses of power by private legal subjects Drawing upon the work of contemporary thinkers such as Martin Heidegger Hannah Arendt George Bataille Jacques Derrida Emmanuel Levinas and Jean Luc Nancy the author elicits the radical democratic potential of this horizontal notion of rights Johan van der Walt argues that apartheid must be understood as more than a racist abuse of power and here he articulates its sacrificial logic It is in going beyond this logic he maintains that the truly democratic potential of the South African Constitution can be understood in a radical formal and substantive equality that offers the legal basis for rethinking a post apartheid future Combining a rigorous theoretical understanding with a subtle political engagement Law and Sacrifice is a dazzling interrogation of the limits and possibilities of democratic pluralism It will be of interest to political and legal theorists as well as to those who are concerned with South African law and politics

Selves, Bodies and the Grammar of Social Worlds Jodie Clark, 2016-07-13 This book is an invitation to researchers who are committed to social change to look for ideas about transformation in an unexpected place that is in the data generated from empirical research Informed by Critical Discourse Analysis and postmodern theory it proposes a method of locating through close grammatical analysis of everyday descriptions of the social world the desire for alternative transformative structures Drawing upon insightful analysis of conversational data collected over a period of 12 years from both marginalised and mainstream participants it reveals innovative ways of imagining social structure Clark proposes a view of the social world as in an embodied relationship with embodied selves

From Bakunin to Lacan Saul Newman, 2007-01-01 In its comparison of anarchist and poststructuralist thought From Bakunin to Lacan contends that the most pressing political problem we face today is the proliferation and intensification of power Saul Newman targets the tendency of radical political theories and movements to reaffirm power and authority in different guises in their very attempt to overcome it In his examination of thinkers such as Bakunin Lacan Stirner and Foucault Newman explores important epistemological ontological and political questions Is the essential human subject the point of departure from which power and authority can be opposed Or is the humanist subject itself a site of domination that must be unmasked As it deftly charts this debate's paths of emergence in political thought the book illustrates how the question of essential identities defines and re defines the limits and possibilities of radical politics today

Liberal Democracy as the End of History Christopher Hughes, 2012-02-20 Francis Fukuyama claims that liberal democracy is the end of history This book provides a theoretical re examination of this claim through postmodernist ideas The book argues that postmodern ideas provide a valuable critique to Fukuyama's thesis and poses the questions can we talk about a universal and teleological history a universal human nature or an autonomous individual It addresses whether postmodern theories concerning the movement of time what it means to be human and what it means to be an individual subject can be accommodated within a theory of a history that ends in liberal democracy The author argues that incorporating elements of postmodern thought into Fukuyama's theory makes it possible to produce a stronger and more compelling account of the theory that liberal democracy is the end of history The result of this is to underpin Fukuyama s theory with a more complex understanding of the movement of time the human and the individual and to show that postmodern concepts can paradoxically be used to strengthen Fukuyama s theory that the end of history is liberal democracy The book will be of interest to students and scholars of political theory postmodernism and the work of Francis Fukuyama A Materialism for the Masses Ward Blanton,2014-02-11 Nietzsche and Freud saw Christianity as metaphysical escapism with Nietzsche calling the religion a Platonism for the masses and faulting Paul the apostle for negating more immanent material modes of thought and political solidarity Integrating this debate with the philosophies of difference espoused by Gilles Deleuze Michel Foucault Jacques Derrida Jacques Lacan and Pier Paolo Pasolini Ward Blanton argues that genealogical interventions into the political economies of Western cultural memory do not go far enough in relation to the imagined founder of Christianity Blanton challenges the idea of Paulinism as a pop Platonic worldview or form of social control He unearths in Pauline legacies otherwise repressed resources for new materialist spiritualities and new forms of radical political solidarity liberating religion from inherited interpretive assumptions so philosophical thought can manifest in risky radical freedom Routledge International Handbook of Queer Death Studies Nina Lykke,Tara Mehrabi,Marietta Radomska,2025-10-15 This Handbook aims to provide a comprehensive international cartography of Queer Death Studies offering broad in depth insights into the field and its emergence through tentacular transdisciplinary networking Taking research and art making on death dying mourning and afterlife into new directions it explores the multiple effects of contemporary necropolitics and the proliferation of death worlds during the current period of Earth s history The Anthropocene or the Age of Man Informed by queer critical posthumanist decolonial and feminist approaches the Handbook presents a unique variety of both critical and affirmative reflections upon the world s intersecting necropowers and ethico political potentials for social and environmental change Contributors speculate on ways to reimagine life death relations as vibrant entanglements They also investigate modes of mourning differently resisting necropolitical regimes that deem human and non human individuals and populations to be disposable and non grievable when they differ too much from the normative modern subject Universal Man in terms of intersections of gender racialisation class sexuality embodiment embrainment geopolitical positioning or species A thought provoking read this Handbook is intended for broad global audiences of researchers artists teachers students death professionals health careworkers activists and NGOs interested in tools to rethink and reimagine death dying mourning and afterlife from intersections of queering decolonising posthumanising and feminist perspectives Cultural Studies Chris Barker,2011-12-12 Chris Barker is a trustworthy field guide for those new to cultural studies Ben Highmore University of Sussex Remarkable in the breadth of its coverage it is written with passion and insight It will be warmly welcomed by students interested in how theory can help us to think through the complexities of real world issues Stuart Allan Bournemouth University Has been for many years one of the best guides to and overviews of a broad range of the issues and

Songs of Experience Martin Jay, 2005-01-10 Martin Jay is one of the most influential intellectual historians in contemporary America and here he shows once again a willingness to tackle the big issues in the Western cultural tradition A remarkable history of ideas about the nature of human experience Lloyd Kramer author of Threshold of a New World A magisterial study of one of the most elusive contested and pervasively important concepts of the Western philosophical tradition Ranging from epistemology and aesthetics to the philosophy of history religion and politics Songs of Experience brilliantly traces the major lines of theory and debate Insightful rich and masterfully narrated Jay's book sings with that well tempered voice of erudition synthetic intelligence and generous grace that has become his enviable trademark Richard Shusterman author of Pragmatist Aesthetics This illuminating provocative volume consolidates Martin Jay's standing as our leading modern intellectual historian Ranging sure footedly from ancient to postmodern discourse Jay offers finely balanced readings of thinkers who have wrestled with the elusive concept of experience Because Jay respects and presents so clearly and sympathetically positions different from his own Songs of Experience gives readers the resources necessary to embrace or resist his own bold interpretations of philosophers from Kant and Burke through Dilthey and Dewey to Foucault and Rorty This book will prove as indispensable to intellectual historians as the idea of experience itself James T Kloppenberg author of The Virtues of Liberalism

Derrida's Secret Charles Barbour, 2017-05-18 The Snowden Affair Wikileaks the lone wolf terrorist Clinton's private email account the secret is arguably the central element of our contemporary political experience Now Charles Barbour looks at the basic ontological question what is a secret Organised as a reflection on Jacques Derrida's later writings on secrecy four chapters each look at a separate problematic society and the oath literature and testimony philosophy and deception and time and death Barbour shows that secrecy is not a negation of our relations with others but a necessary condition of those relations We can only reveal ourselves to one another and indeed to anything other insofar as we conceal as well

Ghostly Demarcations Michael Sprinker, 2020-05-05 With the publication of Specters of Marx in 1993 Jacques Derrida redeemed a longstanding pledge to confront Marx's texts directly and in detail His characteristically bravura presentation provided a provocative re-reading of the classics in the Western tradition and posed a series of challenges to Marxism In a timely intervention in one of today's most vital theoretical debates the contributors to Ghostly Demarcations respond to the distinctive program projected by Specters of Marx The volume features sympathetic meditations on the relationship between Marxism and deconstruction by Fredric Jameson Werner Hamacher Antonio Negri Warren Montag and Rastko Moćnik brief polemical reviews by Terry Eagleton and Pierre Macherey and sustained political critiques by Tom Lewis and Aijaz Ahmad The volume concludes with Derrida's reply to his critics in which he sharpens his views about the vexed relationship between Marxism and deconstruction
