

The illustration shows a young girl with blonde hair sleeping peacefully in a bed with a pink pillow and white blanket. Above her head, a trail of bubbles leads to a dream sequence. In the dream, a large yellow full moon is in a dark blue night sky filled with stars. A pink fairy with large wings and a blue dress is riding a pink flamingo. Several other pink birds are flying around them.

The Nightly Act of Dreaming Ryan Curtis Friesen,2019-05-28 The search for a shared practice of storytelling around which a popular study of cognitive narratology might form need look no further than our nightly experience of dreams Dreams and memories are inseparable complicating and building upon one another reminding us that knowledge of ourselves based on our memories relies upon fictionalized narratives we create for ourselves Psychologists refer to confabulation the creation of false or distorted memories about oneself and the world we inhabit albeit without any conscious intention to deceive This process and narrative inherent in the dreamlife of all people is at odds with the daily menu of cultural myths and politicized fictions fed to the Western world through print and social media and for which there is constant divisiveness and disagreement Cognitive Narratology and the Shared Identity of Myth uses insights gained from the scientific study of dreaming to explain how the shared experience of dreamlife can work in service to the common good Primary texts and literary works chosen for their influence on contemporary thinking provide a rationale and historical background From Artemidorus a professional diviner and Aristotle to the Church fathers Tertullian St Augustine Gregory of Nyssa Sinesius of Cyrene to The Wanderer Old English poem and Chaucers Book of the Duchess to Coleridges writings and R L Stevensons A Chapter on Dreams and to twentieth century dream theory and dream use in film The purpose is to enable readers through subjective self analysis to recognize what they share with their fellow dreamers shared identity in formation of a shared act of dreaming creation is a universal across centuries and throughout Western culture albeit currently misrepresented and rarely acted upon
