Freedom and Limit P. Fiddes,1991-11-25 If imagination is understood to be a human response to the self revelation of God what practical results might this have for the work both of literary criticism and theology Both theologians and creative writers find human existence to be characterised by basic tension between freedom and limit which accounts for a sense of fallenness and which a dialogue between literature and Christian doctrine can do much to illuminate Such a dialogue is worked out in studies of the poetry of William Blake and Gerard Manley Hopkins and the novels of D H Lawrence Iris Murdoch and William Golding
