Alistair Macleod:

Alistair MacLeod Irene Guilford, 2001 Including personal interviews background information and criticism this collection of essays examines renowned Canadian author Alistair MacLeod's life and the writing of his novel No Great Mischief Various literary critics explore themes present in his work such as memory versus myth and the blending of history One of the chief contemporary fiction writers MacLeod has won such honors as the Dartmouth Book Award for Fiction the Raddall Award for Fiction and the Trillium Award for Fiction Island Alistair MacLeod, 2010-12-03 Alistair MacLeod has been hailed internationally as a master of the short story Now MacLeod's collected stories including two never before published are gathered together for the first time in Island These sixteen superbly crafted stories most of them firmly based in Cape Breton even if its people stray elsewhere depict men and women living out their lives against the haunting landscape that surrounds them Focusing on the complexities and abiding mysteries at the heart of human relationships MacLeod maps the close bonds and impassable chasms that lie between man and woman parent and child and invokes memory and myth to celebrate the continuity of the generations even in the midst of unrelenting change Eloquent humane powerful and told in a voice at once elegiac and life affirming the stories in this astonishing collection seize us from the outset and remain with us long after the final page No Great Mischief Alistair MacLeod, 2012-01-11 Alexander MacDonald guides us through his family's mythic past as he recollects the heroic stories of his people loggers miners drinkers adventurers men forever in exile forever linked to their clan There is the legendary patriarch who left the Scottish Highlands in 1779 and resettled in the land of trees where his descendants became a separate Nova Scotia clan There is the team of brothers and cousins expert miners in demand around the world for their dangerous skills And there is Alexander and his twin sister who have left Cape Breton and prospered yet are haunted by the past Elegiac hypnotic by turns joyful and sad No Great Mischief is a spellbinding story of family loyalty exile and of the blood ties that bind us generations later to the land from which our ancestors came Setting in the East David Craig Creelman, 2003 The Maritime region is thus torn between its memory of an earlier more prosperous and traditional social order and its present experience as a less fortunate modern industrial society These tensions are embedded in the Maritime character and have affected not only the lives of its people but the imaginations and texts of its writers BOOK JACKET Tropes and Territories Marta Dvorak, W.H. New, 2007-10-26 Tropes and Territories demonstrates how current debates in postcolonial criticism bear on the reading writing and status of short fiction These debates which hinge on competing definitions of trope motif vs rhetorical turn and territory political or aesthetic lead to studies of space place influence and writing and reading practices across cultural divides The essays also explore the character of diasporic writing the cultural significance of oral tale telling and interconnections between socio political issues and strategies of style Island Alistair MacLeod, 2000 This is Our Writing T. F. Rigelhof, 2000 Punctuate his title as you like but T F Rigelhof considers This is Our Writing a declaration an enquiry and an exclamation As a writer of half a dozen a reviewer of dozens upon dozens and as a reader of a multitude more books Terry Rigelhof knows much about writing in Canada In these eleven essays he asks what is best in what has been written by Canadians in the twentieth century He examines selected works of some writers whose accomplishments need serious revaluation What are the real achievements of Robertson Davies Carole Corbeil Mavis Gallant Mordecai Richler Hugh Hood Leonard Cohen and George Grant Rigelhof comes up with a list that will surprise some and dismay others This is a book for readers who have always known in their heart of hearts that Robertson Davies was an egregious windbag and that underneath the inspired silliness of their carefully contrived and managed public images Mordecai Richler and Leonard Cohen have produced three of the most intelligent novels we have In a sequence of interlocking personal essays Rigelhof explores living a writerly life in Canada at the end of the twentieth century The text is fortified by a dozen photographs all but one previously unpublished by Gabor Szilasi one of Canada's greatest active documentary photographers

Island Alistair MacLeod, 2001 These slow beautiful stories resolute and resonant are small masterpieces apparently simple but actually crafted with enormous skill and precision Set against the unforgiving landscape of Cape Breton Nova Scotia they are all concerned with the complexities and mysteries of the human heart the unbreakable bonds and unbridgeable chasms between man and woman parent and child Steeped in memory and myth and washed in the brine and blood of the long battle with the land and the sea these stories celebrate a passionate engagement with the natural world and a continuity of the generations in the face of transition in the face of love and loss As John McGahern says in his eloquent foreword the work has a largeness of feeling of intellect of vision a great openness and generosity even an old fashioned courtliness The stories stand securely outside of fashion while reflecting deep change Bringing together all Alistair MacLeod's short fiction and including two previously uncollected stories Island represents the great achievement of one of the world's finest storytellers

Such Meticulous Brightness, 1988 Being/s in Transit, 2021-11-22 This fifth volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the topics of travelling migration and dislocation All migrants are travellers but not all travellers are migrants Migration and the figure of the migrant have become key concepts in recent post colonial studies However migration is not such a new or exceptional phenomenon From the eighteenth century onward there have been migrations from Europe to what are now called post colonial countries and this prepared the ground for movement back to the old but also to the new centres of Europe and elsewhere Travel and travel experience on the other hand have been part of the cultural codes not only of the West and not only of imperialism The essays in this volume look at both kinds of movement at their intersections and at their dislocating effects They cover a wide range of topics from early seventeenth century travel reports through nineteenth century women's travel writing to such contemporary writers as Michael Ondaatje and Janette Turner Hospital

Land Deep in Time Weronika Suchacka, Hartmut Lutz, 2023-10-09 This volume brings together a group of most highly acclaimed Canadian writers and distinguished international experts on Canadian literature to discuss what potential Janice Kulyk Keefer's concept of historiographic ethnofiction has for ethnic writing in Canada The collection builds upon Kulyk Keefer's idea but also moves beyond it by discussing such realms of the concept as its ethics and aesthetics multiple and multilayered sites generic intersections and diasporic contexts Thus focusing on Canadian historiographic ethnofiction Land Deep in Time is the first study to define and explore a type of writing which maintains a marked presence in Canadian literature but has not yet been recognized as a separately identifiable genre

Les Belles Étrangères Jane Koustas, 2008-03-10 While translation history in Canada is well documented the history of the translation of Canadian fiction outside the nation remains obscure Les Belles étrangères examines the translation of Canadian English language fiction in France This book considers the history of this practice the reasons for the move away from Quebec translators as well as the process and perils involved in this detour Within a theoretical framework and drawing on primary sources this study considers the historical theoretical and concrete aspects of this practice through the study of the translations of authors such as Robertson Davies Carol Shields Margaret Atwood Michael Ondaatje Ann Marie MacDonald and Alistair MacLeod The book also includes a comprehensive bibliography of English language novels poetry and plays published and translated in France over the past 240 years

Remembrance Alistair MacLeod, 2013-11-05 From the internationally celebrated author of No Great Mischief comes a moving short story of three generations of men from a single family whose lives are forever altered by the long shadow of war In the early morning hours of November 11 David MacDonald a veteran of the Second World War stands outside his Cape Breton home preparing to attend what will likely be his last Remembrance Day parade As he waits for the arrival of his son and grandson he remembers his decision to go to war in desperation to support his young family He remembers the horrors of life at the frontlines in Ortona Italy and then what happened in Holland when the Canadians arrived as liberators He remembers how the war devastated his own family but gave him other reasons to live As the story unfolds other generations enter the scene What emerges is an elegant life affirming meditation on the bond between fathers and sons how the present always comes out of the past and how even in the midst of tragedy and misfortune there exists the possibility for salvation His first new short story in over a decade Remembrance is a powerful reminder of why Alistair MacLeod is one of the most beloved storytellers of our time

Memory and Identity in Canadian Fiction Sharon Selby, 2018-09-26 Covering the works of Canadian authors Alistair MacLeod Michael Ondaatje Jane Urquhart Margaret Atwood and Drew Hayden Taylor the author explores how the themes of memory storytelling and identity develop in their fiction For the narrative voices in these works the past is embedded in the present and a wider cultural history is written over with personal significance The act of storytelling shapes the characters' lives letting them rewrite the past and be haunted by it Storytelling becomes an existential act of everyday connection among ordinary people and daily often unrecognized acts of heroism

Scottish Exodus James Hunter, 2011-03-25 Millions of Scots have left their homeland during the last 400 years Until now they have been written about in general terms Scottish Exodus breaks new ground by taking particular emigrants drawn from the once powerful

Clan MacLeod and discovering what happened to them and their families These people became among other things French aristocrats Polish resistance fighters Texan ranchers New Zealand shepherds Australian goldminers Aboriginal and African American activists Canadian mounted policemen and Confederate rebels One nineteenth century MacLeod even went so far as to swap his Gaelic for Arabic and his Christianity for Islam before settling down comfortably in Cairo This gripping account of Scotland's worldwide diaspora is based on unpublished documents letters and family histories It is also based on the author's travels in the company of today's MacLeods some of them still in Scotland others further afield Scottish Exodus is a tale of disastrous voyages famine and dispossession the hazards of pioneering on faraway frontiers But it is also the moving story of how people separated from Scotland by hundreds of years and thousands of miles continue to identify with the small country where their journeyings began Lives of the Novelists John Sutherland, 2012-03-27 No previous author has attempted a book such as this a complete history of novels written in the English language from the genre's seventeenth century origins to the present day In the spirit of Dr Johnson's Lives of the Poets acclaimed critic and scholar John Sutherland selects 294 writers whose works illustrate the best of every kind of fiction from gothic penny dreadful and pornography to fantasy romance and high literature Each author was chosen Professor Sutherland explains because his or her books are well worth reading and are likely to remain so for at least another century Sutherland presents these authors in chronological order in each case deftly combining a lively and informative biographical sketch with an opinionated assessment of the writer's work Taken together these novelists provide both a history of the novel and a guide to its rich variety Always entertaining and sometimes shocking Sutherland considers writers as diverse as Daniel Defoe Henry James James Joyce Edgar Allan Poe Virginia Woolf Michael Crichton Jeffrey Archer and Jacqueline Susann Written for all lovers of fiction Lives of the Novelists succeeds both as introduction and re introduction as Sutherland presents favorite and familiar novelists in new ways and transforms the less favored and less familiar through his relentlessly fascinating readings

Selected Stories from the Southern Review Lewis P. Simpson, Donald E. Stanford, James Olney, Jo Gullledge, 1988-03-01 In the twenty years of its existence the second series of the Southern Review continued the editorial orientation of the first series by presenting a range of regional and cosmopolitan works of fiction This anthology is a collection of twenty five short stories from the nearly three hundred published in the journal between 1965 and 1985 The editors have sought to illustrate the diversity of subject matter and the tremendous range of tone voice and technique that have characterized short fiction in the Southern Review Although many of the contributors to Selected Stories from the Southern Review are southern the collection also includes national and international new and established writers The focus of the anthology is on literary merit rather than regional considerations Abroad by Nadine Gordimer which depicts the experiences of a white South African visiting his son in Zimbabwe is in the collection along with John William Corrington's Pleadings the powerful account of an incident in the life of a south Louisiana attorney Mary Lavin's The Face of Hate addresses life amidst the conflict in Northern Ireland and Elizabeth Spencer's The Cousins explores the entanglements and coming of age of five young adults on a European vacation Joyce Carol Oates's D Tente interweaves the personal and political aspects of a Soviet American literary conference and Robb Forman Dew follows the adventures of two naive Natchez girls in New Orleans in Two Girls Wearing Perfume in the Summer From Louis D Rubin's tentative young newspaperman in The St Anthony Chorale to William Mills's sure footed X ray technician in Sweet Tickfaw Run Softly Till I End My Song from Rita Dove's compelling Secondhand Man to John E Wildeman's Satirical Surfiction these are characters and stories from the new series of the Southern Review which offer resounding proof that the brilliant publishing tradition originating with Cleanth Brooks and Robert Penn Warren has been preserved by a magazine that still maintains its national literary reputation Portraits of Canadian Writers Bruce Meyer, 2016-11-08 Margaret Atwood Leonard Cohen Ray Robertson Bronwen Wallace these are just a few authors whose unforgettable words have made them icons of Canadian literary expression In Portraits of Canadian Writers Bruce Meyer presents his own personal experience of these and many more seminal Canadian authors sharing their portraits alongside amusing anecdotes that reveal personality creativity and humour Meyer's snapshots both visual and textual reveal far more than just physical appearance He captures tantalizing glimpses into the creative lives of writers from contextual information of place and time to more intangible details that reveal persona personality and sources of imaginative inspiration Through these portraits Meyer has amassed a visual archive of CanLit that illustrates and celebrates an unparalleled generation of Canadian authorship

Scottish Literature and Postcolonial Literature Michael Gardiner, 2011-06-13 The first full length study of Scottish literature using a post devolutionary understanding of postcolonial studies Arrival Nick Mount, 2017-09-02 The most important book to be written in more than 40 years about the rise of Canadian literature Arrival The Story of CanLit brims and crackles in equal measure with information and energy Winnipeg Free Press A Globe and Mail Top 100 Book National Post 99 Best Books of the Year In the mid twentieth century Canadian literature transformed from a largely ignored trickle of books into an enormous cultural phenomenon that produced Margaret Atwood Alice Munro Michael Ondaatje Mordecai Richler and so many others In Arrival acclaimed writer and critic Nick Mount answers the question What caused the CanLit Boom Written with wit and panache Arrival tells the story of Canada's literary awakening Interwoven with Mount's vivid tale are enlightening mini biographies of the people who made it happen from superstars Leonard Cohen and Marie Claire Blais to lesser known lights like the troubled and impassioned Harold Sonny Ladoo The full range of Canada's literary boom is here the underground exploits of the blew ointment and Tish gangs revolutionary critical forays by highbrow academics the blunt force trauma of our plain spoken backwoods poetry and the urgent political writing that erupted from the turmoil in Quebec Originally published to coincide with the 150th anniversary of Canadian Confederation Arrival is a dazzling variegated and inspired piece of writing that helps explain how we got from there to here
