Burnham Norton Friary After the Dissolution Sally Francis, 2023 The story of the fate of a small Norfolk priory after its dissolution by Henry VIII in 1538 shows how both its medieval and modern history can be recovered by archival and physical research Burnham Norton Friary one of the first Carmelite houses founded in England 1242-47 was dissolved in 1538 Its remains comprise the restored gatehouse west gable of the church rebuilt as a barn Friary Cottage and an open space which was once the precinct The post Dissolution history of monastic sites has generally not been well studied At Norton nothing was known of its owners between 1561 and 1914 what relationships if any they had or how they used the site The fate of the Friary buildings was poorly understood and details of the gatehouse restoration unknown In this pioneering study Sally Francis uses both modern archival research and a survey of local houses to recover the history and something of the architecture of the friary Between 1538 and 1848 the church became a barn and the rest of the site was used as a farmstead In 1848 its owner restored the gatehouse 1848-9 saving it from dereliction but cleared away the farm buildings to turn the site into an Antiquarian relic Studying the post Dissolution history of the site has been a valuable exercise It not only allows that phase of the site to be understood it also illuminates aspects of the site's earlier history which given the loss of the Friary's own archives could not otherwise be studied Carrstone in Norfolk Buildings John R. L. Allen, 2004 The purpose of this monograph is to examine primarily from a geological perspective the distribution and use of indigenous construction materials in the hamlets villages and towns of north and west Norfolk part of the fourth largest county in England without restriction as to period or kind of building
