Figured and Disfigured in the English-Speaking World Françoise Besson,2020-06-01 The essays in this book written by poets novelists mountain climbers and academics from all over the world evoke the representation of mountains in the English speaking world as artists writers philosophers or mountain climbers have represented them from the sixteenth to the twenty first centuries From the Alps to the Pyrenees from Mount Fuji to Mount Shasta from the Himalayas to the Scottish Highlands from Ikere in Nigeria to Devil s Tower in the United States from Uluru in Australia to the most northern mountain of the Arctic the shapes of the world speak the same language and tell the world its own story This interdisciplinary book weaving together mountaineering literature philosophy painting cinema ecology history palaeontology geography geopolitics toponymy law religion and myth invites people to an innovative reading of mountains it reveals the close relationship existing between the shapes of the world and all forms of writing and at the same time it shows how the representations of the imagination may be instrumental in protecting the natural world The story told by the landscape inscribes a broken line in the shapes of the world tearing the landscape like a fragile page whenever historical and political events wars mining or deforestation leave scars in the landscape but writers and artists representations of mountains constitute a path to awareness as they are not only a painting of beauty but an image of our link to nature and a warning as well For centuries the image of the mountain has conveyed a symbolism telling the story of human thought and this book shows to what extent literature and art play an essential part in our awareness of nature

Protection of the Three Poles Falk

Huettmann,2012-03-19 The Arctic the Antarctic and the Hindu Kush Himalayas form a trio of terrains sometimes called the three poles Mainly composed of rock snow and ice these precious regions which are home to many unique species such as the polar bear the emperor penguin and the snow leopard contain the primary water resource of this planet and directly shape our climate This book presents a first ever global assessment and progressive review of the three poles and demonstrates the urgent need for their protection Sins of the past have irrevocably harmed and threatened many of the unique qualities of these regions and the future looks bleak with the global population forecast to reach 9 billion by 2060 and with climate change on the rise Presented here is a wide reaching and coherent overview of the three poles biodiversity habitats and ongoing destruction Failed protection and social targets set by the United Nations and other bodies are exposed while economic growth unconstrained or inappropriate development and urban sprawl are promoted unabated Polar regions play a major role in the global agenda as they are rich in oil and other resources marking them for contamination overfishing and further degradation Tourism in the Antarctic has benefited from enlightened self regulation but there are signs that this is changing too The chapters of this book are written by experts in their fields and their evidence leaves no doubt that we already live beyond our carrying capacity on a finite but decaying space A global protection role model and several outlook scenarios are proposed to help set in motion polar protection priorities that are actually valid Humanity has demonstrated through international treaties such as the Antarctic Treaty and the Madrid Protocol that we can put the interests of the planet as a whole first This must become the norm not the exception
