Broken Landscape Hiv And Aids In Africa:

A Broken Landscape Gideon Mendel,2002 The Culture of AIDS in Africa Gregory Barz,Judah M. Cohen,2011-10-13
The Culture of AIDS in Africa presents 30 chapters offering a multifaceted nuanced and deeply affective portrait of the relationship between HIV AIDS and the arts in Africa including source material such as song lyrics and interviews The Discourse of HIV/AIDS in Africa ,2003 The African AIDS Epidemic John Iliffe,2005-02-15 This history of the African AIDS epidemic is a much needed accessibly written historical account of the most serious epidemiological catastrophe of modern times The African AIDS Epidemic A History answers President Thabo Mbeki s provocative question as to why Africa has suffered this terrible epidemic While Mbeki attributed the causes to poverty and exploitation others have looked to distinctive sexual systems practiced in African cultures and communities John Iliffe stresses historical sequence He argues that Africa has had the worst epidemic because the disease was established in the general population before anyone knew the disease existed HIV evolved with extraordinary speed and complexity and because that evolution took place under the eyes of modern medical research scientists Iliffe has been able to write a history of the virus itself that is probably unique among accounts of human epidemic diseases In giving the African experience a historical shape Iliffe has written one of the most important books of our time The African experience of AIDS has taught the world much of what it knows about HIV AIDS and this fascinating book brings into focus many aspects of the epidemic in the longer context of massive demographic growth urbanization and social change in Africa during the latter half of the twentieth century The African AIDS Epidemic A History is a brilliant introduction to the many aspects of the epidemic and the distinctive character of the virus World Disasters Report 2008 - Focus on HIV and AIDS ,2008 HIV/AIDS: Global Frontiers in Prevention/Intervention Cynthia Pope,Renee T. Gender and HIV in South Africa Courtenay Sprague, 2018-03-16 This book addresses the ongoing problem of HIV in black South African women as a health inequity. Importantly it argues that this urgent problem of justice is changeable. Sprague uses the capabilities approach to bring a theory of health justice together with multiple sources of evidence to investigate the complex problem of HIV and accompanying poor health outcomes in black South African women. Motivated by a concern for application of knowledge this work discusses how to better conceptualise what health justice demands of state and society and how to mobilise available evidence on health inequities in ways that compel greater state action to address problems of gender and health. HIV in women and possible responses are investigated on four distinct levels: conceptual, social structure, health systems and law. The analysis demonstrates that this problem is indeed modifiable with long term interventions and an enhanced state response targeted at multiple levels. This book will be of interest to academics and students in the social health sciences, gender and development studies and global health as well as HIV health activists, government officials, policy makers, HIV clinicians and health providers interested in HIV.

The Body at Risk Carol Squiers, 2005 The Body at Risk: Photography of Disorder, Illness and Healing is the first book to explore the ways that photojournalists and social documentarians have conceptualized the human subject as a site of both good and ill health. The volume looks at photographs depicting child laborers, Depression era health programs, general medical care in the southern United States at mid century, people with HIV AIDS and polio along with their caretakers and the health workers who advocate for them, environmental pollution, physical and psychological injuries received during warfare, domestic violence and emergency care in the modern urban hospital. It brings together ten significant bodies of photographs made over the past one hundred years to show how human health topics have been represented for the general public and how the emphasis on health has shifted. How photography has been used to present and promote certain points of view about health and the social circumstances that affect it both positively and negatively and how photography has helped shape public knowledge of and opinion about health care and some of the events and circumstances that engender it.

Doing Visual Research Claudia Mitchell, 2011-05-25 This is an innovative introduction to the use of photography, collaborative video, drawing, objects, multi media production and installation in research. Claudia Mitchell explains how visual methods can be used as modes of inquiry as well as modes of representation for social research. She provides a range of conceptual and practical approaches to a variety of tools and methods while also highlighting the interpretive and ethical issues that arise when engaging in visual research. She draws on her own work throughout to offer extensive examples from a variety of settings and with various populations.

Impossible Mourning Kylie Thomas, 2013-10-25 Impossible Mourning argues that while the HIV AIDS epidemic has figured largely in public discourse in South Africa over the last ten years, particularly in debates about governance and constitutional rights post apartheid, the experiences of people living with HIV for the most part remain invisible and the multiple losses due to AIDS have gone publicly unmourned This profound fact is at the center of this book which explores the significance of the disavowal of AIDS death in relation to violence death and mourning under apartheid Impossible Mourning shows how in spite of the magnitude of the epidemic and as a result of the stigma and discrimination that has largely characterized both national and personal responses to the epidemic spaces for the expression of collective mourning have been few This book engages with multiple forms of visual representation that work variously to compound undo and complicate the politics of loss Drawing on work Thomas did in art and narrative support groups while working with people living with HIV AIDS in Khayelitsha a township outside of the city of Cape Town this book also includes analyses of the work of South African visual artists and photographers Jane Alexander Gille de Vlieg Jillian Edelstein Pieter Hugo Ezrom Legae Gideon Mendel Zanele Muholi Sam Nhlengethwa Paul Stopforth and Diane Victor

Breaking the Silence Ellen Grünkemeier, 2013 South Africa is one of the countries in the world most affected by HIV AIDS and yet until recently the epidemic was barely visible in South African literature Much can be gained from approaching the South African epidemic through creative texts such as novels photographs films cartoons and murals because they produce and circulate meanings of HIV AIDS and its various facets such as its origin transmission routes and physical manifestations Other aspects explored are the denial of HIV AIDS its stigmatisation discriminatory practices modes of disclosure access to anti retroviral medication as well as the role of alternative treatment Creative texts which are open to different and possibly contradictory readings can serve as a starting point to increase the cultural visibility of the virus and to challenge dominant ideas about the epidemic The cultural constructions of HIV AIDS should be carefully examined because the meanings are pervasive and have very real consequences they play a powerful role both in determining which issues receive attention and in shaping public understanding of the virus

Out of the Strange Silence Mark David Baker, Brad Thiessen, Mennonite Brethren Biblical Seminary (Fresno, Calif.), 2005

Pandemic Kofi Atta Annan, Rory Kennedy, 2003 PANDEMIC presents a 20 year retrospective of AIDS through the work of over 75 artists from 50 nations These powerful images in the photographic medium document the lives and harsh realities of people living with AIDS

Contradicting Maternity Carol Long, 2009-06-01 Drawing on rich and poignant interviews with mothers who have been diagnosed HIV positive Contradicting Maternity provides a rare perspective of motherhood from the mother's point of view Whereas motherhood is often assumed to be a secondary identity compared to the central figure of the child this book reverses the focus arguing that maternal experience is important in its own right The book explores the situation in which two very powerful identities those of motherhood and of being HIV positive collide in the same moment This collision takes place at the interface of complex and often split social and personal meanings concerning the sanctity of motherhood and the anxieties of HIV The book offers an interpretation of how these personal and social meanings resonate with and also fail to encompass the experiences surrounding HIV positive mothers Photographs academic literature and the accounts of real women are read with both a psychodynamic and discursive eye highlighting the contradictions within maternal experience but also between maternal experience and the social imagination Contradicting Maternity will appeal to scholars students and practitioners in psychology the social sciences and the health professions The sensitive and readable analysis will also be of interest to mothers whether HIV positive or not ArtSouthAfrica ,2008 Public Art in South Africa Kim Miller,Brenda Schmahmann,2017-10-16 How does South Africa deal with public art from its years of colonialism and apartheid How do new monuments address fraught histories and commemorate heroes of the struggle Across South Africa statues commemorating figures such as Cecil Rhodes have provoked heated protests while new works commemorating icons of the liberation struggle have also sometimes proved contentious In this lively volume Kim Miller Brenda Schmahmann and an international group of contributors explore how works in the public domain in South Africa serve as a forum in which important debates about race gender identity and nationhood play out Examining statues and memorials as well as performance billboards and other temporal modes of communication the authors of these essays consider the implications of not only the exposure but also erasure of events and icons from the public domain Revealing how public visual expressions articulate histories and memories they explore how such works may serve as a forum in which tensions surrounding race gender identity or nationhood play out Art Southafrica ,2006 HIV in South Africa Corinne Squire,2007-09-12 Winner of the Sociology of Health and Illness Book Prize 2008 Using narrative analysis of a three year interview study of people living with HIV in South Africa and textual analysis of political materials this book is the first to examine the major impact of HIV on people s everyday lives
