Broken Portraits Michael David Kwan, 1990-01-01 Broken Portraits Michael David Kwan, 1990 June Fourth Jeremy Brown, 2021-04-01 The Tiananmen protests and Beijing massacre of 1989 were a major turning point in recent Chinese history In this new analysis of 1989 Jeremy Brown tells the vivid stories of participants and victims exploring the nationwide scope of the democracy movement and the brutal crackdown that crushed it At each critical juncture in the spring of 1989 demonstrators and decision makers agonized over difficult choices and saw how events could have unfolded differently The alternative paths that participants imagined confirm that bloodshed was neither inevitable nor necessary Using a wide range of previously untapped sources and examining how ordinary citizens throughout China experienced the crackdown after the massacre this ambitious social history sheds fresh light on events that continue to reverberate in China to this day Begin Here Rocio G. Davis, 2007-01-31 An analytically innovative work Begin Here widens the current critical focus of Asian North American literary studies by proposing an integrated thematic and narratological approach to the practice of autobiography It demonstrates how Asian North American memoirs of childhood challenge the construction and performative potential of national experiences This understanding influences theoretical approaches to ethnic life writing expanding the boundaries of traditional autobiography by negotiating narrative techniques and genre and raising complex questions about self representation and the construction of cultural memory By examining the artistic project of some fifty Asian North American writers who deploy their childhood narratives in the representation of the individual processes of self identification and negotiation of cultural and national affiliation this work provides a comprehensive overview of Asian North American autobiographies of childhood published over the last century Importantly it also attends to new ways of writing autobiographies employing comics blending verse prose diaries and life writing for children and using relational approaches to self identification among others Asian Thought & Society ,1992 An American Teacher in China Francis A. Kretschmer, 1994-05-25 From the perspective of six years in Beijing 1986 1992 Kretschmer offers a lively account of how American Foreign Experts go berserk in China how they gradually adjust to Chinese culture and how they eventually acquire a unique bicultural vision of the world Kretschmer combines entertaining sketches of the bumbling China Thumb with penetrating glimpses of the population policy at work He addresses issues related to the function and purpose of education economics democracy and a free press in China and at home Kretschmer is particularly sensitive to culturally conceived mythologies of reality and how they differ for Chinese and Americans A Renaissance scholar with an extensive background in cross cultural experience and broad ranging interests Kretschmer serves the reader a Chinese banquet of thought provoking observation about their culture and ours Contemporary Authors Scot Peacock, 2002-08 Your students and users will find biographical information on approximately 300 modern writers in this volume of Contemporary Authors R American Bookseller ,1989 Small Press ,1990 Theatrical Territoriality Paul Channing Adams, 1993 Bibliography of Asian
