Corsican Brothers - A Novel Alexandre Dumas,2015-05-06 This book contains Alexandre Dumas s 1844 novella The Corsican Brothers A Novel It is the tale of two brothers who after being conjoined and separated when very young are still able to sense the spine of the other A moving story that has been adapted for stage and film numerous times The Corsican Brothers would make for a worthy addition to any bookshelf and is not to be missed by fans of Dumas s work Alexandre Dumas 1802 1870 was a famous French writer He is best remembered for his exciting romantic sagas including The Three Musketeers and The Count of Monte Cristo Despite making a great deal of money from his writing Dumas was almost perpetually penniless thanks to his extravagant lifestyle His novels have since been translated into nearly a hundred different languages and have inspired over two hundred motion pictures Many vintage texts such as this are becoming increasingly rare and expensive and it is with this in mind that we are republishing this volume now in an affordable modern high quality edition It comes complete with a specially commissioned new biography of the author Castration Desire Robinson Murphy,2023-12-14 Theorizes an alternative form of masculinity in global literature that is less egocentric and more sustainable both in terms of gendered and environmental power dynamics Contemporary novelists and filmmakers like Kazuo Ishiguro Japanese British Emma Donoghue Irish Canadian Michael Ondaatje Sri Lankan Canadian Bong Joon ho South Korean and J M Coetzee South African Australian are emblematic of a transnational phenomenon that Robinson Murphy calls castration desire That is these artists present privileged characters who nonetheless pursue their own diminishment In promulgating through their characters a less egocentric mode of thinking and acting these artists offer a blueprint for engendering a more other oriented global relationality Murphy proposes that in addition to being an ethical prerogative castration desire s less is more model of relationality would make life livable where veritable suicide is our species otherwise potential fate Castration desire thus offers an antidote to rapacious extractivism with the ambition of instilling a sustainable model for thinking and acting on an imminently eco apocalyptic earth In providing a fresh optic through which to read a diversity of text types Castration Desire helps define where literary criticism is now and where it is headed Castration Desire additionally extends and develops a zeitgeist currently unfolding in critical theory It brings Leo Bersani s concept psychic utopia together with Judith Butler's radical egalitarianism but transports their shared critique of phallic individualization into the environmental humanities. In doing so, this book builds a new framework for how gender studies intersects with environmental studies.
