Time Robert Slifkin,2013-08-31 Focusing on the thirty three paintings that Philip Guston exhibited at the Marlborough Gallery in 1970 this in depth account reconsiders the history of postwar American art and the conception of figuration in modern art history Through a myriad of cultural touchstones including evidence from literary and musical vogues of the period Robert Slifkin examines the role of history as both artistic medium and creative catalyst to Guston's practice as a painter Slifkin employs a wealth of visual examples archival materials and original scholarship to situate Guston's paintings within broader artistic debates of the time using the cultural movement of the sixties as its orienting foreground This historical framework provides an interface between the notions of time in art and time in the material world Lively and edifying Slifkin's comprehensive text productively complicates the prescribed traditions of postwar art history and in turn shifts our perception of Guston and his place in the domain of modern art Anglo-American Exchange in Postwar beautiful book that showcases how circus figures and artifacts have been portrayed in art over the past two centuries The circus is a dazzling world filled with acrobats and harlequins tumblers and riders monsters and celestial creatures Now this engaging book sets that world in a new light examining how painters sculptors and photographers from the eighteenth century to the present have used the circus as a springboard for their imaginative expression and have envisioned the clown as a metaphor for the modern artist The book presents more than 175 works by such artists as Degas Toulouse Lautrec Rouault Picasso Chagall and L ger Some of these are masterful works shown for the first time these range from the 18 meter stage curtain Picasso designed in 1917 for Erik Satie s ballet Parade to more intimate works such as Nadar and Tournachon s photographs of Pierrot as played by celebrated mime Charles Debureau Bruce Nauman Taylor Walsh,2018-10-16

Ketner, Janet Kraynak, Gregory Volk, 2006-03-03 Images of nearly all Bruce Nauman's signs and room installation using neon and fluorescent light from Window or Wall Sign 1967 to the monumental One Hundred Live and Die 1984 accompanied by interpretive essays Intrigued and inspired by the neon beer signs on shopfronts in his San Francisco neighborhood Bruce Nauman created his first neon piece Window or Wall Sign in 1967 He wanted he said to achieve an art that would kind of disappear that was supposed to not quite look like art Light offered Nauman a medium both elusive and effervescent but one that could also aggressively convey a message Over the first three decades of his career Nauman used the medium of light to explore the twists and turns of perception logic and meaning with the earnest playfulness that characterizes all his art Elusive Signs focuses on the discrete body of Nauman's work that uses neon and fluorescent light in signs and room installations and includes images of nearly all Nauman's work with light After Window or Wall Sign Nauman embarked on a series of neons that grappled with the semiotics of body and identity and with My Name as Though it Were Written on the Surface of the Moon 1968 he forces the viewer to contemplate the role of naming in forming identity Language signs and symbols plays an important role in Nauman's art His later neon works emphasize the neon as a sign presenting provocative twists of language and offering harsh and humorous sociopolitical commentary in such pieces as Run from Fear Fun from Rear 1972 This series culminates in the monumental billboard size One Hundred Live and Die 1984 which employs overwhelming scale to bombard the viewer with sardonic aphorisms In incisive essays that accompany the images of Nauman's work Joseph Ketner II of the Milwaukee Art Museum which originated the exhibit this book accompanies and critics Janet Kraynak and Gregory Volk analyze the works in light both as a body of work and as an access point to Nauman's entire career Distributed for the Milwaukee Art Museum Life, Death, Love, Hate, Pleasure, Pain Elizabeth A. T. Smith, Alison Pearlman, Julie Rodrigues Widholm, Museum of Contemporary Art (Chicago, Ill.), 2002 With its title taken from a signature work by Bruce Nauman Life Death Love Hate Pleasure Pain presents a selection of approximately 190 works from the collection of the Museum of Contemporary Art Chicago A wide ranging insightful survey arranged in roughly chronological order it features work by such artists as Vito Acconci Magdalena Abakanowicz Francis Bacon Matthew Barney Joseph Beuys Christo Iigo Manglano Ovalle Kerry James Marshall Mariko Mori Martin Puryear Richard Serra Yinka Shonibare and H C Westermann In an introductory essay chief curator Elizabeth Smith discusses key trends in art from World War II to the present and provides a brief history of the MCA and its collection Additional accessible short texts by the curatorial staff of the MCA focus on individual works Bruce Nauman Bruce Nauman, 2002-05-29 From the beginning I was trying to see if I could make art that did that Art that was just there all at once Like getting hit in the face with a baseball bat Or better yet like getting hit in the back of the neck You never see it coming it just knocks you down I like that idea very much the kind of intensity that doesn't give you any trace of whether you're going to like it or not Bruce Nauman Bruce Nauman's art is about heightened awareness awareness of spaces we usually don't notice the one under the chair out of which he made a sculpture and sounds we don't listen for the one in the coffin awareness of emotions we suppress or dread It's hard to feel indifferent to work like his Michael Kimmelman New York Times One of America's most important artists Bruce Nauman has worked in a dazzling variety of media since the mid 1960s sculpture photography performance installation sound holography film and video What has been a constant throughout his career however is his persistence in exploring both art as an investigation of the self and the power of language to define that self The latest volume in the acclaimed Art Performance series is the first book to combine the key critical writings on Nauman with the artist's own writings and interviews with him as well as images of his work Bruce Nauman offers a multifaceted portrait of an artist whose determination to experiment with style and form has created a body of work as eclectic and perhaps more influential than that of any other living American artist Art Theory and Criticism Sally Everett, 1995-01-15 Arranged chronologically the essays in this book each brilliantly introduced by the editor deal with the way art and culture interact in modern times Each author focuses on one aspect of modern art and its relation to culture by analyzing questioning or refuting the ideas about art that people just assume are true The essays are also grouped into one of four different models used by art theorists today the formalist in which the works of art describe the processes of making art the avant garde art that threatens the status quo the contextualist in which art can exist only in a specific situation or context and the post modernist stating that art is not completely detached from popular culture their makers they forced and helped Italians define their own modernity in relation to the world's new dominant cultural and economic power. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, social history, exhibition history, and Italian studies. Contemporary Artists: L-Z Sara Pendergast, Tom Pendergast, 2002. Arranged alphabetically from Magdalena Abakanowicz to Tadaaki Kuwayama, this volume provides a biography of the artist, a selected list of exhibitions, a list of public collections that include work by the artist, and more.
