Directory of Japanese Studies in Australia and New Zealand Australia-Japan Research Centre,1997 Japanese Mythology in Film Yoshiko Okuyama,2015-04-09 A cyborg detective hunts for a malfunctioning sex doll that turns itself into a killing machine A Heian era Taoist slays evil spirits with magic spells from yin yang philosophy A young mortician carefully prepares bodies for their journey to the afterlife A teenage girl drinks a cup of life giving sake not knowing its irreversible transformative power These are scenes from the visually enticing spiritually eclectic media of Japanese movies and anime The narratives of courageous heroes and heroines and the myths and legends of deities and their abodes are not just recurring motifs of the cinematic fantasy world. They are pop culture's representations of sacred subtexts in Japan. Japanese Mythology in Film takes a semiotic approach to uncovering such religious and folkloric tropes and subtexts embedded in popular Japanese movies and anime. Part I introduces film semiotics with plain definitions of terminology. Through familiar cinematic examples it emphasizes the myth-making nature of modern-day film and argues that semiotics can be used as a theoretical tool for reading film. Part II presents case studies of eight popular Japanese films as models of semiotic analysis. While discussing each film's use of common mythological motifs such as death and rebirth, its case study also unveils more covert cultural signifiers and folktale motifs including jizo, a savior of sentient beings, and koro, bewitching foxes and raccoon dogs hidden in the Japanese filmic text.

Socializing Identities through Speech Style Haruko Minegishi Cook, 2008-08-21. Drawing on the perspective of language socialization and a theory of indexicality, this book explores ways in which learners of Japanese as a foreign language and their Japanese host families socialize their identities through style shift between the masu and plain forms in a homestay context. Going beyond the usual assumption that the masu form is a polite speech marker, the book analyzes the masu form as an index of various social identities and activities. The book discusses both socialization through speech styles and socialization to use an appropriate speech style. Qualitative analysis of dinnertime conversations demonstrates how learners are implicitly and explicitly socialized into the norms of style shift in Japanese in interaction with their host family members.
