Complexity Perspectives in Innovation and Social Change David Lane,Denise Pumain,Sander Ernst van der Leeuw,Geoffrey West,2009-02-13 Innovation is nowadays a question of life and death for many of the economies of the western world Yet due to our generally reductionist scientific paradigm invention and innovation are rarely studied scientifically Most work prefers to study its context and its consequences As a result we are as a society lacking the scientific tools to understand improve or otherwise impact on the processes of invention and innovation This book delves deeply into that topic taking the position that the complex systems approach with its emphasis on emergence is better suited than our traditional approach to the phenomenon In a collection of very coherent papers which are the result of an EU funded four year international research team s effort it addresses various aspect of the topic from different disciplinary angles One of the main emphases is the need in the social sciences to move away from neo darwinist population thinking to organization thinking if we want to understand social evolution Another main emphasis is on developing a generative approach to invention and innovation looking in detail at the contexts within which invention and innovation occur and how these contexts impact on the chances for success or failure Throughout the book is infused with interesting new insights but also presents several well elaborated case studies that connect the ideas with a substantive body of real world information

Outline of General Psychology Robert Harvey Gault,Delton Thomas Howard,1925 Perspectives on Organizational Fit Cheri Lee Ostroff,Tim Judge,2007 Publisher description Optical Illusions of Reversible Perspective John Edward Wallace Wallin,1905 A Pac-Man Perspective on Organisational Change Petter Ogland,2017-12 Living theory is a way of making use of personal accounts of experienced practice As the Pac Man perspective on organisational change helps the change agent articulate the personal values he is committed to and how these values may be resisted in practice living theory is useful for developing knowledge that has a practical impact on self improvement and social change but it is also a type of theory that is difficult to publish in academic outlets As a consequence of this publishing Pac Man living theory research becomes a Pac Man game in itself with the journal editors as one of the four adversary gatekeepers but it is a rewarding game for those who want to contribute both theoretically and practically on how to make the world a better place

DiClemente, 2003-04-02 The stages of change model has become widely known as a framework for conceptualizing recovery Less well known are the processes that drive movement through the stages or how the stages apply to becoming addicted From Carlo C DiClemente codeveloper of the transtheoretical model this book offers a panoramic view of the entire continuum of addictive behavior change The author illuminates the common path that individuals travel as they establish and reinforce new patterns of behavior whether they are developing an addiction or struggling to free themselves from one and regardless of the specific addictive behavior The book addresses crucial questions of why when and how to intervene to bolster recovery in those already addicted and reach out effectively to people at risk Working with Assumptions in International Development Program Evaluation Apollo M. Nkwake, 2019-11-27 This book discusses the crucial place that assumptions hold in conceptualizing implementing and evaluating development programs It suggests simple ways for stakeholders and evaluators to 1 examine their assumptions about program theory and environmental conditions and 2 develop and carry out effective program monitoring and evaluation in light of those assumptions A survey of evaluators from an international development agency reviewed the state of practice on assumptions aware evaluation This 2nd edition has been updated with further illustrations case studies and frameworks that have been researched and tested in the years since the first edition Regardless of geography or goal development programs and policies are fueled by a complex network of implicit ideas Stakeholders may hold assumptions about purposes outcomes methodology and the value of project evaluation and evaluators which may or may not be shared by the evaluators A major barrier to viable program evaluations is that development programs are based on assumptions that often are not well articulated In designing programs stakeholders often lack clear outlines for how implemented interventions will bring desired changes This lack of clarity masks critical risks to program success and makes it challenging to evaluate such programs Methods that have attempted to address this dilemma have been popularized as theory of change or other theory based approaches Often however theory based methods do not sufficiently clarify how program managers or evaluators should work with the assumptions inherent in the connections between the steps The critical examination of assumptions in evaluation is essential for effective evaluations and evaluative thinking How does one think evaluatively It all begins with assumptions Systematically articulating examining and testing assumptions is the foundation of evaluative thinking This book more than any other explains how to build a strong foundation for effective interventions and useful evaluation by rigorously working with assumptions Michael Quinn Patton PhD Author of Utilization Focused Evaluation and co editor of THOUGHTWORK Thinking Action and the Fate of the World USA This updated edition presents us with a new opportunity to delve into both the theoretical and practical aspects of paradigmatic prescriptive and causal assumptions We need to learn and apply these insights with the deep attention they deserve Zenda Ofir PhD Independent Evaluator Richard von Weizsäcker Fellow Robert

Bosch Academy Berlin Germany Honorary Professor School of Public Leadership Stellenbosch University South Africa This thought provoking book explains why assumptions are an essential condition within the theories and methodologies of evaluation and how assumptions influence the ways that evaluators approach their work It will enrich the ways that evaluators develop their models devise their methodologies interpret their data and interact with their stakeholders Jonny Morell Ph D President 4 669 Evaluation and Planning Editor Emeritus Evaluation and Program Planning
