Negotiating Sex Work Carisa R. Showden, Samantha Majic, 2014-04-01 Globally discussions about sex work focus on exploitation The media regularly provides us with stories about teen girls coerced to perform sexual acts for money frequently beaten and robbed by their pimps or traffickers While one would have to be hard pressed to deny that sex workers are victimized the popular media and our political leaders emphasize sex work as exclusively exploitative In Negotiating Sex Work Carisa R Showden and Samantha Majic present a series of essays that depict sex work as an issue far more complex than generally perceived Positions on sex work are primarily divided between those who consider that selling sexual acts is legitimate work and those who consider it a form of exploitation Organized into three parts Negotiating Sex Work rejects this either/or framework and offers instead diverse and compelling contributions that aim to reframe these viewpoints Part I addresses how knowledge about sex work and sex workers is generated The next section explores how nations and political actors who claim to protect individuals in sex work often further marginalize them Finally part III examines sex workers own political organizational efforts to combat laws and policies that deem them deviant sinful or total victims A timely and necessary intervention into sex work debates this volume challenges how policy makers and the broader public regard sex workers capacity to advocate for their own interests Contributors Cheryl Auger Sarah Beer Dawson College Montreal Michele Tracy Berger U of North Carolina Chapel Hill Thaddeus Gregory Blanchette Federal U of Rio de Janeiro Raven Bowen Gregg Bucken Knapp U of Gothenburg Sweden Ana Paula da Silva Federal U of Vi o sa Valerie Feldman Gregor Gall U of Bradford Kathleen Guidroz Georgetown U Annie Hill U of Minnesota Johan Karlsson Schaffer U of Oslo Edith Kinney Mills College Yasmin Lalani Pia Levin Alexandra Lutnick Tamara O Doherty U of the Fraser Valley British Columbia Joyce Outshoorn U of Leiden Francine Tremblay Concordia U Montreal

Prostitution Research in Context Marlene Spanger, May-Len Skilbrei, 2017-03-16 The starting point for this book is the question of how we research sex for sale and the implications of the choices we make in terms of epistemology and ethics Which dilemmas and ethical aspects need to be taken into account when producing qualitative data within a highly politicised and moral infected realm These two questions are exactly what Spanger and Skilbrei aim to unpack in this unusual interdisciplinary methodology book

Prostitution Research in Context The book offers contributions from a number of scholars who based on their reflections on their own research practice and the existing knowledge field discuss ongoing methodological issues and challenges representative of international research on sex for sale Some chapters deal explicitly with methodological dilemmas in research others thematise the encounter between prostitution research and general texts on epistemology Other chapters again actively engage with the ethical dilemmas that research on the topic of sex for sale can entail The authors represent different disciplines but share an interest in engaging in reflexive research practices informed by feminism and feminist epistemologies An authoritative contribution to the field this innovative volume will appeal to international scholars and students from across the social sciences and humanities in areas such as sociology anthropology criminology media studies feminist studies human geography and history

Quitting the Sex Trade Amber Horning, 2021-05-13 This anthology of original research studies focuses on why and how sex workers and pimps quit the sex trade There is an extensive literature on desistance with different theories explaining why people quit crime However with a few notable exceptions researchers to date have not focused on desistance among pimps and sex workers These studies explore a spectrum of quitting the sex trade from voluntarily stopping drifting and retiring to intervention based or coerced stopping due to influences and impositions by programs and or by specialized courts This book provides insight into the meaning of this work how people in the sex trade view their engagement in licit illicit spheres and it will inform providers who interface with people from these communities regarding how to support desistance Further this book may help those engaged in emerging topics related to the sex trade including 1 global trends in sex trade decriminalization and or human trafficking criminalization 2 the recent emergence of human trafficking intervention courts in the USA and 3 the development and impact of new laws policies and intervention programs designed to reduce human trafficking globally regionally country level and or more localized efforts to support desistance among participants in the sex trade The book will be of interest to academics researchers and advanced students of Criminology Sociology Law Policy and Psychology It was originally published as a special issue in the journal Victims Offenders

Healing and Change in the City of Gold Ingrid Palmay, Brandon Hamber, Lorena Núñez, 2014-10-19 This volume collects case studies on the lives of people living in post apartheid Johannesburg South Africa In doing so it considers how people manage respond to narrate and or silence their experiences of past and present violence multiple insecurities and precarity in contexts where these experiences take on an everyday continuous character Taking seriously how context shapes the meaning of violence the forms of response and the consequences thereof the contributing chapter authors use participatory and ethnographic techniques to understand people s everyday responses to the violence and insecurity they face in contemporary Johannesburg Each case study documents an example of a strategy of coping and healing and reflects on how this strategy shapes the theory and practice of violence prevention and response The case studies cover a diversity of groups of people in Johannesburg including migrants refugees homeless people sex workers and former soldiers from across the African continent Read together the case studies give us new insights into what it means for these residents to seek support to cope and to heal challenging the boundaries of what psychologists traditionally consider support mechanisms or interventions for those in distress They develop a notion of healing that sees it as a process and an outcome that is rooted in the world view of those who live in the city Alongside the people s sense of insecurity is an equally strong sense of optimism care and a striving for change It is perhaps not surprising then that this book deals very centrally with themes of the struggle for progress mobility geographic material and spiritual and a sense of possibility and change associated with Johannesburg Ultimately the volume argues that coping and healing is both a collective and individual achievement as well as an economic psychological and material phenomenon Overall this volume challenges the notion that people can and should seek support primarily from professional medicalized psychological services and rather demonstrates how the particular support needed is shaped by an understanding of the cause of precarity The New Politics of Leisure and Pleasure P. Bramham,S.

Wagg,2010-11-29 This book is about the new politics of leisure and pleasure the values practices struggles and contradictions that now characterize the social worlds of rambling drinking tourism sex watching TV gambling using the internet reading comedy sport popular music and censorship Assessing Prostitution Policies in Europe Synnøve

Jahnsen,Hendrik Wagenaar,2019-07-30 Once again prostitution occupies a prominent position on public and political agendas both nationally and internationally A topic of concern and interest within social and academic realms it is a highly moralised contested issue that is at the centre of heated and drawn out debates With each chapter dedicated to a separate country and written by a national authority on the subject Assessing European Prostitution Policies seeks to explore how prostitution is regulated in 21 European countries thus drawing out important implications for an effective and humane prostitution policy Indeed this innovative volume brings together systematic accounts of how national and local forms of governance influence the commercial market for sex as well as the lives of sex workers and third parties All chapters cover the history of prostitution policy national laws regulating prostitution policy formulation and implementation the national discourse on prostitution the gap between national and local regulation the impact of policy on the lives and rights of sex workers and sex worker advocacy organizations In addition to this the authors examine and highlight how immigration labour fiscal and welfare law have as much impact on the sex trade as designated prostitution law A unique interdisciplinary title that is comprehensive in its coverage Assessing European Prostitution Policies will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students postdoctoral researchers sex worker advocacy organisations and policy makers interested in fields such as Sexuality and Prostitution Public Policy Criminology and Gender Studies

The State of Sex Barbara Brents, Crystal Jackson, Kathryn Hausbeck, 2009-12-16 The State of Sex is a study of Nevada's brothels that situates the nation's only legal brothel industry in the political economy of contemporary tourism Nevada is part of the new American heartland as its pastimes people and politics have become more central to the nation The rise of a service and leisure economy over the past sixty years has propelled sexuality into the heart of contemporary markets Yet neoliberal laws in the United States promote business but limit sexual commerce How have Nevada's legal brothels survived while the rest of the country criminalizes prostitution How do brothels operate Who works in them This book brings social theory on globalizing economies politics leisure consumption and emotional labor in interactive service work together with research on contemporary prostitution and sexual commerce The authors employ an innovative multi method sociological approach combining historical analysis of how the brothels came to be with over a decade's worth of ethnographic research on the current state of the industry

Red Light Labour Elya M. Durisin, Emily van der Meulen, Chris Bruckert, 2018-09-01 In 2013 the Supreme Court ruled in Canada v Bedford that key prostitution laws were unconstitutional The decision provoked wide interest but little new insight into sex work Red Light Labour addresses Canada's new legal regime regulating sex work through the analysis of past and present policy approaches and consideration of how laws and those who uphold them have constructed controlled and criminalized sex workers their clients and their workspaces This groundbreaking collection also offers nuanced interpretations of commercial sexual labour that foreground the personal perspectives of workers and activists The contributors highlight the struggle for civic and social inclusion by considering sex workers advocacy tactics successes and challenges Red Light Labour promotes social and economic justice within a sex work as labour framework This book is a timely intervention that showcases up to date legal policy and social analysis of sex work in Canada

Demanding Sex: Critical Reflections on the Regulation of Prostitution Marina Della Giusta, 2016-05-13 Interrogating supply demand from an inter and multi disciplinary perspective this collection broadens engagement beyond the routine analysis of the locus of violence in prostitution and the validity of the prostitute's consent A focus on the supply demand dynamic brings into play a range of other societal economic and psychological factors such as the social construction of sexuality the viability of alternative choices for prostitutes and clients and the impact of regulatory regimes on the provision of sexual services The factors which underlie each component of the supply demand dyad are also studied and an examination is made of their dynamic interrelation The collection emphasizes the importance of rendering policy makers alert to the evidence emerging from empirical studies conducted in different fields of enquiry in the hope of moving beyond polarity and politics at the local national and international level Sister Wives, Surrogates and Sex Workers Angela Campbell, 2016-04-01 Did she choose that Or more normatively Why would she choose that This book critiques and offers an alternative to these questions which have traditionally framed law and policy discussions circulating around controversial genderized practices It examines the simplicity and incompleteness of choice based rhetoric and of presumptions that women s conduct is shaped in an absolute way either by choice or by coercion This book develops an analytical framework that aims to discern the meaning and value that women may ascribe to morally ambiguous practices An analysis of law s approach to polygamy surrogacy and sex work particularly in Canada the United Kingdom and Australia provides a basis for evaluating the choice coercion binary and for contemplating alternate modes for assessing from a law and policy standpoint the palatability of social practices that appear pernicious to women Weaving together interdisciplinary research an innovative analytical framework for assessing choices ostensibly harmful to women and a critique of the legal rules governing such choices this book bears relevance for students scholars practicing jurists and policymakers seeking a richer understanding of conduct that moves women to the margins of law and society
