Counseling Adolescents Through Loss, Grief, and Trauma Pamela A. Malone, 2016-02-19 Loss grief and trauma come into the lives of adolescents in many forms and with more frequency than the adults in their lives may realize Assessing the depth and nature of their emotions can be difficult adolescents are typically reluctant to show strong emotions and can be difficult to reach particularly when they experience the untimely death of a loved one How best to work with a young person who may have trouble communicating their emotions even under the best of circumstances And what if he or she has learned about the death of a loved one or classmate from another peer rather than a family member What about gender differences and the influence of culture and family What role do cell phones text messaging and technologies such as Facebook play in the adolescent grief experience Adolescents use of technology creates unlimited access to friends support systems and information but news that spreads quickly without buffering effects can intensify the strength of the adolescent grief responses Counseling Adolescents Through Loss Grief and Trauma not only examines these issues it also provides clinicians with a wealth of resources and time tested therapeutic activities that are sure to become an indispensable part of any clinician's practice

Dealing with Dying, Death, and Grief during Adolescence David E. Balk, 2014-02-18 For some life's introduction to death and grief comes early and when it does it can take many forms Not only does Dealing with Dying Death and Grief during Adolescence tackle them all it does so with David Balk's remarkable sensitivity to and deep knowledge of the pressures and opportunities adolescents face in their transition from childhood to adulthood In seamless jargon free language Balk brings readers up to date with what we know about adolescent development because over time such changes form the backstory we need to comprehend the impact of death and bereavement in an adolescent's life The book's later chapters break down the recent findings in the study of life threatening illness and bereavement during adolescence And crucially these chapters also examine interventions that assist adolescents coping with these difficulties Clinicians will come away from this book with both a grounded understanding of adolescent development and the adolescent experience of death and they'll also gain specific tools for helping adolescents cope with death and grief on their own terms For any clinician committed to supporting adolescents facing some of life's most difficult experiences this integrated up to date and deeply insightful text is simply the book to have

David E Balk is professor in the department of health and nutrition sciences at Brooklyn College CUNY where he directs the graduate program in thanatology He is the author of Adolescent Development Early Through Late Adolescence Helping the Bereaved College Student and several other books on death and bereavement He is also co editor of the 2nd edition of the Handbook of Thanatology Routledge 2013

Physician's Guide to Coping with Death and Dying Jan Swanson, Alan Cooper, 2005 Education about death and dying has been almost ignored in medical schools Recently however it has become increasingly obvious that the preferences of dying patients are being ignored leaving many patients to die lonely scared and in pain There is a growing realization that physicians can help dying patients achieve a more peaceful death and increased recognition that good end of life care is not just the province of specialized hospice physicians or nurses Cooper a physician and a clinical psychologist with many years of experience offer insights to help medical students residents physicians nurses and others become more aware of the different stages in the dying process and learn how to communicate more effectively with patients and their families They also discuss the ways physicians and other caregivers can learn to reduce their own stress levels and avoid the risk of burnout allowing them to achieve balance in their lives and be more effective professionally The authors use case examples and thought provoking exercises to provide a personal learning experience bibliography and a unique web resource section with contacts to many organizations working with patients suffering from life threatening illnesses

Bereavement After Traumatic Death Diego DeLeo, Alberta Cimitan, Onja Grad, Karl Andriessen, Kari Dyregrov, 2013-10-01 Unless forced by circumstances people in modern societies go to great lengths to deny death to the extent that even death of a loved one from natural causes tends to catch us unprepared and unable to cope with its consequences Death as the result of a sudden catastrophic event traffic accident suicide a natural disaster ect can have even more extreme effects sometimes striking survivors so violently and painfully that it leaves an indelible mark This book speaks about the consequences of such traumatic deaths in a wonderfully simple and straightforward way The authors describe step by step what happens to people after the sudden death of a family member or close friend the difficulties they face in coping and how professionals and volunteers can help With their wide experience both personally and as internationally renowned authorities they have written a book for professionals and volunteers who deal with bereavement in language that is accessible to all so it will also help those who have suffered a traumatic loss themselves to understand what to expect and how to get help Helping

Grieving People J. Shep Jeffreys,2004-12-30 Helping Grieving People is a training manual for care providers who will provide support and counseling to those grieving death illness and other losses The author addresses grief as it affects a variety of relationships and discusses different intervention and support strategies always cognizant of individual and cultural differences in the expression and treatment of grief Jeffreys has established a practical approach to preparing trainee caregivers through three basic tracks Heart Head and Hand The first step Heart calls for self discovery freeing oneself of accumulated loss in order to focus all attention on the griever Head emphasizes understanding the complex and dynamic phenomena of human grief Hand stresses the caregiver s actual intervention and speaks to the appropriate level of skill as well as the various methods of healing available Following these three motifs the Handbook discusses the social and cultural contexts of grief as well as its psychological constructs Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman,Betty J. Kramer,Sara Sanders,2021-08-31 Living Through Loss provides a foundational identification of the many ways in which people experience loss over the life course from childhood to old age It examines the interventions most effective at each phase of life combining theory sound clinical practice and empirical research with insights emerging from powerful accounts of personal experience The authors emphasize that loss and grief are universal yet highly individualized Loss comes in many forms and can include not only a loved one s death but also divorce adoption living with chronic illness caregiving retirement and relocation or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach the topic from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges people s capacity to find meaning in their losses and integrate grief into their lives The book explores the varying roles of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in responses to loss Presenting a variety of models approaches and resources Living Through Loss offers invaluable lessons that can be applied in any practice setting by a wide range of human service and health care professionals This second edition features new and expanded content on diversity and trauma including discussions of gun violence police brutality suicide and an added focus on systemic racism After the Storm There Is the Calm Audrey M. Pottinger,1999 Every reader will find a point of contact in After the Storm This book is for everyone who is trying to cope with the death of a loved one or who is placed in the role of comforter Dr Pottinger facilitates an understanding of the process of grieving examines the varying causes of grief and attempts to guide the reader through what is often a painful process The subject of death is still considered somewhat taboo However understanding the process of grieving both pathological and normal and the varying causes of grief with its accompanying reactions should help us to be better educators counsellors role models and friends Dr Pottinger combines theory clinical and research knowledge along with her personal experiences and those of others to present her findings in a simple and gentle manner Although this book is for anyone coping with the death of a loved one it also offers practical suggestions on coping with and responding to the grief of others The Gift of Tears Michigan State University.
