Intellectual Property Law and Human Rights Paul Torremans, 2020-06-08 Intellectual Property Law and Human Rights Fourth Edition Edited by Paul L C Torremans Once regarded as a niche topic the nexus of intellectual property and human rights now lies in the eye of the storm that is today's global economy In this expanded new edition of the pre eminent work in this crucial area of legal theory and practice with nine completely new chapters well known authorities in both intellectual property law and human rights law present an in depth analysis and discussion of essential and emerging issues in the convergence of intellectual property law and human rights law The fourth edition is fully updated to address current matters as diverse as artificial intelligence climate change and biotechnological materials all centred on the relations between intellectual property and freedom of expression and the fundamental right to privacy in an intellectual property environment The contributors address such topics as the following and more the status of copyright as a fundamental right fair use transformative use and the US First Amendment intellectual property in the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights freedom to receive and impart information under the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights how to mitigate the risks article 17 of Directive 2019/970 poses to freedom of expression fair dealing defences algorithmic copyright enforcement and free speech developing a right to privacy for corporations expanding the role of morality and public policy in European patent law and ethical and religious concerns over patenting biotechnological inventions As human rights issues continue to arise in an intellectual property context practitioners academics and policymakers in both fields will continue to recognize and use this well established cornerstone work in the debate as a springboard to the future development of the ever more prominent interface of intellectual property and human rights Human Rights and Intellectual Property Laurence R. Helfer, Graeme W. Austin, 2011-03-07 This book explores the interface between intellectual property and human rights law and policy The relationship between these two fields has captured the attention of governments policymakers and activist communities in a diverse array of international and domestic political and judicial venues These actors often raise human rights arguments as counterweights to the expansion of intellectual property in areas including freedom of expression public health education privacy agriculture and the rights of indigenous peoples At the same time creators and owners of intellectual property are asserting a human rights justification for the expansion of legal protections This book explores the legal institutional and political implications of these competing claims by offering a framework for exploring the connections and divergences between these subjects by identifying the pathways along which jurisprudence policy and political discourse are likely to evolve and by serving as an educational resource for scholars activists and students Information Communication Technology Law, Protection and Access Rights: Global Approaches and Issues Portela, Irene Maria, Cruz-Cunha, Maria Manuela, 2010-06-30 This book identifies key issues in the relationship between ICT and law ethics politics and social policy drawing attention to diverse global approaches to the challenges posed by ICT to access rights Provided by publisher

Internet and Society in Latin America and the Caribbean International Development Research Centre (Canada), 2004 This book presents pioneering research that is designed to show from a qualitative and ethnographic perspective how new information and communication technologies as applied to the school system and to local governance initiatives merely reproduce traditional pedagogical approaches and the dominant forms by which power is exercised at the local level The studies thus constitute points of departure for further thinking about the need to promote an Internet culture based on the social application of a OC right to communication and cultureOCO and an OC Internet right OCO that will permit the establishment of true citizen participation and free access to knowledge with due regard to personal and individual rights such as those of privacy and intimacy Publicity Rights and Image Gillian Black, 2020-02-27 Academics and practitioners are currently divided on the issues involved in permitting and regulating the commercial exploitation of publicity Publicity is the practice of using an individual's name, image and reputation to promote products or to provide media coverage often in gossip magazines and the tabloid press This book provides a theoretical and multi-jurisdictional review of the nature of publicity practice and its appropriate legal regulation The book includes a detailed exploration of the justifications advanced in favour of publicity rights and those that are advanced against Removing the analysis from any one jurisdiction the book examines current academic and judicial perspectives on publicity rights in a range of jurisdictions drawing out similarities and differences and revealing a picture of current thinking and practice which is intellectually incoherent By then clearly defining the practice of publicity and examining justifications for and against the author is able to bring the nature and shape of the right of publicity into much sharper focus The book includes a careful consideration of possible limits to any right of publicity the potential for assigning publicity rights or transferring them post mortem and whether defences can be offered The author concludes by arguing for a publicity right which provides a degree of protection for the individual but which is significantly curtailed to recognise valid competing interests This is a work which will be of interest to academics and practitioners working in the field of publicity, privacy and intellectual property Constructing European Intellectual Property

Christophe Geiger, 2013 It is no longer possible to practice, teach or study purely domestic intellectual property law within Europe European intellectual property norms now structure protection throughout the continent and even beyond Paradoxically what might seem as a simplification of legal rules has created a maze of new complexities substantive institutional and methodological This collection by some of the leading scholars in European IP manages to capture that complexity without sacrificing clarity Canvassing the entire field with a rich array of contributions the book both highlights the roots of European IP law and asks important fundamental questions about where it is going One can only hope that it is read by anyone with a hand in the future development of European IP law Graeme B Dinwoodie University of Oxford UK Christophe Geiger has put together a very fine collection of essays by many of the very best scholars in European intellectual property law The essays explore the basis, extent as well as the successes and failings of regional harmonization of trade marks, geographical indications, copyright, designs, patents and remedies The celebrated cast of authors naturally discuss in addition to the various directives and regulations on each topic the Treaty provisions on exhaustion of rights and competition and their interpretation relevant provisions on legislative competence Article 17(2) of the Charter other fundamental rights and the growing case law of the Court of Justice There is essential material here for anyone interested in European intellectual property law as well as ideas for the improvement and further development of European IP law Lionel Bently University of Cambridge UK Constructing European Intellectual Property offers a comprehensive assessment of the current state of intellectual property legislation in Europe and gives direction on how an improved system might be achieved This detailed study presents various perspectives on what further actions are necessary to provide the circumstances and tools for the construction of a truly balanced European intellectual property system The book takes as its starting point that the ultimate aim of such a system should be to ensure sustainable and innovation based economic growth while enhancing free circulation of ideas and cultural expressions Being the first in the European Intellectual Property Institutes Network EIPIN series this book lays down some concrete foundations for a deeper understanding of European intellectual property law and its complex interplay with other fields of jurisprudence as well as its impact on a broad array of spheres of social interaction In so doing it provides a well needed platform for further research Academics policymakers lawyers and many others concerned with establishment of a regulatory framework for intangibles in the EU will benefit from the extensive and thoughtful discussion presented in this work

The Influence of Human Rights and Basic Rights in Private Law Verica Trstenjak, Petra Weingerl, 2015-12-16 This book provides a comparative perspective on one of the most intriguing developments in law the influence of basic rights and human rights in private law It analyzes the application of basic rights and human rights which are traditionally understood as public law rights in private law and discusses the related spillover effects and changing perspectives in legal doctrine and practice It provides examples where basic rights and human rights influence judicial reasoning and lead to changes of legislation in contract law tort law property law family law and copyright law Providing both context and background analysis for any critical examination of the horizontal effect of fundamental rights in private law the book contributes to the current debate on an important issue that deserves the attention of legal practitioners scholars judges and others involved in the developments in a variety of the world s jurisdictions This book is based on the General Report and national reports commissioned by the International Academy of Comparative Law and written for the XIXth International Congress of Comparative Law in Vienna Austria in the summer of 2014
